FWP seeks public comment on OHV grant proposals

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks is seeking public comment on proposed 2022 Off-Highway Vehicle (OHV) grant proposals. Public comments will be accepted through Friday June 24, at 5 p.m.

The OHV program received 11 grant requests and proposes to award $418,381. The program receives funding through OHV/motorbike registrations, gas tax and the Summer Motorized Trail Pass revenues. Montana's Off-Highway Vehicle Program supports projects such as trail maintenance, signs, trail stewards, ethics education, noxious weed control, safety and mapping efforts. Grant awards are allocated by FWP with recommendations from the citizen-based Off-Highway Vehicle Advisory Committee (OHVAC).

The public is invited to comment on the funding requests. To submit comments online and see a summary list of the 2022 OHV grant application funding requests, visit <https://fwp.mt.gov/aboutfwp/grant-programs/off-highway-vehicle>

The public may also send comments to: Montana FWP, Attn: Seth McArthur, P.O. Box 200701, Helena, MT 59620-0701.

Full grant applications are available by request in the Parks and Outdoor Recreation Division office at FWP headquarters located at 1420 E. 6th Avenue in Helena, Montana 59620.

Bear safety training events happening in Big Sky, Bozeman

FWP to host bear awareness events to teach safety skills

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks staff will host two bear safety events next week to offer training and hands-on practice with bear spray and other safety resources.The first event will be Thursday, June 16, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., in the basketball court at Big Sky Community Park in Big Sky.The second event will be Friday, June 17, from 11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., in the south parking lot of FWP's Bozeman office, 1400 S. 19th Ave.Both events will include bear displays and safety talks on the hour.
The displays include grizzly bear and black bear full-body mounts, skulls, tracks, food storage options, bear spray holsters and more.
Participants will have the chance to practice using inert bear spray in a remote-controlled charging bear demonstration.FWP staff will be available to discuss bear safety practices, bear biology and how to handle bear encounters. They will provide in-depth training on how to carry and use bear spray. This event is family friendly, and everyone is welcome.Bears can be found throughout Montana. In recent years, grizzly bear populations have expanded. People venturing into the outdoors should be "bear aware" by following these precautionary steps:

- Carry and know how to use bear spray.
- Travel in groups whenever possible and plan to be out in the daylight hours.
- Avoid carcass sites and concentrations of ravens and other scavengers.
- Watch for signs of bears such as bear scat, diggings, torn-up logs and turned over rocks, and partly consumed animal carcasses.
- Make noise, especially near streams or in thick forest where hearing and visibility is impaired. This can be the key to avoiding encounters. Most bears will avoid humans when they know humans are present.
- Don't approach a bear.

For more information on bear safety, visit FWP's page on bears in Montana at go.usa.gov/xJB6U or visit the Interagency Grizzly Bear Committee's website at igbconline.org.BITTERROOT TRADING POSTJ.D. PAPE about spending more money on the project and look into finding out if more ARPA money is available instead of passing the cost onto the citizens through their water bill.

Second was the waterline at the fairgrounds, the city and county have been going back and forth on who is responsible for the replacement and fixing of the waterline. Klakken pointed out this is not a main line but a service line, and they choose to place buildings on top of it, and they are the ones responsible for the upkeep and repair of it.

Third was the water restrictions set in place, from what he knew you had to follow a certain set of rules and reasoning behind placing these restrictions. Last years were set in place after they discovered one of the holding tanks could not produce enough water to keep it full. If they are going to set these, they need a reason behind it.

Fourth was a rumor going around that the city is going to pave Bannack Street, he was worried about how they would get the money to pay for this. They still have two payments to make to the S.A.D. 2012. With the final payment to be made in 2023 and in this fiscal year they still need to assess the street maintenance payment. He stated if it is true to the paving of Bannack, they would have to bond out the money.

The only reply he got to his answers where the city is only asking people to conserve water as of now and they will investigate what other cities such as Helena have in place to design water restrictions.

Up next was the approval of Joel Stewart to assistant police chief, the main question was if the Police Union was consulted. The answer was no. The other was the appointment of Christopher Feathers as a probationary patrolman. This passed unanimously as well. They were sworn in by the mayor.

Next up was reports from standing committee members the night flowed smoothly other than a few objections of the changing of zoning by the potato cellars, a few members of the council Don Hand and Dan Nye feel that by placing this zone on the businesses it could lead to them being put out of business in the future. Council Person Hand asked the City Attorney if this constituted a taking of the business. She felt that it did not. Council person Graham stated they would be grandfathered in and it would not affect the future sale of the business. The main problem with the C2 zoning is it will not allow a business to expand and change the footprint of it. Mr Hand also stated they felt the business owners were bullied into accepting this by certain homeowners who knew what they were going to live by at the time they purchased the homes in the area.

Another item up for discussion was the waiving of the $75 application and permit fee to Engine 18 and if this had been done in the past. Council person Don Hand stated they do a lot for the community but has this ever been done in the past for other nonprofits. The council could not name anyone in the past who they have done this for. The votes to drop the fee passed unanimously.
