Diana Grace Nagel

January 11, 1935 - August 2, 2022

Diana Grace (Sue) Nagel passed away August 2, 2022. She was born January 11, 1935, in Youngstown, Ohio. Sue retired from Margala Salvage Company in Youngstown, Ohio in 1984 when she moved to Dillon, Montana to be with her sister, Hope McClane and her family. Sue and Hope's mother passed away at the age of 48 in 1953. Sue took on the role of chief cook and bottle washer for the family. Sue never complained about her role. She was quiet but had a dry sense of humor. She was very caring to everyone in her family and friends. Since moving to Dillon, she was self-employed cleaning local business offices. Diana moved in March of 2021 to the Legacy Assisted Living when she could no longer live alone.

Diana was preceded in death by her mother F. Grace Nagel, her father Michael M. Nagel, and brother George M. Nagel. She is survived by her sister Hope E. McLane (Ralph, Jr.), niece Rebecca G. McLane, nephew Ralph McLane III, several nieces and nephews in Montana, Ohio, and Wisconsin.

Graveside services will be held at Mountain View Cemetery on Tuesday, August 9, 2022, at 10:00 a.m.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made in her name to the Legacy Assisted Living or Barrett Hospital Foundation.

The Sagebrush and Snowdrifts 4-H News

By Secret Petersen

The Sagebrush and Snowdrifts 4-H Club had their meeting at the Search and Rescue building on August, 1st at 7:00 p.m. Pledges were said by Jayson Holt and Eve Wilson. We talked about old Business from our last meeting which was about our Round Robin idea of going to member's homes and seeing their projects and then we would have a Barbeque at the Weldon's afterwards. We decided we would have it at fair when all of the judging is done. We will meet in front of the new 4-H Building September 2nd at 2:00 P.M.

All project manuals and Record Books are due Wednesday, August, 10 by 5:00 p.m. We must turn them into the extension office. 4-H members with an animal must have a picture with it and have it turned in along with the project and record books.

Our next meeting will be October, 3rd. We hope to meet at the 4-H building if construction is complete, otherwise we will meet at the Search and Rescue building at 7:00 p.m.

Elk management group passes recommendations on to FWP director

Part of three-pronged effort at improving elk management in Montana

After 10 meetings and much deliberation, the Elk Management Citizen Advisory Group has forwarded its recommendations to Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks Director Hank Worsech.

"I'm very impressed with the work that went into these recommendations," Worsech said. "I asked the members to bring their own experience and creativity to help us advance potential solutions to issues facing elk management in Montana. Their recommendations are innovative, heartfelt and collaborative – all I could hope for."

The citizen advisory group was formed this past spring after a call for applications. Nearly 300 people applied. Twelve members from across the state were appointed by Director Worsech and met for the first time on March 22. The remaining applicants served as a sounding board for advisory group members and provided feedback on the group's work.

Now officially in the department's hands, the recommendations will be assessed by staff for implementation feasibility, fiscal impacts and legal or other issues before all being released for public comment. Once the public has a chance to provide feedback on the recommendations and staff assessments, Worsech plans to present them to the Environmental Quality Council, an interim legislative committee.

The advisory group is one of three pieces of a larger effort aimed at improving elk management in Montana. The group was specifically tasked with developing a set of recommendations to address elk management issues and improve relationships between hunters and landowners.

The second piece of the process is the Private Lands/Public Wildlife (PLPW) committee, which is currently working on suggestions for the Elk Hunting Access Agreements Program, hunter ethics and education, and public access programs.

The third piece is the ongoing process of scoping for management objectives for the elk plan revision. Currently, FWP is collecting public feedback on what management objectives should be in hunting districts across Montana to inform the upcoming revision to the elk management plan.

The three separate looks at elk management in Montana will provide a variety of perspectives that will be critical moving forward.

"I wanted to get these efforts underway simultaneously because elk management in Montana presents such complex social and biological issues," Worsch said. "Any similar solutions and ideas from these different efforts will tell me what elements have broader support. Each piece of the process will also raise unique ideas for improving elk management moving forward. That's exactly the kind of comprehensive approach we need on the complicated task of managing elk in Montana."

