June 10-13 programs at Lewis & Clark Caverns State Park to feature caves, skulls, birds

Cave geology, skulls and birds are the focus of Lewis & Clark Caverns State Park's speaker series events happening June 10, 11 and 13.

The park will welcome Stuart Parker on Friday, June 10 at 8 p.m. at the campground amphitheater. Stuart will discuss the mountain building that occurred in this area and how it influenced the formation of the cave.

Join park ranger Ramona Radonich on Saturday, June 11, at 8 p.m. at the campground amphitheater for a closer look at the skulls of several animals that live in the park. It has been said that form follows function, and a study of skulls gives credence to this statement. In this talk, visitors will discover what different forms of skulls can teach about how animals function. Visitors will have the opportunity to look straight up the nose of a bear skull and deep into the eye orbits of a cougar—something that can't be done easily in the wild. Visitors will also have the opportunity to touch the furs that protect these animals.

Park ranger Radonich will lead "Birds of a Feather", a birdwatching hike through the park, on June 13. The group will meet at the main visitor center at 9 a.m. for a brief talk, and then they'll head out to look for birds until 11 a.m. Visitors are invited to come delight in the miracle of life that is birds. These flying wonders are filling the skies of Lewis & Clark Caverns State Park with their colors and songs. Binoculars will be provided for visitors who don't have their own.

Lewis & Clark Caverns State Park is about 15 miles southeast of Whitehall, along Montana Highway 2. For more information about the park and for a full list of events, please visit stateparks.mt.gov/lewis-and-clark-caverns or call 406-287-3541.

Harrison, Rhein, and Baseley Make Most of Championship Meet

Battling through weather, rescheduling and intense race tactics Eireann Rhein (O'Connor), Jonathan Harrison, and Morgan Baseley made the most of their trip to the NAIA Outdoor National Championships this week.

Starting bright and early on Friday morning, Morgan Baseley competed in the Half-Marathon and finished 21st. Baseley jumped out to a quick start, perhaps too quick, but was able to settle back into the race and ran a strong second half finishing with a time of 1:35:59.

"Morgan ran tough," said head coach Dylan Zitzer. "The race was extremely difficult with rough conditions and she never backed down."

Jonathan Harrison earned his first ever All-American by finishing seventh in the 800m. In what was a very tough and tactical race Harrison finished with a time of 1:53.07. This is the first All-American for the men's team since bringing back the track program to UMW.

"I'm very impressed with the way Jonathan ran," said Zitzer. "He is our first male to earn All-American since we brought back the program and finished a very credible seventh place."

Eireann Rhein (O'Connor) in her final collegiate race finished ninth in a difficult 5,000m final, just missing out on another All-American by .5. Rhein, finishes off an incredible career for the Bulldogs breaking and setting several school records both in cross country and track.

"Eireann capped off her career with an extremely gritty ninth place finish, nearly catching the eighth-place runner after being down 10 seconds at the bell," Zitzer said. "She has been an amazing leader for five years and she leaves a lasting impact on the program."

SUMMER IS HERE AGAIN!!!

Can you believe Summer is here already? Neither can we, but District #10 is pleased to announce that we will again be serving FREE breakfast and lunch to everyone 18 & UNDER whom are interested. Meals can be picked up at the kitchen doors around the back side of the school in the staff parking lot, Monday - Friday from 12 (noon) - 1pm. This program will start MONDAY JUNE 6th. If you have further questions or would like to give us a heads up that you will be participating (to help us with meal counts for the first few days!) please reach out to Kathi at 406-925-3688 or kholt@dillonelem.k12.mt.us

More than 2,000 AIS inspections conducted over Memorial Day weekend Enforcement intercepts mussel-fouled boat after driver fails to stop at station

Although the weather wasn't ideal for outdoor recreation, aquatic invasive species stations around the state conducted more than 2,000 inspections over the Memorial Day weekend. So far this year, FWP and its partners have inspected 14,000 watercraft, 21 of which were mussel-fouled.

One of those detections happened Saturday when a mussel-fouled boat was intercepted at Wibaux. The boat was a recent purchase and was being commercially transported from Michigan to Seattle. The driver failed to stop at the inspection station and was intercepted by a FWP game warden and required to return to the station for inspection. After the boat was decontaminated and locked to the trailer, inspectors contacted officials in Washington to coordinate a follow-up inspection.

"FWP Law Enforcement takes the threat of AIS to Montana waters very seriously," said Dave Loewen, chief of FWP's Law Enforcement Division. "Our officers work closely with the Montana Highway Patrol and other enforcement entities to enforce AIS regulations."

As a reminder, all boats must stop at all open watercraft inspection stations they encounter. Failure to do so could result in a fine of up to $500.

FWP and partner agencies operate more than 25 roadside watercraft inspection stations across the state. To find a watercraft inspection station or to learn more, go to CleanDrainDryMT.com or call the FWP Aquatic Invasive Species Bureau at 406-444-2440.

In addition to stopping at all watercraft inspection stations, boaters need to follow these rules:

- Be sure to always clean, drain and dry your boat.
- Non-residents transporting watercraft into Montana must purchase a Vessel AIS Prevention Pass before launching. The fee is $30 for motorized and $10 for nonmotorized watercraft. The pass is valid until Dec. 31.
- Inspection is required for Montana residents before launch IF: the boat is entering the state, crossing west over the Continental Divide or entering the Flathead Basin.

FWP REMINDER: BE BEAR AWARE WHEN RECREATING OUTDOORS

Bears can be found throughout Montana. In recent years, grizzly bear populations have expanded.

People venturing into the outdoors should "Be Bear Aware" by following these precautionary steps:

- Carry and know how to use bear spray.
- Travel in groups whenever possible and plan to be out in the daylight hours.
- Avoid carcass sites and concentrations of ravens and other scavengers.
- Watch for signs of bears such as bear scat, diggings, torn-up logs and turned over rocks, and partly consumed animal carcasses.
- Make noise, especially near streams or in thick forest where hearing and visibility is impaired. This can be the key to avoiding encounters. Most bears will avoid humans when they know humans are present.
- Don't approach a bear.

If you are camping in bear country, follow these guidelines:

- Camp away from areas where you see grizzly signs.
- Keep a clean camp at all times. Keep tents free of food and attractants.
- Follow all food storage regulations. Contact the applicable land management agency to learn what food storage rules apply where you're recreating. Hang all food, trash and other odorous items well away from camp and at least 10 feet above ground and 4 feet from any vertical support, or store in a bear-resistant container. Livestock feed attracts bears and should be treated the same as human food.

Anglers also need to practice safe behavior in bear country:

- Don't leave fish entrails on shorelines of lakes and streams.
- Sink entrails in deep water.
- If you don't properly dispose of entrails you increase danger to yourself and to the next person to use the area.
