Frank MacKenzie Stanchfield, 79

Frank MacKenzie Stanchfield, 79, of Wise River, died December 26, 2021 at St. James Healthcare with his wife Edith at his side.

Frank was born on September 6, 1942 in Dillon, MT to Verne and Evelyn (MacKenzie) Stanchfield. Frank graduated from, Beaverhead County High School in 1961. Frank served in the US Army - Specialist 4th Class, 7th army, and was stationed in the Quartermaster Corps in Wiesbaden, Germany.

Frank married his loving wife Edith (Rieber) Stanchfield on June 4, 1969. Frank and Edith had one son, Lance. Between Frank and Lance, a strong bond was held and many memories were shared together. Frank grew up ranching. In 1983 Frank, together with Edith, started his dream and opened Troutfitters, where one could easily say he spent the best years of his life. He guided for several years and then he and Edith turned the guide service over to their son Lance and they ran the flyshop and shuttle service. Frank enjoyed trapping and snowmobiling. He also enjoyed fishing the Big Hole and Gates of the Mountains with good friends Dave and Fred. Frank will be greatly missed by his family, friends, and the fishing community and clients. Many will remember him by the nights that were spent out in the garage, with a drink in one hand and a cigar in the other, where lots of storytelling and belly-rolling laughter took place. He truly loved to entertain everyone with his great wit and as they all said Frank was truly one of a kind. Frank's legacy he left on the valley will never be forgotten.

Surviving in addition to his wife and son Lance (Becky) and granddaughter Kenzie, are brother Dean (Eddie Lou) Stanchfield, sister Sharon (Marvin) Reynolds, sisters-in-law Rosemary (Richard) Wenger, Regina Maki, brother-in-law John (Michele) Rieber and numerous nieces and nephews.

Frank was predeceased by his parents and brother-in-law John Maki.

We will be having a celebration of life at Troutfitters, in Frank's beloved garage, that will take place in April. A notification will come when a final date is set.

Memorials may be made in Frank's memory to St. Jude Children's Hospital or Shriners Hospital for Children.

TOURISM GRANT FOR PICNIC SHELTER

The Montana Department of Commerce yesterday announced more than $1 million in grant funding was awarded through its Tourism Grant Program to strengthen local economies in 21 communities.

Dillon Main Street LLC and the City of Dillon will receive $13,393.50 to construct and install a permanent shade and event structure within Jaycee Park.

The grant was applied for by RayAnn Sutton of the Dillon Main Street Committee for a structure to cover picnic tables in Jaycee Park. It will be placed between the playground and the splash pad on a concrete pad. The project is planned for in the spring along with the sidewalks and bases to hold shade covers over benches in the splash pad area. The Friends of Jaycee Park have raised funds towards this structure with an estimated total around $58,000.

The Tourism Grant Program is funded by the 4% Lodging Facility Use Tax, commonly known as the "Bed Tax." Enacted by the 1987 Legislature, the Bed Tax is collected from guests of hotels, motels, bed and breakfasts, guest ranches, resorts, short-term vacation rentals, and campgrounds. Eligible entities that may apply for tourism grants include cities, counties, non-profit organizations, and tribal entities based in Montana.

For more information about the Tourism Grant Program, and the list of projects visit MARKETMT.COM.

Tend the Horses

Bryce Angell

Well, Lord I'm getting' up in years and soon you'll call me home.

So, now I hope you're listenin' while I kneel here all alone.

Don't know much 'bout the Heavens 'cept what Mother rightly taught.

And I ain't got much to offer. You kinda got me in a spot.

'Cuz Mother said there's lots of singin', praisin' to your name.

But if I tried to hum a hymn, well Sir, I'd be fair game!

I've never strummed a harp or even gazed a music sheet.

So, if that's where I'm headed, this won't be no cowboy treat.

But I've been thinkin' if I'm gonna be there for a while.

Maybe there is somethin' that's a little more my style.

I've had my share of failures with my so-called jobs in town.

But when it comes to horses my successes are well-found.

My father taught me all he knew of a horse's sheer beauty.

A family's deep tradition that was passed along to me.

So, there otta be a few old crowbait horses on the loose.

Maybe they need rounded up, then put 'em to good use.

You see, a horse needs tendin'. If they're left to run around, they might take off a runnin' and who knows could be hellbound.

We wouldn't want the doggone devil stealin' our horseflesh.

Let's keep 'em there in heaven, 'cuz heaven and hell don't mesh.

I'll get to know each horse and will account for every head.

And one thing is for certain, they for dang sure will get fed.

We'll always have some tame ones to explore out on the trail.

My cowboy friends and I will always ride 'em without fail.

Lord I'm askin' cut me slack. Reach out to all your sources.

