TACO JOHN'S GONE AFTER 42 YEARS

Taco John's original building, owned by "Taco" Lee Corkish, was moved in and set on a basement in the fall of 1979. The original restaurant was a narrow building with a walk up counter and drive thru. The current dining room was added years later.

Louis, the current owner from Livingston, wants to thank the community for the support during the years he has owned the business. He has made a difficult decision to lock the doors permanently and sell the building.

Editors note: I started working for Lee Corkish in 1979 when we had to unwrap, clean and re-clean, bleach and prepare the Taco John's building for opening.

I worked seven nights a week and at that time Friday and Saturday nights Taco John's was open until 1 am. There was a local customer that came with his friends several times a night. One night I was suppose to train a new employee by the name of Joe. So a man came in with a jacket that had "Joe" on the front. I said you must be Joe, are you ready.

The back door opened and a young man came in and said, hi, I'm Joe. Joe at the front counter said yes I'm ready. Well now what do I do?

Joe at the front counter asked if I'm ready. Red in the face, I'm afraid to ask anything at this point.

Joe Womack stood at the front counter and was the customer coming in several times each evening with the Davis brothers. I said sorry, wrong person, I have to train the new employee.

Joe Womack kept coming back and in 1981 I was ready when he asked and we were married 19 years before he passed away. I went to college, opened Womack's Printing, but went back and worked part time for Lee whenever he called and needed help, "just Tuesday lunch", "a couple weekends", "someone is in the hospital", receiving W2's for 13 years until Joe and I had children. I will never forget the love brought into my life from a part time job at Taco John's.

Christmas Stockings for the Soldiers

It's that time of the year! Time to make someones' day!

The American Legion Post 20, Staff Sergeant Cochran of the local Armory and the Auxiliary to Bill Carroll VFW Post 9040 have joined together to provide Christmas stockings for our soldiers.

SSG Cochran will be locating correct addresses for those deployed soldiers from our area, to receive the first stockings.

The 1063 have 127 soldiers and another 30 that SSG Cochran will be getting package to. Local Veterans in our care facilities have also received stockings.

If you would like to donate a stocking, or items to put inside them or money towards the mailings you can drop them off at 3-D at 130 South Montana Street or with SSG Cochran at the Armory or mail checks to the American Legion designated for the Christmas Stockings mailing fund (PO Box 146, Dillon, MT 59725).

Suggested items are signed Christmas cards, playing cards, candy - tootsie rolls, nail clippers, pocket size cribbage boards, tuna or chicken in foil packages (easy to eat), rice krispie treats, sewing kits, toothbrushes, tissues, and pencils.

Most of these will be shipping to Kuwait and it is HOT there, chocolate might not be the best idea.

Homemade items might be best for local use due the shipping delay.

We are not allowed to send items with American flags on them overseas; guardian angel pins in red, white and blue will always be allowed. Small items that would let someone think of home or that the sender cares about them are PERFECT! Fort Harrison Veterans always appreciate warm socks, hats and gloves.

Any questions please call Joan at 406-683-4261 or SSG Cochran at the armory 406-324-5226 or cell 406-304-1197.

FWP on pace to collect a record number of chronic wasting disease samples

Between July 1 and Nov. 12, FWP staff collected 3,147 CWD samples, of which 1,613 were from the 2021 priority sampling areas located in northwestern, northcentral, southwestern and southcentral Montana. This is above last year's 2,966 collected samples within that same time period.

The samples were tested at the Montana Department of Livestock's Veterinary Diagnostic Lab in Bozeman. Average testing turn-around time is currently seven days, which is quicker than previous years.

So far 64 animals tested positive or suspect for CWD. Here is a breakdown of positive and suspect results by species:

White-tailed deer: 47, Mule deer: 16, Elk: 0, Moose: 1

FWP covers the cost of testing hunter-harvested animals for CWD. Sample submission is voluntary throughout Montana. For more information on these surveillance areas and how to submit samples for testing, visit fwp.mt.gov/cwd.

