FWP seeks public input on elk management issues

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks will be hosting a series of public meetings this summer and fall to gather ideas about local elk management issues and population objectives. Meeting places, times and details are posted on the FWP website.

FWP began developing a revised statewide Elk Management Plan in 2020. The first step in the process was to convene a citizen's group to develop guiding principles for revising the plan. The next step is to gather input on current elk population objectives and other local challenges that could be addressed in the revised Elk Management Plan.

A public comment period will be open from June 20 to Oct. 15. Beginning June 20, comments can be submitted online or emailed to FWPWLD@mt.gov.

Input gathered during the local process will be used with information obtained at the statewide scale to develop a draft Elk Management Plan.

Once the draft Elk Management Plan has been developed and released, there will be additional public comment opportunities offered.

National Atlatl Master Highlights Museum's Grand Opening Activities Day

National champion atlatl thrower and educator, Jim Ray, is highlighting the activities day as part of the grand opening events of the Beaverhead County Museum's new permanent exhibit Indigenous Peoples of Southwest Montana: An Archaeological History. Family fun and educational activities are scheduled on Saturday June 25. The new exhibit housed in the old Union Pacific Depot will open and is free to the public with hourly docent tours by the exhibit's curator, Ron Loge beginning at 9 AM.

Local flintknapper, Eldon Weekly, will demonstrate stone tool making. Bison hide processing will be shown by Billie Maxwell. Participants will get to try their hand at scraping a fresh bison hide and learn how to work the hide using traditional methods. Twine making using the stem of a local shrub, dogbane, will be taught. Steve Morehouse will teach fire making without matches. He will be cooking up beavertail and bison tongue for your culinary experience. The atlatl, the important weapon used by all our ancestors, is a throwing board that launches a long dart, which in experienced hands, is accurate to 40 yards and can be thrown 200 yards. It was used to bring down game of all species including ice-age mammoths. Participants will have the opportunity to try their hand at sticking a mammoth target with a real atlatl.

At 1 PM Carl Davis, Dillon native and former regional archaeologist for the US Forest Service will present a talk, "Archaeological History of Beaverhead County," providing an overview of the basis of the new exhibit.

Two guided tours of the nearby Wheat Bison Jump will be led by Davis. Transportation to the site will be by bus. Departure from the Depot will be at 9 AM and 3 PM. This is a ticketed event ($5 per adult, children 13 and under are free). Call 406-683-5027 to reserve a seat by 6-28-2022.

Southwestern Montana News

The Montana Cutting Horse Association will be holding a competition going all through the weekend June 9 thru the 12. The competition will be held at the Montana Center for Horsemanship. Admission to the event is free of charge.

Horse cutting is defined as a western-style equestrian competition in which a horse and rider work together before a judge or panel of judges to demonstrate the horse's athleticism and ability to handle cattle. Modern competition utilizes a 2+1/2 minute performance, called a "run." Each contestant is assisted by four helpers: two are designated as turnback riders, who help to keep cattle from running off to the back of the arena, the other two are designated as herd holders to keep the cattle bunched together and prevent potential strays from escaping into the work area. If this sounds like an event you would like to check out just go past the hospital on Highway 91 South and follow the signs. If you are looking for something to do check out this unique sport happening in our community. We will post results when they are available.

Bowhunter Education class in Three Forks

Volunteer instructors will host a Bowhunter Education course in Three Forks this month.

The class is scheduled from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on June 25 and 26. Class will be held at Three Forks High School, 210 East Neal St., in the tech education classroom across the parking lot from the football field.

Students will need to pick up a course manual from the Bozeman office of Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks, 1400 S. 19th Ave., and complete it prior to class.

Pre-registration is required. Students can sign up by visiting register-ed.com/events/view/180104.

All first-time bowhunters in Montana must complete a Bowhunter Education course or show proof of a prior year's archery license from another state or province. All classes are free. Students must be at least 12 years old by Jan. 16, 2023, to take a Bowhunter Education class.

Hunter and Bowhunter Education classes are taught by skilled volunteer instructors and offer hands-on learning experiences, mentoring opportunities and the ability for students to ask questions of experienced hunters. Students learn how to handle hunting equipment safely, basic survival skills, hunting ethics, wildlife management, game identification, landowner-hunter relations, and Montana hunting laws and regulations.

For more information about Hunter and Bowhunter Education in Montana, visit fwp.mt.gov/education/hunter-education.
