Support Shaina in her Fight Against Breast Cancer

October 10th, 2021 is a day that will live in Shaina Torgerson's memories as one of her best days ever. Her boyfriend of 8 years, Kyle, proposed to her at Sawtooth Lake in the Pioneer Mountains. It was an amazing day. However, the joy didn't last long. The next day Shaina found out she had breast cancer.

"In just less than 24 hours, their reality went from dreams of a wedding and raising a family to facing chemo, breast surgery, and fertility preservation," Stephanie Grover, a close friend who started a GoFundMe for Shaina, said. "It's time for us as a community to lift she and Kyle up and support them in this fight!"

Shaina is only 29 years old and her story is an important one as we come to the end of Breast Cancer Awareness Month. It serves as a reminder to all women to get screened and catch cancer as early as possible.

To view the GoFundMe, please visit: https://gf.me/v/c/x6yw/support-shaina-in-her-fight-against-breast-cancer

According to the GoFundMe page any money raised beyond what Shaina needs for treatment will be donated to Young Survival Coalition and Barbells for Boobs.

For your convenience, photos shared on the GoFundMe are public and available for use with attribution to the GoFundMe fundraiser. Please let me know if you'd like any help contacting the fundraiser organizer.

The Children's Giving Tree

The Children's Giving Tree is gearing up for the 2021 Christmas season. This Tree will provide gifts for children whose parents/guardians may not have the resources to buy a Christmas gift for their child. Applications forms can be picked up at Rattlesnake Alpacas, 23 S Idaho St.

The Tree will be decorated with tags stating what the child wants/needs. Community members can come in to Rattlesnake Alpacas, pick a tag, buy the gift & return the wrapped gift with the tag firmly attached to the top. The gifts will be delivered to the families December 18.

Seven Bulldogs were selected to the first-team for NAIA District 4—Atarangi Moli, Carson Hritsco, Reese Artz, Tanner Harrell, Kyle Schulte, Jonas Nyman, and Latrell McCutcheon—holding an average GPA of 3.58. Hritsco, Artz, Harrell, and Schulte are all receiving the honor for a second time in their careers.

First-team Academic All-District® honorees advance to the CoSIDA Academic All-America® ballot. First- and second-team Academic All-America® honorees will be announced mid-December.

The CoSIDA Academic All-District® teams are divided into geographic districts across the United States and Canada. The NAIA District 4 includes teams from Alaska, Arizona, California, Colorado, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, New Mexico, Nevada, Oklahoma, Oregon, Texas, Utah, Wahsington, Wyoming, and Canada. The Bulldogs hold seven of 18 spots on the first-team.

FWP accepting comment on proposed commercial bait seining waters

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks is seeking public comment on proposed commercial bait-seining waters. Every year, FWP updates waters to allow commercial collection of nongame bait fish. Approved seining waters are regularly monitored for AIS and pathogens and maintain adequate bait fish population to accommodate collection.

The Fish and Wildlife Commission designates waters allowed for these purposes, and the department describes these waters annually in the Commercial Bait Seining Application Form.

Proposed waters for commercial seining in 2022 can be found on the FWP website at https://fwp.mt.gov/binaries/content/assets/fwp/fish/misc/2022-commercial-bait-seining-list.pdf. The only proposed change for 2022 is to allow commercial seining in reservoirs in the Arrow Creek drainage in Choteau, Fergus and Judith Basin counties.

A commercial bait fish seining license is required for:

- persons age 15 or older to seine and transport bait fish for commercial purposes
- anyone who seines and possesses more than 24 dozen nongame bait fish

FWP will accept public comment until Dec. 8. Comments can be submitted via email to fwpfishcomments@mt.gov or via U.S. mail to Fisheries Comments, P.O. Box 200701, Helena, MT 59620.

