UMW Athletics Establishes Chapter of Chi Alpha Sigma

The University of Montana Western Athletic Department has been accepted into the National College Athlete Honor Society, Chi Alpha Sigma (XAΣ), which recognizes student-athletes from accredited four-year NCAA, NAIA, USCAA or NCCAA institutions who excel in both the classroom and competition.

Chi Alpha Sigma was founded in 1996 by then DePauw University head football coach Nick Mourouzis. His goal was to provide outstanding student-athletes with an opportunity to become connected within a fraternal association that aligns their educational and athletic successes for a lifetime.

In order to be inducted into Chi Alpha Sigma, a student-athlete must attend a four-year accredited college or university that is a member of the NCAA, NAIA, USCAA or NCCAA. The honoree also must achieve at least junior academic standing by the fifth semester or seventh quarter, as determined by the certifying institution, and must have achieved a minimum cumulative grade-point average of a 3.4 (on a 4.0 scale).

Katie Lovett, UMW's Head Volleyball Coach and Senior Woman Leader, will serve as advisor for UMW's chapter of Chi Alpha Sigma. Montana Western will hold its first induction ceremony in the spring before graduation.

Montana Western joins MSU-Billings as the other school in Montana that are members of Chi Alpha Sigma.

Visit ChiAlphaSigma.org for more information.

The University of Montana Western Athletic Department has announced the revamped Bulldog Club and the launch of the new Varsity Club.

Revamped Bulldog Club:

The Bulldog Club is the official fundraising arm for The University of Montana Western Athletics and supports more than 225 student-athletes that compete in 12 NAIA sports each year.

With several different projects, needs, and funds within the athletic department this year, instead of just focusing on membership contributions to the Bulldog Club, donors now have four ways to support UMW Athletics through the Bulldog Club.

Any gift that is made to one of the following; Sports and Activities Complex (football stadium), Sport Excellence Funds (sport specific giving), General Athletic Giving (unrestricted giving), and the Varsity Club (former student-athletes), will qualify a donor as a member of the Bulldog Club and allow them receive the benefits that correspond to the gift amount within the Bulldog Club.

"There are several areas of need within our department that each year our donors rise to the occasion and help us out," Director of Athletics Michael Feuling said. "We want to make it easier for them to support the area that means the most to them and still receive the benefits that come with the Bulldog Club."

To view the revamped Bulldog Club and the new benefits chart click here.

Introducing the Varsity Club:

The UMW Varsity Club aims to connect and strengthen relationships with former Bulldog letter winners by recognizing and honoring their athletic achievements. Membership for each year is $25 and dues will provide support to student-athletes.

Throughout the year there will be special events, invites, recognition, and communication that will connect former teammates, coaches, and staff as well as with current student-athletes.

"We have such a deep history of amazing student-athlete alumni that laid the groundwork for the successes our current and future student-athletes are having and will have," Feuling said. "We want to connect them with the university, the programs, and our student-athletes to carry on the Bulldog legacy."

Low flows trigger full fishing closure on section of upper Big Hole River

A full fishing closure will go into effect on a section of the upper Big Hole River due to low flows.

The closure begins at the river's confluence with the North Fork of the Big Hole River upstream to Saginaw Bridge. This section will be closed to fishing starting at 11:59 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 11. The closure will remain in place until lifted by Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks in consultation with the Big Hole Watershed Committee, or until Oct. 31. The fishing closure replaces a hoot owl fishing restriction that has been in place here since July 29.

Flows at a U.S. Geological Survey gauge near Wisdom fell below 20 cubic feet per second on Aug. 8, meeting criteria for the full fishing closure outlined in the Big Hole River Watershed Committee Drought Management Plan.

Fishing restrictions, such as hoot owl restrictions and full closures, are designed to protect fish that become more susceptible to disease and mortality when conditions, such as low flows and high water temperatures, combine with other stressors, including catch-and-release fishing. Restrictions are still in place for other waterbodies. Anglers can find a statewide list of current restrictions at fwp.mt.gov/news/current-closures-restrictions.

All stress to fish at this time of year is cumulative, and anglers should consider fishing in cooler waters during times of low flows and high water temperatures in rivers. Anglers can help reduce stress for fish by following these practices when catching and releasing fish where fishing is allowed, though fish mortality may still occur:

- Fish during the coolest times of day, where permitted.
- Land the fish quickly.
- Wet your hands before handling the fish.
- Keep the fish in water as much as possible.
- Remove the hook gently. Using artificial lures with single and barbless hooks can make hook removal faster and easier.
- If the fish is hooked deeply, you may have to cut the line at the fish's mouth or consider keeping it if regulations allow.
- Let the fish recover before releasing it.
