Saturday Cubs Baseball

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

It was a busy day Saturday at Ray Lynch Park as the Beaverhead Little League was hosting tournament play and the Dillon Cubs would be playing their second to last home game of the season. The first game would seem to go head to head, each inning being scoreless until Connor Vezina stepped up to the plate to send one out of the park, giving the Cubs a one point win in game one. Congratulations Connor on your first home run from Cubs field and bringing home
the win for game one.

In game two the Helena reps would come back from the loss to take a win with the final score being 6 to 2.

UPDATE: Multi-Vehicle Incident near Hardin

The Montana Highway Patrol's investigation into Friday's multi-vehicle incident near Hardin will continue for days to come. We are releasing the following details:

- Six fatalities have been confirmed of individuals in three different vehicles. They were all Montanans, three were minors and three were adults and the youngest was three years old.
- Eleven individuals were injured, three have critical injuries.
- All injured individuals were initially transported to Big Horn County Memorial Hospital by ground ambulance since air ambulances were not available due to weather. The most serious injuries were then transported to Billings for more advanced care.
- In total, twenty-nine individuals were involved. The vehicles involved were from nine U.S. states and one Canadian province.

The identity of those that perished will be released by the Big Horn County Coroner.

The investigation continues to support that a sudden dust storm caused the incident. MHP offers the following tips for driving in a dust storm or low-visibility weather event:

Check traffic around your vehicle and begin to slow down.

- When beginning to experience low visibility, pull off the road as soon as possible.
- Look for an area where you can safely pull off the paved portion of the road completely. Avoid stopping in the travel or emergency lanes. Exit the highway if able.
- Turn off all vehicle lights and emergency flashers.
- Set your emergency brake and take your foot off the brake.
- Stay in your vehicle and make sure everyone is wearing your seatbelts.
- High-profile vehicle drivers should have a heightened awareness of changing weather conditions and reduce speed when necessary.

CAN YOU HELP - DOG PARK - EAGLE SCOUT PROJECT

Tyler Caron is working on his Eagle Scout Project. He would like to help our community by building a dog park by the ice skating rink and Chris Kraft Park. He is reaching out in hopes of getting help with fencing and guidance on installation. The youth have to do the work themselves, but can have guidance on how to do it. The park will be a 70' x 140' area with a double gate entrance for the safety of our pets. If you or someone you know can help him, Please contact him at 941-303-7557 or at greensniper927@gmail.com

Any donations or contributions are greatly appreciated. If there is any extra money it will be donated to the Beaverhead County Animal Shelter when the project is complete. You can make donations at Womack's Printing Place for Tyler to buy materials for the fence, concrete, doggie waste bag post and signs.

The Hayin' Crew

Bryce Angell

I've listened to my father tell of how they put up hay.

They stacked it loose, then tromped it down. That was the only way. He said, "We had a hayin' crew of ten to twelve good men.

Those country boys weren't scared of work.

That's all they knew back then."

The crew would claim the bunkhouse, where the bunks were stacked to three. If you didn't snore your chance of sleep was zero guaranteed.

The men would get an early start, but first came ham and eggs.

"They ate a lot," my father said. "They all had hollow legs."

Each morning grandma cooked. She'd fry three dozen eggs or so.

She said, "A hearty breakfast keeps a body on the go."

The work was nothing new to them, and now it's never seen.

They worked so well together like a finely tuned machine.

Someone was always kidding 'cuz they loved to joke around.

But they knew how far to push it. Might get pounded in the ground.

At twelve o'clock the workers stopped to rest and get renewed.

The horses ate their bags of oats. The men wolfed down their food.

They'd take an hour, then back to work right up to supper time, then line up at the water trough to wash off dirt and grime.

There were no skimpy appetites. Those men sure loved to eat.

At night the cook out-did himself, with chunks of beefy meat.

They'd head back to the bunkhouse. Some played checkers up till dark.

But most of them were sound asleep before night made its mark.

It wasn't just about the hay. 'Twas camaraderie.

But those hayin' days have changed, I'd say, from pure necessity.

And now I look out in the fields and watch a farmer hay.

So much is automated. They say we've come a long, long way.

He'll climb down off his tractor, take a gaze out on the crop.

And thinks about those men who'd work so hard they'd nearly drop.

He'll even start to wonder, thinking 'bout those days of old when men would rather work than play. He says,

"I guess God broke the mold."

But I'll bet he'll tell a story, when his hayin' days are through, of how he put the hay up with his dang near one-man crew.

Artist Reception at Tendoy Fine Art

Saturday, July 23rd, Tendoy Fine Art Gallery in Dillon will honor two of their artists with an afternoon reception from 2 to 5 pm. The works of Jesse Scofield, metalsmith, and Linnet Long, photographer, will be featured. Refreshments will be served and both artists will be there to answer questions about their artistic process.

Long is an avid lover of detail, whose "mission is to bring into focus what people might normally pass by. Photography is my medium of choice because I can capture true-to-life images which provide intricate details to the viewer, capture moments of "extreme beauty", or give a look into moments of history." Her photographs, sometimes printed onto wood, offer viewers an intimacy that is skillful and sensitive.

