The Village Grand opening!

The Early Childhood Coalition is opening up a non-profit indoor playspace for families to access active and developmentally appropriate play year round, especially during cold winter months when the park may not be a safe option for young children.

This space will be called "The Village" as in it takes a village to raise a child. We are hoping this new space can be a hub for families to connect and support one another in the challenging and exciting early childhood years. The Village will be located in the basement of the Mary Innis Building on 225 East Reeder Street.

In addition to active play and developmentally appropriate toys and activities, The Village will also host free parenting education and support groups for different demographics of parents and caregivers including postpartum support groups and support groups for parents with children who have a disability.

Grand opening for The Village is Saturday 1/15/22 9 am - 5 pm. As covid cases and other seasonal illnesses are currently high we ask that all adults wear a mask to protect children's health. We will not be asking children 0-5 to mask. The first visit for all is free. Subsequent fee schedules and memberships will be posted at The Village and on the Early Childhood Coalition's facebook page.

AG Knudsen statement on SCOTUS vaccine mandate decisions

In response to the U.S. Supreme Court's decisions today regarding President Biden's COVID-19 vaccine mandates, Montana Attorney General Austin Knudsen issued the following statement:

"The U.S. Supreme Court came to the only logical conclusion about President Biden's mandate on private employers: it's an abuse of executive power. Montana workers shouldn't be forced to choose between a COVID-19 vaccine and their job.

The decision to allow the mandate for healthcare workers to go into effect while the case is fully decided is as nonsensical as it is disappointing. Its effect on Montana's rural medical facilities will be irreversible and devastating.

This unprincipled 'split the baby' approach undermines public confidence in the Supreme Court and the rule of law. Today's decisions do not mean either case is over - I will continue our fight to protect Montanans' rights and strike down President Biden's unlawful mandates for good."

Deputy Files for Sheriff

Beaverhead County Sheriffs Resident Deputy David Wendt announced that he is running to succeed retiring Beaverhead County Sheriff Paul Craft. Beaverhead County native David Wendt, graduated from Lima High School in 1992, attended University of Montana Western and then started his law enforcement career in Beaverhead County in 1997, working as a Reserve Deputy. In 2007 he moved to Meagher County and worked for the Sheriffs Department serving as Deputy, Deputy Coroner and later on as Undersheriff. In 2019, the opportunity came to move back to his home of Beaverhead County and serve as a resident deputy in Lima.

David grew up on his family ranch helping in the many aspects of ranch life teaching him very valuable life lessons of hard work, dependability and commitment. Growing up in Beaverhead County has provided him with the knowledge and experience of the land, people and way of life here. David has been married to his wife Keri for 25 years and have 5 children. His family has been a great blessing to him in his life and he wants to do all he can to continue to make Beaverhead County a safe place for individuals and families to live.

Over the years, David has worked and gained experience in many jobs in the Sheriffs Department from Patrol Deputy, Detention, Criminal Investigations, Coroner duties and everything involving Fire/Ambulance and Search and Rescue. He has worked under 5 different Sheriffs in his career and has learned from each of them what it takes have a successful department. It is David's desire to continue the well functioning department that Sheriff Paul Craft maintains. He has the upmost respect and gratitude to Sheriff Craft and will continue to utilize Craft's example of service. Upon learning of Sheriff Craft's plan to not seek another term, David felt strongly it was time to step up to the challenge and give back to the Beaverhead County Sheriff's Department and to the community that he loves. In this upcoming Beaverhead County Sheriff's election; David, his wife Keri and his family humbly ask to have your support. It is with this support that David pledges to do all he can to honorably serve this county and its citizens.

ARTIFACT

By "Swede" Troedsson

In August, 1967, I was dispatched to the Trapper Peak Fire. This fire was on the Bonners Ferry Ranger District, on the Kaniksu National Forest, in northern Idaho.

My assignment was as a Crew Boss supervising a crew of approximately 21 Pueblo Indians from Az.

Our sector straddled a deep draw with steep banks. There were three pump emplacements in the draw, one of which presented a difficult climb in order to get up onto the hose line.

The first day I had the crew, they disappeared for a while and returned with a log on which they had chopped steps into so that they could more easily ascend the steep bank above the one pump emplacement.

I called the crew boss over and expressed my admiration of their ladder. The crew boss said this was what they used in AZ to climb up into their pueblos.

I also instructed the crew boss that when they were done using their makeshift ladder they should chop it up into small pieces and scatter it over the land. My concern was that an archeologist might later discover this Pueblo artifact in northern Idaho and get historians excited over his discovery!

Later, while we were taking a break, we saw a beautiful weasel cross our fire line. The weasel was about the size of large cat. It had brown fur with a rust hue, and had black legs. None of us knew what kind of weasel this critter was.

When I arrived back home I looked up the weasel and found out it was a fisher. I notified the Bonner Ferry Ranger District of our sighting. They informed me they had planted some fishers in the area for porcupine control.

Secretary Jacobsen officially opens Montana's 2022 candidate filing

Montana Secretary of State Christi Jacobsen officially opened Montana's 2022 candidate filing period on Thursday morning, welcoming candidates to the Capitol to announce their declaration for nomination. Senator Mike Cuffe (SD-1) was the first in-person candidate to file on Thursday morning.

"Congratulations and best of luck to the candidates filing for office," said Secretary Jacobsen. "I was a candidate, so I know how the candidates feel today when they're filing. It's such a great honor and privilege and I wish all the candidates the absolute best of luck this election season."

Montana's 2022 midterms will have two United States Representative seats on the ballot after the U.S. Census Bureau announced its state population data in April. Montana was one of six states to gain at least one U.S. House seat. Montana's districting commission announced the state's two congressional districts in November.

Statewide, state district, or Legislative candidates can file online, in person at the Secretary of State's Office, or by mail or fax (the filing fee must be paid at the time of filing). Local candidates file with the county election office.

For more information about candidate filing and the offices on the 2022 ballot, visit the 'File For Office' page on the Montana Secretary of State's website. Montana's 2022 Election Calendars are also available online.

Candidate filing closes at 5 p.m. on March 14, 2022.
