DOG PARK - EAGLE SCOUT PROJECT NEEDS YOUR HELP

Tyler Caron is working on his Eagle Scout Project. He would like to help our community by building a dog park by the ice skating rink and Chris Kraft Park. He is reaching out in hopes of getting help with fencing and guidance on installation. The youth have to do the work themselves, but can have guidance on how to do it. The park will be a 70' x 140' area with a double gate entrance for the safety of our pets. If you or someone you know can help him, Please contact him at 941-303-7557 or at greensniper927@gmail.com

Any donations or contributions are greatly appreciated. If there is any extra money it will be donated to the Beaverhead County Animal Shelter when the project is complete. You can make donations at Womack's Printing Place for Tyler to buy materials for the fence, concrete, doggie waste bag post and signs.

The Farmer's Fight

Bryce Angell

The ringside seats were filling up. The fight was near at hand.
Onlookers would be cheering but, did they really understand?
The fighters climbed into the ring. Excitement filled the air.
Spectators would be betting on whose punches were swung fair.
The announcer hollered, "In this corner, farmer fights for life.
And standing there beside him is his long supportive wife."
While all the crowd was cheering. The announcer made his call.
"In this corner Mother Nature, she'll be fighting for a fall.
Then after Mother Nature we've got fuel on the list.
Then money with her interest. They will fight knuckle to fist."
The fight was set for three long rounds. Mother Nature jumped right in!
She didn't wait to hear the bell, 'cuz she was there to win.
The farmer came out slugging but was held up in red tape.
Mother Nature always broke the rules. She left him no escape.
Mother Nature spread her killing frost. Then slammed him with her hail.
When all at once her weather stopped. She promptly turned to tail.
Had someone up there, higher reeled old Mother Nature in?
And possibly chastised her. Saying, "Don't always have to win."
The farmer won the first round. He was feeling mighty blessed.
Round 2 was 'bout to push him, put his farming skills to test.
The ringside bell was dinging. So, the fuel rolled right on in.
The farmer jumped up from his stool. Said, "Let the round begin."
The fuel was not forgiving. Her high prices would not stop.
The farmer lost Round 2. Would it cost him all his crop?
Money and the interest were a formidable Round 3.
The farmer fought with all his might but couldn't pay the fee.
But the banker stopped the fight. He said, "I know this farmer well.
We'll carry him a year in hopes he doesn't have to sell."
The farmer won the match that night. He represents his peers.
And if we want to eat let's hope they fight for many years.
Each year the forces join to stop the farmer grow his crop. But he will work and fight for all he's worth. Ain't never giving up!

Shepherd man sentenced for poaching four deer, leaving parts to waste

A Shepherd man lost his hunting privileges for 16 years and will pay fines and restitution exceeding $6,000 after pleading guilty to 16 state and federal charges of poaching mule deer and leaving some parts at a federal recreation area.

Brayden Reed, 19, pleaded guilty in Yellowstone County Justice Court to four counts of unlawful possession of deer, two counts of wasting game, three counts of hunting during a closed season, two counts of unlawful use of equipment, two counts of hunting without a license and one count of killing more than a limit of deer. He also pleaded guilty in federal court to the crimes of littering and resource damage.

In state court he was fined $4,405 and ordered to pay the state $2,000 in restitution. He also lost his privilege to hunt in Montana for 16 years. Because of reciprocal agreements between states, he will not be able to hunt legally anywhere in most of the country. In addition, he will pay $400 on the federal charges. Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks game warden Connor Langel, who investigated the crimes, also confiscated the rifle Reed used to kill the deer.

Reed was convicted of spotlighting and shooting two mule deer bucks on Oct. 2 and taking them to the federal Bureau of Land Management's Ah-Nei Recreation Area, where he removed antlers and backstraps, then left the rest of the animals to waste. Also that evening, a live tree was cut down and burned and numerous beverage cans were scattered in the recreation area. Damage to the recreation area was investigated by Bureau of Land Management ranger Jeff Herriford.

He is also convicted of spotlighting and shooting a third deer on private property, where he did not have permission to trespass on Oct. 8 and taking it to the Ah-Nei Recreation Area, where the backstraps were removed and the rest was left to waste.

Reed did not have a Montana deer license at the time of the poaching incidents, which occurred before the general deer season opened on Oct. 23.

Langel later found a fourth deer that Reed had killed illegally.

The case originated with information called in to 1-800-TIP-MONT, the FWP call-in line to report crimes involving fish, wildlife, parks and other natural resources. Anyone with possible information about such crimes is encouraged to visit https://myfwp.mt.gov/fwpPub/tipmont to provide details or call the FWP violation reporting hot line at 1-800-TIP-

The antlers from four poached mule deer and the firearm used to kill them were confiscated from Brayden Reed by FWP game wardens.

ATTENTION FOLKS WHO USE THE TRAIL SYSTEM AROUND THE "M"

Would you help me look for my kitty Dexter? He hasn't come home for over a week. He is a great hunter and is often up on the hill or in the area around the river close to our house on Cliff Road. He has short shiny black hair with white feet, belly and some on his face. He's a neutered male and doesn't usually make friends with strangers easily. If you think you've found or seen him, will you call me? I would sure like to know where he is, alive or not.