"Metal is clay" says Scofield "something I heard a long time ago. My journey with metal has shown me this is true. Thru fire and force I create the world around us in immovable metal." His metal pieces are diverse in subject matter and range from decorative sculptures to beautiful hand wrought jewelry. With elegant detail, he explores nature, animals, and birds. His craftsmanship has an oldworld quality that suggests the mystery of ancient metalwork.

1. Place the cookies in a food processor, slightly breaking them up as you put them in. Grind until the cookies are fine, even crumbs.
 2. Add brown sugar, vanilla, and cinnamon into the food processor. Mix thoroughly.
 3. Add oil and milk, one TBS at a time, mixing thoroughly in between each turn. Mix until you receive a peanut butter-like consistency.
 4. Enjoy! Place the cookie butter into a sealable container and keep refrigerated.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, Lewis and Clark first visited this area in 1805. The Lewis and Clark Expedition had a lasting impact on regional and national history given its important observations and mapping of the country, accumulation of scientific specimens, and the enthusiastic descriptions of a profitable resource – fur.¹ In the next 50 years, fur trappers and traders came to acquire beaver and other furbearers along the rivers and tributaries of the region. Among these men were John Colter and George Duillard, former Lewis and Clark Expedition members.²

WHEREAS, in 1862, gold was discovered on Grasshopper Creek which gave rise to the settlement of Bannack. This discovery of gold had a lasting impact on Beaverhead County by bringing in bankers, merchants, townsite development, stage coach operators and other entrepreneurs to the region. There were several mining claims in the Beaverhead Canyon, including the Dillon Stone Quarry Placer and the Silver Bow Quarry Placer, both claimed by Joseph Harper in 1885. Rock from these quarries was used in many of the homes in and around Dillon.

WHEREAS, the Utah and Northern Railroad (later called the Union Pacific) branch line approached southwest Montana's mining towns from Utah and Idaho in 1880. Enterprising businessmen, including Benjamin Franklin "B.F." White, teamed up to purchase the Deacon Ranch at the confluence of Blacktail Deer Creek and the Beaverhead River in Montana, and planned to sell the railroad a right of way through the property. At the same time, they platted the townsite of what would become Dillon, Montana. The townsite partners platted the streets and lots, and completed the ranch purchase on Monday, September 13, 1880 at 11:30 am. By the end of the lot auction that afternoon, nearly all the prime locations had been sold. The railroad set up its winter camp in the locale.³

WHEREAS, within just a few months, nearly 300 people inhabited the new town. First a string of wooden false-front buildings fronted the tracks, and within a few years more substantial buildings, enterprises, social venues, and civic institutions were in place. To ensure the town's ongoing survival once the railroad moved north, the city founders rallied political support to move the Beaverhead County seat from Bannack to Dillon during the Spring of 1881.

WHEREAS, the City of Dillon was incorporated in May 1885.⁴ The local citizenry elected B.F. White mayor, and he and the city's six aldermen "labored almost incessantly for the improvement of the streets and any other changes which would add to the city."⁵

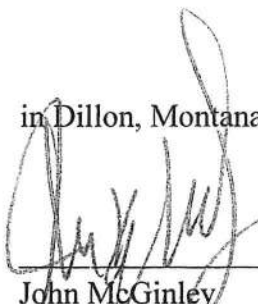

WHEREAS, Dillon continued to grow and develop due to the railroad and the cattle and sheep industries. The Montana Normal School, now the University of Montana-Western, was established in 1892, further establishing Dillon as a regional community.

WHEREAS, Dillon continues to thrive due to the agricultural industry, tourism, the university, and its outstanding citizens.

NOW THEREFORE, I, John McGinley, Mayor of the City of Dillon, in the State of Montana, do hereby proclaim July 22nd through July 24th as in Dillon, Montana and I urge all citizens to celebrate Dillon and its proud heritage.

Founded in 315 BC, it is the country's cultural capital with ancient buildings, top museums, festivals, cultural events and a key political, economic, military, and transportation hub throughout its twenty-three centuries of history.

Classical Greek antiquity (8th century BC and the 6th century AD) King Phillip of Macedonia, and his son Alexander the Great ruled the area from the city.

The Roman Empire (27 B.C. to 476) Thessaloniki was a co-capital with Rome in the later years of the empire and the Edict of Thessalonica made Christianity the state religion of the Roman Empire was signed here.

Early Jewish and Christian History, the city housed a major Jewish community until the middle of WWII, and it was one of the first places where Christianity was preached when Apostle Paul visited the city in 50/51 AD.

Byzantine Empire (395 until 1453) also called Byzantium, was the eastern half of the Roman Empire, it survived over a thousand years after the western half dissolved. Thessaloniki has been called the "co-reigning" city of this empire, alongside Constantinople.

Muslim Ottoman Empire, (1299-1922) Thessaloniki had more than thirty-five minarets and the White Tower of Thessaloniki, a symbol of the city, is an Ottoman building.

Modern Greece, (1821-today) Learn about the history of wars, monarchy, dictatorship, military regime, and the self-governing country we see today.

In addition to Thessaloniki, the tour will play out in stunning locations throughout the Macedonian plain, highlighting its rich history and beauty. Participants will be immersed in archeological sites, art, culture, religion, and nature. Tour beautiful villages, churches and ruins reflecting the best of its multicultural heritage.

Stand in awe of natural wonders including majestic peaks, gorges, national parks, rivers valleys, wetlands, lakes, islands, and a biodiverse ecosystem of hundreds of flora and fauna.