Attorney General Knudsen fights to stop federal tax dollars from being used to fund abortions

Montana Attorney General Austin Knudsen and seven other state attorneys general are taking action to uphold conscience-protections for health care workers who don't want to participate in abortion and stop the Biden administration from skirting federal law and funneling tax dollars to abortion providers.

The Montana-led coalition filed an amicus brief urging a federal court to grant a preliminary injunction requested last month by Ohio Attorney General Dave Yost against a new U.S. Health and Human Services (HHS) policy that overturns prohibitions on federally funded family planning programs from being physically and financially connected to abortion providers.

A preliminary injunction would stop federal tax dollars from being used to encourage and support abortion, protect the conscience rights of family planning providers who decline to play a role in abortion, and preserve choice of providers and keep family planning services accessible for patients, particularly those in rural areas.

Title X provides federal funding for family planning clinics to increase access to contraceptives and preventative health services for low-income Americans. The law prohibits funds from being "used in programs where abortion is a method of family planning."

The Biden administration's new rule clearly violates this moral clarity in the law by allowing grantees to share staff, waiting rooms, and treatment rooms with abortion facilities, which would make the restricted Title X funds indistinguishable from an abortion facility's general budget.

Previous Title X rules correctly prohibited grantees from making referrals for elective abortions to avoid illegally promoting or encouraging abortion with the federal funds. The Biden administration's new rule not only overturns this prohibition, it requires grantees to make abortion referrals upon request regardless of any religious or moral objections they hold.

Additionally, the requirement to refer patients for abortions infringes on the conscience rights of individuals and entities who decline to perform, participate in, or refer for abortions and conflicts with statutes protecting conscience in health care. This will be particularly harmful for rural Montanans.

As the brief states, the Biden administration's new rule "will limit choice for patients, especially those who live in rural or remote areas, where faith-based and local community organizations would be more likely to apply (or seek to participate as a subrecipient) if the abortion counseling and referral requirement were lifted."

Joining Attorney General Knudsen are the attorneys general of Georgia, Idaho, Indiana, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Dakota, and Texas.

The lunch menu for the week is as follows: Monday, we will enjoy beef soft shell tacos served with black beans. Tuesday, a traditional turkey dinner will be served with mashed potatoes and dinner rolls. Wednesday, we will have noon dismissal and therefore no lunch will be served. We not only will release at noon but be out on November 25th and 26th in observance of Thanksgiving. So, students, as you celebrate this holiday, let's all think of the many things we have to be thankful for. Please safely enjoy your holiday and get refreshed to resume school on Monday, November 29th.

Also, please remember that a "grab and go" breakfast is available each morning out back of the school near where you turn your phones in. Breakfast is always nourishing and delicious.

Student council has been working hard to create a DMS Newspaper called the DMS Tribune. Our editor is our student council vice president, Lilla Guiberson. Assistant editor is Jordyn Martinez. Sports reporters are Kena Sampson and Briley Alberi. Today, our first edition is available for 50 cents, so look for student council members to be selling before school. Otherwise, pick up your copy at the office.

This week in girls' cross training, there will be no scheduled workout. However, Mr. and Mrs. Williams will be available both Monday and Tuesday for those 7th and 8th grade girls to work out if they want to. Please make sure to touch base with them.

Here's an update for boys' basketball. Last week, the A teams traveled to Butte Central. Seventh grade won by several points while eighth grade won by 40. Great job boys.

This week, the teams will host Anaconda on Tuesday, November 23rd. Eighth grade will be in the Parkview gym, and 7th grade will be in the DMS gym. Games will be at 4:00 PM for B teams and 5:00 PM for A teams.

Student council has been busy preparing for the Thanksgiving Holiday by making cards for the elderly. They will be delivered on Wednesday after the noon release. Also, student council members are inviting
