Walter James Manula

Walter James Manula left earthly life early Monday morning November 8, 2021 in Dillon Montana surrounded by loved ones. Born February 4, 1953 to Walter Jacob and Lila Mae Manula, Jay was the only boy and the youngest of four children. Being the baby and the only boy allowed him to get away with murder.

He spent his younger years with his friends running wild in the hills and mine country around Melrose, Montana collecting and exploding the blasting caps and dynamite they found. While his father passed away when he was a teenager, his mother Lila remarried the man he considered his dad, Anthony "Tony" Sporich. Once Jay moved to Dillon he never looked back.

After a brief marriage and the birth of his son James Chad, Jay moved to Idaho Falls Idaho where he met and married the love of his life in 1975. Jay and Dena were blessed with the birth of their daughter Stacey Lynne in 1980, but Dena passed tragically after 10 years of marriage in 1985.

After Dena's passing Jay's life fell apart for a time, but he eventually found his way home to Dillon Montana again where he spent many years driving truck for Jack and Joe Champine. He became close enough with the Champine brothers he considered their families his own.

Jay was a man of many talents, mostly self taught, from breaking horses to working cattle, driving truck, to hitching horsehair and working leather into beautiful pieces of tack or accessories like belts, wallets, and purses. He spent his retirement years teaching himself to do upholstery and worked for hours out in his late parents' upholstery shop at the end of Kentucky.

Jay was proceeded in death by his father, Walter Jacob, his dad, Tony Sporich, his Mother Lila, his sister Linda Kay Platt, and his beloved wife Dena. He is survived by sisters Susan Robison and Sherrill Hennely, son James Chad and daughter Stacey Kiger (Robbie). Throughout his life he loved all his children and stepchildren but had and especially close bond with his stepdaughter Sandy Messenger and stepson PJ Sizemore. Jay loved and was proud of all his grandchildren and great grandchildren whether he got to know them or not. Family was most important to Jay. Whether you knew him as Walt, Jay, Jim, J.J., Jimmy, or even Jimmerz, he will be dearly missed.

CWD-positive deer reported in Baker Sampling services available in southeastern Montana

Chronic wasting disease (CWD) was recently detected in a mule deer buck that was euthanized within Baker city limits in Hunting District 705 by Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks officials on Oct. 27.

FWP officials collected the deer after residents reported the buck was acting lethargic and was visibly emaciated and had droopy ears, which are classic symptoms of the disease.

Earlier this week the initial test came back positive for CWD and the results of the second, confirmation test should be available next week.

"We are awaiting a second test to confirm the positive, but given that the animal was symptomatic and we are in the middle of hunting season, we wanted to get the information out to the public as quickly as possible," said Baker-area wildlife biologist Melissa Foster.

CWD is a progressive, fatal neurological disease that infects members of the deer family, such as mule and white-tailed deer, elk and moose. Animals may be infected and contagious for a very long time, sometimes two years or longer, before symptoms appear. An animal can appear perfectly healthy and still be infected; that's why testing is so important.

There is no known transmission of CWD to humans. However, The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recommends that hunters harvesting a deer, elk or moose from an area where CWD is known to be present have their animal tested for CWD prior to consuming the meat, and to not consume the meat if the animal tests positive. Remember that dumping carcasses is illegal. Carcasses, including the head and spinal column, should be either left at the place of harvest or disposed of in a class II landfill after butchering and processing to prevent spreading CWD and other diseases.

CWD exists in the wild in several places in the state, including northwest Montana, along the highline, southcentral Montana and southwest Montana. FWP has conducted CWD surveillance and monitoring efforts around the state since 2017, including this year.

CWD has been found in Region 7 previously. This season, southeast Montana's Hunting Districts 700 and 703 are within the Priority Surveillance Areas for CWD sampling, but hunters harvesting an animal in any area can seek sampling services.

In southeast Montana, hunters can have their deer, elk or moose tested at the regional office in Miles City during normal business hours or at the check station in Hysham, which is being operated on Saturdays, Sundays and Mondays from 9 a.m. to dark throughout the remainder of the hunting season. Hunters are also encouraged to submit their own samples. Information on sample collection, the submission form, and ways to submit their samples can be found on FWP's website at fwp.mt.gov under Chronic Wasting Disease Management.

For more information about CWD in Montana including maps where CWD has been found, maps of surveillance areas and information on getting an animal tested, visit fwp.mt.gov/cwd.

American Education Week: November 15-19

Thank You, public education and individuals working to ensure that every student receives a quality education!

American Education Week occurs the week prior to Thanksgiving; a most appropriate time to say thanks.

Southwest Montana Retired Educators want to honor the team of people who work in our nation's public schools, everyone from the bus drivers and classroom teachers to the cafeteria workers, administrative staff and countless others.

The National Education Association was one of the creators and original sponsors of American Education Week.

In 1921, the NEA Representative Assembly in Des Moines, Iowa, called for: "An educational week… observed in all communities annually for the purpose of informing the public of the accomplishments and needs of the public schools and to secure the cooperation and support of the public in meeting those needs."

Suggestions for the week of November 15-19th.

Monday, November 15: Kickoff Day

Give a big thanks to all involved in the field of education.

Tuesday, November 16: Family Day

Get parents involved with learning. Check homework, read to your children, limit television or screen time on school nights, develop a relationship with your child's teacher. Ask your child about their school day.

Beaverhead County Public Health announces 6 more COVID-19 fatalities

Sue Hansen RN, Director of Beaverhead County Public Health announced on Friday, November 12th, 6 additional COVID-19 deaths. This brings the total number of fatalities for the county to 22.

The deaths, all males, occurred October 24th through November 5th. Ages range from one in his 50s, 2 in their 60s, and 3 in their 80s.

Currently, Beaverhead County has 30 active cases. This has been the average number of active cases per day since the beginning of November. The average of new cases per day is 5.

The county's vaccination rate is slowly increasing with 60% of the eligible population (ages 12 and older) vaccinated with at least one dose. 56% are fully vaccinated placing Beaverhead County in 15th place. Missoula County has the highest rate at 67%. In Beaverhead County, the two age groups with the lowest vaccination percentage are 12-17 (40%) and 18-29 (34%). However, those over age 60 with one dose averages over 84%.

The latest COVID-19 surge is a reminder the pandemic is still here. It is expected that as the weather continues to get colder and with the holidays in the near future, another sharp rise in cases will occur. The Delta virus remains the dominate strain causing more severe illness, hospitalizations, and deaths especially those who are unvaccinated.

Public Health wants all of Beaverhead County residents to enjoy the holidays. Please use common sense and wear masks when inside crowed public places, social distance when possible and seek vaccination.

Vaccinations can be found at Safeway Pharmacy and Public Health. Southwest Community Health Center is offering vaccinations to their patients. Public Health is offering community clinics at the UMW Keltz Arena on December 3rd, 10th, and 17th. Call 683-3203 and leave a message. Your call will usually be answered the next working day. Public Health currently has Pfizer, J & J, and Moderna vaccines. Along with first and second shots, boosters and 3rd shots will be offered.

Pfizer shots for children 5-11 years will be offered through a series of clinics at the Barrett Hospital & Healthcare clinic. Please call 683-1106 to make an appointment.