Attorney General Knudsen sues President Biden to uphold immigration laws

Montana Attorney General Austin Knudsen filed a lawsuit today to stop a dangerous Biden administration immigration policy that drastically ties the hands of immigration officers, halting nearly all deportations – even for those convicted of crimes and when federal immigration courts have already ordered their removal from the United States.

Ohio Attorney General Dave Yost and Arizona Attorney General Mark Brnovich are also plaintiffs in the lawsuit that seeks to halt the implementation of U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) Permanent Guidance that abandons its duties to enforce entire swaths of immigration law. The policy is set to take effect November 29.

"Law enforcement officers in Montana are doing what they can to combat crime resulting from drugs trafficked across the southern border, but we're fighting an uphill battle until the Biden administration does its job and enforces immigration laws," Attorney General Knudsen said. "The President's attempt to release thousands of people into our communities with no consideration of their potential criminal history is a dangerous policy. His administration must uphold the laws that protect our communities."

The DHS Permanent Guidance was issued after two previous related policies were called into question by litigation from multiple states, including Montana, and each of these predecessor policies was at least partially enjoined.

In addition to shielding the vast majority of aliens with final orders of removal from apprehension and deportation, the permanent guidance also represents an attempt by the Biden administration to abdicate other responsibilities under the law, such as the requirement for DHS to "take into custody" specified criminal aliens.

"As long as unauthorized aliens present in the United States prior to November 1, 2020, have not committed crimes related to terrorism and espionage, or do not pose egregious threats to public safety, they are not subject to deportation under this policy," the lawsuit states. "And based on DHS data covering the periods before and after the issuance of similar but less far-reaching policies, on information and belief, a necessary consequence of DHS's policy is that individuals will be released into Plaintiff States' communities."

There is no evidence that the Biden administration considered the serious risk of recidivism among criminal illegal aliens who are released, rendering the agency action "arbitrary and capricious." Additionally, the nonenforcement policy does not take into account the costs to states, which will have to spend taxpayer dollars on increased costs for law enforcement and social services.

Under the nonenforcement policy, DHS will no longer transfer most deportable migrants from local prisons to ICE custody when they are set to be released from jail, even though it is required by federal law. Instead, migrants will be released into states at the cost of taxpayers through community supervision. When DHS implemented a similar policy earlier this year, the number of immigration arrests and deportations were slashed and deportable criminal aliens were released from jails.

Biden's nonenforcement policy will further incentivize illegal immigration and worsen the ongoing border crisis, including the flow of methamphetamine and fentanyl across the border. The number of postmortem cases with identified methamphetamine in the blood more than doubled in 2020 (88 in 2019 and 191 in 2020), according to Montana State Crime Lab data. The state also saw an alarming number of fentanyl-related fatalities earlier this year.

More than 1.7 million migrants were detained along the southwest border in fiscal year 2021, the highest total ever recorded. That trend is continuing. Just last month, U.S. Border Patrol encountered more than 164,000 migrants at the southwest border, the worst October on record.

The coalition is asking the U.S. District Court of Ohio to declare the nonenforcement policy illegal and to stop it from going into effect.

This week, the Western State Sheriffs' Association issued a declaration of "no confidence" in Biden's DHS Secretary Alejandro Mayorkas saying, "America's sheriffs have watched in disbelief as the southern border has turned into an invisible line in the sand."

MHP Statement on Bertsch sentencing

In response to Missoula District Court Judge Shane Vannatta sentenced Jonathan Bertsch to four consecutive terms of life in prison without the possibility of parole, Montana Highway Patrol Colonel Steve Lavin issued the following statement:

:The men and women of the Highway Patrol are glad to see justice delivered. The strong sentence sends a message that Montana will hold violent criminals accountable. All the individuals and their families who were impacted by this heinous crime, including Trooper Wade Palmer, remain in our thoughts and prayers."

Bertsch pleaded guilty in June 2020 to one count of deliberate homicide and three counts of attempted deliberate homicide. Trooper Palmer survived the shooting.
