Common Sense?

By: MJ

As I have grown older, I have found that it is easy to upset others, however impossible to please all. I am responsible for what I say, and not what you heard. Question: Where did Common Sense go? It appears to be like a deodorant. Those that need it the most never use it.

Examples of common sense disappearing with the new age. We go out on internet and look things up, ask Alexa or Google and take what they tell us as the gospel. People let Covid brain washing, take away (freedoms), watched the economy deteriorate, participated in dividing the people, families and jobs destroyed without even questioning the facts… Let's not forget the billions of new government dollars printed and passed out. Those dollars were not free. The government will take the money from you in some form such as taxes or another form to cover their debt. Many turned the fear of the epidemic into an income increasing machine by investing in the stocks of vaccine companies. Note: The vaccine companies made $60± billion a year selling mandatory vaccines.

The Green New Deal is another issue where we have let our common sense go by the wayside. Let's look at what people did in the yester-years to be GREEN. 1) In years gone by, paper bags were used, and those bags were repurposed as garbage bags, schoolbook covers that insured the public-school property would not be defaced by scribbling and artwork. Paper bags did not end up in the oceans destroying and killing. At the end of a paper bags life, it may have lite garbage barrels, the campfires, fireplaces, cook stoves… 2) Folks washed and hung diapers, sheets and other clothing items on lines and did not dry them in an energy-gobbling machine burning electricity. 3) People walked up stairs to offices & stores (no elevators), walked to grocery store in

Two North Idaho WBB Players Sign With Western

The Montana Western head women's basketball coach Lindsay Woolley announced the signing of two additions to the 2022-23 roster. Cardinals Payton Hagy and Maggie Graves of North Idaho College join the Bulldogs for the upcoming season.

Payton Hagy is a five-foot-five guard from Ephrata, Wash. During her freshman year at North Idaho, Hagy played in a total of 19 games and scored a total of 178 points on the season. She averaged 9.4 points per game and was her team's leading scorer. She also picked up 20 steals and 46 rebounds. A 2021 graduate of Ephrata High School, Hagy was a four-year varsity starter on her basketball team. She received three all-conference nominations, was named team MVP three years in a row, and became one of the top 20 scorers in Ephrata High School girls' basketball history. She averaged 17 points per game her senior year, as well as 6.8 rebounds and four steals per game. Hagy also participated in golf during her high school career and was a regional champion her senior year. Payton is the daughter of Dale and Rhonda Hagy and plans on continuing to pursue her degree in elementary education.

Maggie Graves joins the Bulldogs from Eureka, Mont. Graves is a five-foot-ten forward that averaged 5.6 points per game last season for North Idaho. She scored a total of 107 points and picked up 103 total rebounds for the Cardinals. She also tallied 15 steals, 17 assists, and four blocks. A 2020 graduate of Lincoln County High School, Graves was a four-year starter for her team. She was named to the all-state basketball team both her junior and senior years, along with being named to the District 7B all-conference team three times. She was named to the academic all-state team all four seasons. Graves also played four years of varsity volleyball and was awarded with two all-conference honors and an all-state recognition. Maggie joins the long list of UMW alumni family members as she is now the sixteenth member of her family to become a Bulldog. Maggie is the daughter of Joel and Leslie Graves and plans to continue to pursue her degree in business.

LONG SHOT

By "Swede" Troedsson

About 30 years ago, I decided to go elk hunting in Riley Canyon, located in the Blacktail Mountains, southeast of Dillon, MT. My plan was to arrive at a saddle on the south side of the drainage at daybreak. My hope was to intercept elk being chased up from the flats below.

It had snowed about six inches the night before, so I had to chain up the rear tires on my Ford Bronco in order to reach the edge of the timber. I could see that there were fresh tire tacks ahead of me. Chaining up put me about ten minutes behind.

There was a truck parked at the edge of the timber when I arrived there. I followed the hunter's tracks. It appeared the hunter was headed for the same saddle!

About ten minutes before I was planning to arrive at the saddle, daylight was starting to break, and I heard a shot coming from the saddle. Dang!

When I arrived at the saddle, I could see where the hunter had sat down in the snow to make his LONG shot south across a small drainage. The hunter was approaching an elk he had downed on the other side of the drainage.

Intending to assist the hunter dress out his elk, I followed his tracks around the head of the drainage, and approached the hunter from above. The hunter was bent over tagging his elk, his rifle propped up on a bi-pod, and never heard me approach him. I quietly placed my pack in the snow, opened it up, and pulled out a thermos of hot chocolate. After pouring a cup of hot chocolate, I said "Congratulations!" Startled, the hunter turned around to see me grinning and extending him a cup of hot chocolate.

I helped the hunter dress out his elk. The hunter was a bar tender from Butte. He had shot the elk from a distance of about 700 yards with his .264 Winchester Magnum rifle.

The hunter informed me he returned each year to hunt elk from the same saddle. He knew the distance to where he would most likely intercept an elk, and sighted his rifle prior to hunting season on a discarded refrigerator located at that distance.

He would return the next day with a horse to skid the elk down to the flats.

Montana Western Welcomes Students to Orientation and Convocation

The University of Montana Western will hold New Student Orientation from Thursday, Aug. 18 to Sunday, Aug. 21.

Activities will begin Thursday morning as students move into the Residence Halls. If you are interested in volunteering for Move-In Day, please visit https://www.umwestern.edu/orientation/ and fill out the "Montana Western Moving Company Sign Up Form" to schedule a designated shift.

Convocation, the official start of the school year ceremony, will take place Friday at 10:00 a.m. in the Straugh Gymnasium and will feature an inspirational keynote address by Melinda Pfundstein.

Melinda Pfundstein is a joyful student of life and loves making curiosity cool. It is her personal mission to inspire creativity, wholeness, and authenticity in every space she facilitates. Through story, interactive engagement, tool-sharing, and more, the audience will: gain tools for building resiliency through self-assessment, receive a practice for leaning into inquiry and learning, acquire steps to fire up the imagination, and learn ways to engage the inner compass to navigate college (and life!) with purpose.

Parents, friends, and the community of Dillon are invited to attend Convocation and the Legacy Plaza Ceremony that follows.

Orientation will continue throughout the weekend with a series of events designed to familiarize new students with the Montana Western and Dillon community. Events will include sessions about the Experience One program, a football scrimmage, community scavenger hunt, movie in the Swysgood Technology Center, and much more.

For the full schedule of events, please visit https://www.umwestern.edu/orientation/.
