Coleman Harrlie Gilman

On Monday, July 18, 2022, Coleman Harrlie Gilman, beloved son, brother, and friend, passed away at the young age of 19. He leaves behind his father and mother Charlie and Kaycee Gilman, siblings Molly, Quinn, and Max, grandparents Dennis and Susan Nelson and Les and Donna Gilman, great grandmother Sara Dunham, and many aunts, uncles, cousins, and friends.

He was preceded in death by his younger brother Paden. Coleman's passing brings deep grief to those who loved him, and his presence in our lives will be forever missed.

Coleman was joyfully welcomed into the world on September 11, 2002. As the first grandchild to grandparents on both sides, he was the light of many lives right from the start. From a very early age, Coleman brought joy and laughter to all those around him. When his younger brother Paden passed peacefully from this world on June 27, 2005, it was Coleman's joyful spirit that helped to sustain family through that time of difficult grief. Coleman's ever-present smile and innate playfulness made him a favorite of younger cousins, to whom he was a treasured friend and role model. As the oldest of all his cousins and siblings, Coleman was at ease with grown-ups and children alike. Always willing to give piggy-back rides or under-ducks on the swing to the younger ones, Coleman was just as happy helping his Pa on the ranch or assisting Grandpa Les in his house-building project.

Coleman had a strong work ethic, and could often be found changing irrigation pipe, chasing cows, fixing fence or helping around the ranch in general. At the time of his death, Coleman was employed by R.E. Miller in Dillon, where he enjoyed using his skills among other things as a one-armed welder, (his left arm was in a cast due to a recent injury), and was looking forward to earning his CDL. Coleman's love of ranch work inspired him to pursue a degree in Agricultural Technology at MSU, Havre, where he recently completed his freshman year of college. With his adventurous spirit and outgoing personality, Coleman easily made many friends wherever he went with whom he enjoyed water skiing, camping, fishing, skiing, exploring Montana, or just hanging out wherever they were. His ultimate goal was to return to the family ranch and continue the legacy of his father, grandfather, and great-grandfather, each of whom had the privilege of working alongside Coleman during his lifetime.

Coleman was a dedicated student who earned multiple scholarships and academic accolades during his high school career. He was a proud Sheridan Panther, playing basketball and football. However, his particular area of passion and expertise was in the Ag-Ed classes where he often pursued challenging and innovative projects, including a drift trike and wood splitter.

Where are We Mark

Bryce Angell

Some people have an already built-in navigational ability. They seem to always know which way camp is and the best and fastest way to get there.

My father had a navigational ability that kept us from getting lost and out of harm's way. Unfortunately, he did not pass that trait on to me. If I can't see the sun, I am easily confused about direction. Just ask my boys. They know better than to ask me which way is North.

A couple of years ago, we'd been riding all day in the Utah desert. The month was late February. The day temperatures were comfortable, but the nights were colder than blue blazes. It was afternoon and close to three o'clock. We still had a considerable distance to get back to camp. The problem was most of us did not know the fastest way back to camp and were considering going back the way we came. Returning the same way we came would take hours and the horses would give out as well.

There were ten of us riding that day. One of the riders, Mark Albertson, pointed out that if we went in a southernly direction we would make it back to camp in just over an hour. Some of us have ridden with Mark for years and have learned of his ability to get you where you need to be. On occasion the ride might be a little sketchy, but we always got to camp in one piece. Peter Cannon, who also trusts Mark's abilities, and I headed back with Mark. The other seven felt more confident taking a different direction.

We headed out at a fairly good clip. The trail was marked and easy to follow for a short distance. Then it seemed the trail disappeared, and we were winging it. Mark never deviated from his sense of direction. The countryside was so unfamiliar that Peter and I thought we were lost. If you think you are lost, you usually are. Not in this case.

Within forty-five minutes we started to notice familiar territory. It was only a short time until we rode into camp, dead tired but ecstatic to be there. Mark was extremely capable at getting us back to camp safely and before dark.

The other riders who split off from us rode into camp an hour later, worn out and ready for a bowl of Dutch oven stew.

So, why do some people have a built-in navigational ability while others, like me, get lost? I'm sure, in the future, I'll be nagging that question, after some unknowing cowboy comes up to me, on a cloudy day, and says, "Do you know where camp is?"

THANK YOU, DILLON JAYCEES!

We would like to thank the hardworking Dillon Jaycees for the wonderful tribute to our loved one, Mike Marsh. Mike loved being part of the Jaycees and most especially the demo derby. We know he was there in spirit riding along with his best friend, "Red" Morast, on their final escapade together.
The plaques presented to us were so special. Words cannot express our gratitude in honoring Mike.