This kinda job is meant for me. Please let me tend the horses.

Frozen Water Pipes

With more cold weather predicted, the City of Dillon would like to remind homeowners to take measures to prevent their pipes from freezing. Here are several tips: (1) allow a small trickle of water from your cold water faucet in your kitchen to run to keep pipes from freezing. The cost of the extra water is low compared to the cost to repair a broken pipe; (2) keep garage doors closed if there are water supply lines in the garage; (3) open kitchen and bathroom cabinets to allow warmer air circulation around the plumbing and also remember to move any harmful cleaners and household chemicals out of reach of children; (4) If you will be going away during the cold weather, leave the heat on in your home, set to a temperature no lower than 55 degrees Fahrenheit.

Last winter was an unusual winter with so many service lines freezing throughout the community. The City of Dillon recommends to citizens to keep a small trickle running as a preventative measure to keep their service lines from freezing. If you have had problems in the past we encourage you to run a small trickle of water from your cold water faucet in your kitchen. This of course is at the customers discretion, as the cost of running water is at their expense.

Square Dancing Coming to the Elks

Starting Sunday, January 9, square dancing lessons will be provided here in the Elks Lodge. Lessons will start at 2:00 until 3:30 every Sunday afternoon for 12 weeks. You can start at any time so don't worry about missing a week(s). There will be NO charge for this, but free-donations will be collected to compensate the caller for travel expenses from Butte. The bar will be open during this time.

This is a great activity for all ages.

Call the Lodge at 683-5552 if you have any questions.

REMEMBER THE LAS VEGAS VAMPIRE?

Tyrades! by Danny Tyree

Many of you just watched the late Darren McGavin as Ralphie's father in the umpteenth rerun of 1983's "A Christmas Story," but we're approaching the 50th anniversary of another iconic McGavin role.

On January 11, 1972, ABC aired "The Night Stalker" – which entered the American psyche as the highest-rated made-for-TV movie up until that time.

Granted, the film was aided by being nestled between "The Mod Squad" and "Marcus Welby, M.D." and competing against a "crowd-pleasing" NBC documentary about Northern Ireland factions (apparently NBC's documentary about post-nasal drip wasn't completed in time); but it was a milestone, nonetheless.

It was impossible for discriminating viewers to say no to the movie. The screenplay was by Richard Matheson (famed as author of "I Am Legend" and the screenwriter of 16 "Twilight Zone" episodes as well as Steven Spielberg's directorial film debut "Duel") and the producer was Dan Curtis, the creator of the gothic soap opera "Dark Shadows" (which etched the image of Rev. Trask being sealed alive inside a wall into the memories of a generation).

In those days before social media and "watch it whenever" streaming, "The Night Stalker" was the sort of shared experience that dominated office water cooler conversations and school playground chatter on January 12.

McGavin portrayed Carl Kolchak, a down-on-his-luck investigative journalist digging into serial killings that plagued Las Vegas – serial killings that seemed more and more the work of a vampire. The wisecracking Kolchak got on the wrong side of the Powers That Be because news of a bloodsucker in town could dampen the tourist trade. (That's the same reason the buffet for the annual Extended Warranty Association convention is always sequestered in a secret room.)

Although "The Night Stalker" broke ratings records, spawned follow-up TV-movie "The Night Strangler," generated the 1974-75 series "Kolchak: The Night Stalker," inspired Fox's "The X-Files" and garnered a cult following, nitpickers like to nitpick.

Some whine about the shoestring budget, even though director John Llewellyn Moxey did a masterful job of building suspense within his financial constraints. Shoestring budgets were the reality, and network executives tried to economize even more. ("Are you sure you need the little plastic thingies on the end of the shoestrings? You're killing me!")

Yes, viewers spoiled by modern special effects might be underwhelmed by the simplicity of the film. But those people would even find fault with heaven. ("There's no CGI? Forget that! Give me a ticket to the other place.")

Filmgoers addicted to today's standards of gore might bemoan the restrained nature of the movie, but the Network Standards and Practices people had spent 20-plus years protecting viewers from disturbing elements. ("Quick! More parents with dead spouses! More people smoking cancer sticks! But no karate chops!")

Some fume that vampire Janos Skorzeny wasn't given a more nuanced, sympathetic treatment. They wouldn't be satisfied unless Kolchak took along a social worker to coax the vampire into experiencing a "Wow! I could'a had a V8!" moment.

Like every year, 2022 will be a buyer's market for columnists wishing to write about cultural anniversaries; but I couldn't in good conscience pass up this occasion.

Not when "The Night Stalker" left such an indelible mark. My trip to Las Vegas in the mid-90s is still a blur, but I was supposedly screaming, "Don't show me the room with the HIGH stakes – show me the one with the WOODEN stakes!"