The Elk Management Citizen Advisory Group's recommendations and staff assessments will come out for public comment in August. The next PLPW meeting is Aug. 24. The elk plan scoping meetings are ongoing with the plan slated to be out for public comment in spring of 2023 and finalized later that summer.

"I've insisted since becoming director at FWP that we needed to improve elk management both for hunters and for landowners. We've asked the public, and these groups in particular, for help and they've stepped forward in a big way," Worsch said.

Frontier Conference Earns Gold Status

The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) released their 2021-2022 conference and school Champions of Character recipients with the Frontier Conference and five conference schools being recognized.

NAIA Conference Champions of Character criteria includes the conference have established a Champions of Character committee, have a conduct in competition committee composed of a minimum of three conference members and have at least 60 percent of member institutions receiving the NAIA Champions of Character Five-Star Institution Award. The NAIA worked to collaborate with member institutions to better reflect efforts that were impacted by transition and adjustments from COVID-19.

The Frontier Conference repeated as a Champions of Character Five-Star Conference. Carroll College is the only Frontier Conference member to earn the Five-Star, Gold Level Institution Award. MSU-Northern and Montana Tech earned Silver Level status. Montana Western and the University of Providence earned Bronze Level status.

"As Commissioner I couldn't be more proud of our institutions attention to detail which has led to the high individual rankings compiled on the NAIA scorecard and in turn has allowed the Frontier Conference to be once again designated as a Five-Star Award Winning Conference," Frontier Conference Commissioner Kent Paulson said.

The conference Champions of Character criteria includes the establishment of a Champions of Character committee, has a Conduct in Competition Oversight committee composed of a minimum of three members and at least 50 percent of members institutions must receive the NAIA Champions of Character Five-Star Institution Award.

Institutions are measured on a demonstrated commitment to Champions of Character and earned points in character training, conduct in competition, academic focus, character recognition and character promotion. Institutions earned points based on exceptional student-athlete grade point averages and by having minimal to no ejections during competition throughout the course of the academic year.

THREE SHOTS FOR A DIME

By "Swede" Troedsson

It has been my privilege to reside in Dillon, MT for over 55 years. I served for a dozen years as a volunteer in city government. Dillon is a small agricultural and college town with a population of around 4,500 people. I think I know it well.

My perception is that occasionally a source of excitement in Dillon involves the wrong bars, or the wrong beds.

One evening, in 1968, right at closing time, a well-sloshed ranch hand put a dime in the juke-box. The bartender came around from behind the bar and pulled the plug on the juke-box and informed the ranch hand it was closing time and ordered him to leave. The bartender then returned to his side of the bar to close the cash register, whereupon the ranch hand became very angry. The bartender placed a dime on the bar and told the ranch hand to pick up the dime and get out. The ranch hand climbed over the bar and smacked the bartender alongside his head. A vicious fight ensued, and during the fight the bartender broke away from the ranch hand and retrieved a .38 Special revolver. The bartender then fired the revolver three times, hitting the ranch hand in the chest, thereby killing him.

At trial, the bartender pleaded self-defense. He was found guilty of a wrongful death and sentenced to three years in the state penitentiary at Deer Lodge.

A joke got around town that the best place in town to buy a drink was at the Moose Bar, because you could get three shots for a dime!

FWP seeks comment on snowmobile grant proposals

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks is seeking public comment on proposed 2022 snowmobile grant proposals. Public comments will be accepted through Monday Sept. 5, at 5 p.m.

Montana's Snowmobile Program received 25 grant requests and proposes to award $460,000. The program receives funding through snowmobile registrations, gas tax and Snowmobile Trail Pass revenues. Montana's Snowmobile Program supports projects such as grooming, trail maintenance, signs, ethics education and avalanche safety. Grant awards are allocated by FWP with recommendations from the citizen-based Snowmobile Advisory Committee (SAC).

The public is invited to comment on the funding requests. To submit comments online and see a summary list of the 2022 Snowmobile grant application funding requests, visit <https://fwp.mt.gov/aboutfwp/grant-programs/snowmobile>.

The public may send comments to FWP Snowmobile Program manager, Seth McArthur, at fwpsnowmobile@mt.gov.

Full grant information is available by request in the Parks and Outdoor Recreation Division office at FWP Headquarters, 1420 E. 6th Ave., Helena, MT 59620.
