Montana Retired Educators Day March 10, 2022

Montana Retired Educators Day is March 10, 2022. MREA is a part of the National Retired Teachers Association (NRTA) which is celebrating its 75th anniversary this year. The National Convention, is held in Washington D. C., and meets every fall. The purpose of NRTA is to keep close contact with issues related to retired personnel and to help keep the teacher retirement sound. We are a non-political group concerned with what is happening at the State and Federal levels. We are concerned about various issues and how they affect our retirements. We give representation for those who need a voice to help maintain and secure retirement that is livable. We strive to help those the retired maintain a comfortable way of life. When our State Legislators meet, we attend and correspond to express needs we feel should be addressed and improved upon for all concerned.

In Montana, we have celebrated the 2nd Thursday of March as the MREA day since 2014. It was in 2014, Governor Bullock made the proclamation to secure this day special in honor of those who dedicated their time and many years of service to educating our youth and adults. Our membership is not just limited to teachers. We represent all educators and paraprofessionals involved with students and education. Our organization is nation wide and gives strong support to the needs of education retirees. We also provide many volunteer services to our communities and states. In Montana, the state board offers four scholarships, to currently teaching Montana teachers who are returning to earn higher degrees in education. Many local Units also offer scholarships to high school students seeking higher education.

Montana retired Educators donate many hours of time as well as give monetary support to help within Montana communities. On the average retired educators have recorded an average of 39,000 volunteer hours yearly to community service across the state. Last year, due to COVID the number of hours were lower than average. Many hours of volunteering go unrecorded. We are proud to report that Montana is in the hands of many volunteers who have dedicated their lives to the improvement of their state and communities. Thanks to all who have given their time and talents in order to make life better for us all. Without volunteers, many young people would not have the availability of programs kept afloat due to retired volunteers and their funding of various programs. Churches, schools, community projects and community support programs would not maintain the level of success if it weren't for their contributions. So, when you see a retired educator, thank them for what they have done and continue to do. Their service is priceless! Also take time to thank the paraprofessionals like, bus drivers, safety school monitors, janitors, lunch personnel, administrators, and counselors.

MREA units contribute to food banks, backpack programs, health/hygiene, community concerts, work as school helpers, libraries, walking school bus, book fairs, scholarships, clothes for kids, school supplies, and church programs of which all help to build strong, healthy, communities.

O'Connor Places Ninth at National Meet, Sets New School Record

Montana Western senior Eireann O'Connor made her mark at the 2022 NAIA Indoor Track & Field National Championship. She qualified for the first time in her career in the 3,000-meter race.

O'Connor qualified for the national meet with her 3,000-meter time at the Polar Vortex Classic in late February; she recorded a time of 10:26.29, over three seconds faster than the qualifying time.

In the prelims at nationals, O'Connor placed fifth in her heat and 10th overall with a time of 10:18.25, both a personal best and a school record for the 3,000-meter. She advanced to the finals and smashed her time with another school record of 10:12.99 and an overall ninth-place finish. O'Connor reset the school record for the women's 3,000 with her final finish.

Sunshine in the Hay

Bryce Angell

Winter times were frigid, and the skies were overcast.

January weather was a dreary polar blast.

When March arrived, the sun would shine, you'd finally feel its heat.

This time of year holds memories feeding hay for cows to eat.

I'd choose an afternoon with sunshine and a clear blue sky.

Then climb up top the haystack, prob'ly fifteen haybales high.

Back then the bales were smaller mostly eighty pounds or so.

I'd dig around a bit and try to open-up a hole.

One by one I'd throw a bale of hay off to the side.

And make a square hole big enough to crawl right in and hide.

I left the hole wide open. Let the sun bear down its heat.

Then found a bale of hay to sit. A warm alfalfa seat.

I sat there contemplating. Whittling hay stems with my knife.

And realized how blessed I was. There ain't no better life.

And then the sun took over. Her warm beams put me to sleep.

'Twas more than just a catnap. More like forty winks so deep.

I dreamed of warmer days to come, with green grass in the field.

No more feeding cows with frozen gloves and fingers chilled.

I must have slept an hour, maybe two or even more. 'Cuz there's nothing like the warm sunshine to heal and help restore.

But then as luck would have it, no more warmth to feel and hold.

A black cloud covered up the sun. Replaced with winter cold.

I woke up with a shiver. Figured, "Better get to work."

My loafing time was over. Didn't have the time to shirk.

From top the stack I gazed out at the cows in the corral.

Then threw a half a dozen bales to feed and keep 'em well.

But when the days were sunny, you would see me top the stack.

I'd be soaking up the sun and praying summer to come back.

to give a hardy thank you to Tara Remely for a job well done as the derby chairperson and all those members who participated in a variety of ways. We would also like to thank the Bureau of Reclamation and Montana Fish, Wildlife, and Parks for allowing us to have this event. Without your consideration and assistance this derby would not be possible.

Because of COVID during the past two years, your Beaverhead Search and Rescue chose to suspend the annual Stan Schafer Memorial Fish Derby and the annual auction. Both of these events have been substantial fund raisers for the unit. As we have noted above, the fish derby has once again been held. Now the members are discussing the idea of resurrecting our annual auction. It will be determined at the April meeting as to whether or not we will have the event. If we do decide to have it, we will once again be looking for donations of auction items from you the public. Anyone who has attended an S&R auctions will know that our auctioneer since the start of this event has been Val Prophet. As we all know Val passed away last year. He was a fine man and a great sport when it came to the auction. On a bright note, the BVHD S&R voted to name the auction "Val Prophet Memorial Auction". The unit believes this will be a great tribute to a fine man. Thank you Val for all your years of dedicated service to the unit as a member and auctioneer.

On the 28th of January, the search and rescue unit held its annual appreciation dinner at the golf course. The dinner is to honor outstanding members and spouses for putting up with early morning call-outs and long search events. This year's "Rookie of the Year" is Dan Cahill. Dan is retired from law enforcement in California. He has been a very active in attending nearly all searches/rescues the unit has had and participated in most every training and other events sponsored by the S&R. Congratulations Dan, keep up the good work. The "Member of the Year" is Lawrence Morrisroe. Lawrence is the current commander of the unit serving his second year. He has been essential in bringing us into the 21st century. Not only being involved as a search manager and going to the field during active searches/rescues, he has brought the unit up to date with computers, mapping programs, tracking programs, GPS use, and many other electronic devices. These things have made a great difference the unit's ability to keep track of members during a search, recording the actual ground covered, looked at, during search activities and recording member's year-long activities. All of these things have enhanced our abilities to find "Lost" individuals

It has been a quiet 2022 so far with no rescues or searches taking place, which is how we like it! However, the snow that just came is a good reminder that winter is not over yet and with each of these snows comes inherent dangers in the mountains. The possibility of avalanches becomes greater with each of these heavy load bearing dumps. Please be extremely cautious and prepared when you go out there. Danger is lurking, don't let it raise its ugly head. Same is true with the ice conditions on the area pond and lakes. The ice is deteriorating quickly with the warmer days. Please be careful if you think you need to do some ice fishing. With open water around all edges remember the ice is continually moving. Once you are on the ice there is no guarantee you will be able to get off where you went on. Be safe and prepared, "In The Business Of Saving Lives" your Beaverhead Search and Rescue.
