fwp.mt.gov/stateparks/lewis-and-clark-caverns.July 1 through 4On Friday, July 1, the park will welcome Franco Littlelight to speak about Native American History. Littlelight's presentation will begin at 8 p.m. in the campground amphitheater.Join park ranger Ramona Radonich on Saturday, July 2, for a closer look at the skulls of several animals that live in the park.
This presentation will be at 8 p.m. in the campground amphitheater.
It has been said that form follows function, and a study of skulls gives credence to this statement. In this talk, visitors will discover what different forms of skulls can teach about how animals function.
Visitors will have the opportunity to look straight up the nose of a bear skull and deep into the eye orbits of a cougar. Visitors will also have the opportunity to touch the furs that protect these animals.On Sunday, July 3, park ranger Radonich will lead a hike and discussion on some of the park's smallest wildlife: insects. While all bugs are insects, not all insects are bugs, Radonich says. Visitors will learn why this is and much more about the park's six-legged critters.
This program will begin at 1 p.m. at the main visitor center.BITTERROOT TRADING POSTJ.D. PAPE

Dillon Cubs Baseball

On Thursday June 23 the Dillon Cubs took on the Missoula Mavericks at Ray Lynch Park. The double header was opened up with a strong showing by the Cubs in game 1. The Cubs pulled a 5 to 2 win in game one.

Game two would see the Mavericks hold the score closer throughout the entire game. The wind was blowing as usual that led to some deep hits into the outfield. By the end of the game the Cubs pulled another win in with an 8 to 7 score.

Several rivers in Stillwater County reopen June 28 to recreational use

Following conversations with officials in Stillwater County and area utility companies, Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks is opening the Yellowstone River from Columbus to Buffalo Mirage Fishing Access Site, the Stillwater River, East Rosebud Creek to Rosebud Creek, and Rosebud Creek to the confluence with the Stillwater River. These rivers and creeks reopen June 28.

The area still has many hazards that could be life threatening including large log jams in side channels. For example, there is a log jam in a large flood plain side channel on river right starting at the downstream end of the BLM parcel upstream of White Bird Fishing Access Site. There is also a pipeline downstream of the Absaroka Fishing Access Site about 0.75 miles along North Stillwater Road.

An 8-inch gas line is exposed upstream of the Jeffries Landing FAS. NorthWestern Energy evacuated the gas from the line and it is not being used. Recreationists may see the orange and yellow line and should avoid it.

While these are known examples, there may be bridge decks, structures and other debris being exposed daily. Recreationists should use caution when deciding whether to float.

Some fishing access sites are open to walk-in only. Port a potties will be delivered to some sites, such as Jeffries Landing FAS, in the coming days to provide temporary latrines while work is done on the vault latrines.
