UMW and Montana Center for Horsemanship to Host Natural Horsemanship Conference

"The Natural Horsemanship Revolution" will be held at the Montana Center for Horsemanship and the University of Montana Western in Dillon, Montana, September 8-10, 2022.

Focusing on a global understanding of Natural Horsemanship, this conference will feature a wide range of clinics, presentations, keynotes, award-winning films and leaders in the field with a goal of sharing knowledge to advance the horse-human relationship.

Featured speakers include:

Buck Brannaman
Ty Murray
Dr. Glenn Blodgett
Olympian James Wofford
Breeder Stan Weaver of Weaver Quarter Horses
Kansas Carradine, an international equestrian and performer
Dr. Stephen Peters
Natural Horsemanship trainers and teachers from Haras de la Cense in France
Manu and Caroline Godin
Dr. Ann Perkins, founder of Anthrozoology
Filmmaker Stephen Latham
Film Producer Bud Force

The conference will include an in-depth look at saddles and feature a raffle to win a custom saddle, presented by Contour Saddles and Natural Horseman Saddles.

Rodeo icon, Ty Murray, a Natural Horsemanship advocate, will be part of the saddle program.

"My horses' comfort is important to me. When they are comfortable, they are going to be better physically, mentally and emotionally. I sure don't want to walk around all day in boots that dig in or rub a blister. The design of the underside of the saddle and the interface (pad) is the most important part. Education is key," said Murray.

In addition to a deep dive into saddles and saddle fit, the conference will feature renowned hoof care professional, Chris Mason.

"Current leaders in the hoof care profession have developed a fully integrated approach, which beyond the understanding of the barefoot horse includes a sophisticated array of protocols that include modern plastic shoes, dietary protocols, improved diagnostic methods and a holistic understanding of the entire horse, which has substantial effects on the feet," said Mason, who will demonstrate and share extensive evidence-based knowledge and research at the conference.

"Key to this conference, which includes award-winning films from EQUUS International Film Festival, is the development of a blueprint for advancing every aspect of the horse-human relationship, to create happier horses and riders, and to establish a new vision for the future," said Montana Center for Horsemanship Director of Development, Janet Rose.

The Equine Studies Department at the University of Montana Western offers the nation's only Bachelor of Science degree in Natural Horsemanship with options in management, psychology, science and instruction, and was ranked among the "Best Equestrian Colleges" by ThoughtCo.com. To learn more about UMW, please call 877-683-7331 or visit www.umwestern.edu.

The Montana Center for Horsemanship (MCH) is the first and only equine center in the United States that is devoted expressly to promoting 'Natural Horsemanship.' With its stables, arenas, riding areas, and instructors, the center serves as the primary facility and progressive teaching resource for Montana Western's Natural Horsemanship BS curriculum.

The MCH teaches the 'La Cense Method,' which was developed under William Kriegel, owner of Haras de la Cense in France. Mr. Kriegel is also co-founder of MCH, and he has been involved in Natural Horsemanship for many years. The La Cense Method is a progressive, step-by-step process that blends the best of traditional horsemanship training with the art of training and riding horses—all in a manner that works with a horse's behavior, instincts, and personality. Taking a positive and respectful approach, the La Cense Method gradually builds trust, and frees the horses to be confident in all they are asked to perform.

Drive-in movie night in Dillon

Dark skies around Dillon held some unfamiliar lighting Friday evening when a drive in movie returned to Beaverhead County. The Be the Change 406 Youth Coalition sponsored their third outdoor movie night by projecting "Sing II" onto a special screen attached to the back wall of the Town and Country Food building.

BTC youth provided complementary popcorn and refreshments to each of the roughly two dozen cars jostling for space in the back parking lot. In some cars moms, dads, and grandparents settled down their eager passengers, ranging from tots to pre-teens, and repeatedly answered the question: "Is it dark yet?" Other carloads with teen and young adults patiently waited for the movie while checking mobile phones for how long it takes to get dark after sunset or "astronomical twilight" time. About 50 people attended.

Adult BTC Coalition members assisted by providing parking directions for optimal viewing, technology assistance (car radios carried the audio), and mounting the large white tarp, aka screen, to Town and Country's back wall.

"It was definitely a joint effort by all", BTC Executive Board member Charise Lemelin said. "Kids were engaged and parents were happy and thankful."

Most importantly, there's more to come, she said. As it starts to get darker earlier it's a great option to do more drive in movie nights. Those interested are encouraged to learn about the next movie night by regularly checking the group's website at: www.bethechange406.org and selecting "youth coalition" from the main menu.

Girl Scout Cookie Pops

These Girl Scout Cookie Pops are fun and easy to make, and quick to disappear. Yield: 9 Cookie Pops

Prep: 45 minutes
Cook: 7 minutes
Total: 52 minutes

Ingredients

For the Cookies and Caramel Filling:

- 18 Trefoil Girl Scout Cookies or your favorite cookies
- 9 pieces caramel candies (unwrapped)

For the Candy Coating:

- 6 tablespoons candy sprinkles
- 6 ounces of vanilla candy coating about 3 squares of Almond Bark

Equipment

- 9 Lollipop sticks

Instructions

For the Cookies and Caramel Filling:

- On a large plate, lay 9 cookies front side down so that the flat part of the cookie is facing up. Set aside the remaining 9 cookies.
- Set one caramel (unwrapped) on top of each cookie on the plate. Try to put the caramel right in the middle of the cookie.
- Transfer 3 or 4 of the cookies with the caramel candy on them to a smaller plate that is safe to put in the microwave.

Heat the caramel (along with the cookie it's sitting on) for about 20 seconds in the microwave.

The idea is to heat the caramel just enough so it's soft to the touch but not runny.

- Remove from the microwave and carefully poke a lollipop stick in the middle of the caramel.
- Poke the lollipop stick into one of the sides of the caramel rather than through the top of the caramel.
- Then, take one of the remaining cookies that was previously set aside and lay it on top of the warm caramel with the decorative side of the cookie up.

• Gently push the middle part of the top cookie down to make a "caramel sandwich cookie".

Make sure that the caramel is warm enough so that both the bottom and top cookies are sticking to it.

• Repeat this process for the remaining cookies.

For the Candy Coating:

• Add the candy coating to a microwave safe small bowl. Heat the candy coating in the microwave for 30 second bursts until it's melted, making sure to stir after each 30 second interval.

• Once the candy coating is melted, dip the cookies (one cookie pop at a time) in it making sure the entire cookie is covered.

• Hold the cookie by the stick upside down over the candy coating bowl so that the excess coating drips off.

• Right after dipping the cookie pop in the coating, dip it in the candy sprinkles. Use your fingers or a spoon to put the candy toppings all around the candy coating so the cookie pop is completely covered with candies.

The candy sprinkles need to be added right after dipping the cookie in the coating so that the sprinkles stick nicely to all sides of the cookie pop.

• Then carefully put the cookie pop stick side down in a small drinking glass or mug to let the candy coating cool and set.

• Repeat the candy coating process for the remaining cookies. Reheat the candy coating that's in the bowl as needed.

• Serve after the candy coating is set (about 15 minutes).

TIP:

Right after dipping the cookie pop in the coating, dip it in the candy sprinkles. Use your fingers or a spoon to put the candy toppings all around the candy coating so the cookie pop is completely covered with candies.

The candy sprinkles need to be added right after dipping the cookie in the coating so that the sprinkles stick nicely to all sides of the cookie pop.
