Be the Change 406 Summer Trip

Team building and water slides are a good combination when area youth, committed to preventing underage substance use, use a road trip to discuss future goals and activities for the Be the Change 406 Youth Coalition.

The traveling convoy to Idaho's Silverwood Theme Park consisted of a dozen BTC 406 youth, accompanying parents/chaperones, and BTC Project Director Kim Martinell. "We wanted an opportunity to celebrate all the prevention work the kids accomplished this last school year," Martinell said. Their time at Silverwood was filled with intensity thrilling activities ranging from high-speed water slides and wave pools at Boulder Beach Bay to breath taking roller coasters, or rafting a 650-foot slide down the side of a mountain. "It was a day with plenty of adrenalin," Martinell said, as well as multiple opportunities for upcoming event planning.

On their return to Dillon, some BTC406 youth spent an extra day away from home in order to join the 2022 Frenchtown Youth Summit which focused on the latest underage substance use trends, prevention strategies, and the impact each person makes in their school and community. The Frenchtown Community Coalition is an underage substance use prevention coalition and the Summit included youth from across the state.

BTC406 Youth Coalition member Emma Lovaas commented: "It was nice to get to know other people from other communities who have the same goal as us. I enjoyed the group experience."

The Summit's featured speaker, Michael DeLeon, reinforced positive choices made today are the foundation for future healthy and positive life choices. Schmidt is the CEO and founder of Steered Straight, Inc., whose mission is to steer youth straight toward sound, rational decisions by providing a message of reality to help them make positive, informed choices.

The Be the Change 406 Youth Coalition meets monthly. If interested, visit the webpage: bethechange406.org and select the Youth Coalition tab.

Cutthroat trout conservation project advancing in Selway Creek

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks, in collaboration with the Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest, will begin another phase of a project this month to restore native westslope cutthroat trout in Selway Creek, about 25 miles south of Jackson.

This phase of the project includes removing non-native brown, brook and hybrid rainbow-cutthroat trout from Selway Creek and Selway Lake, an area within the Red Rock sub-basin. After non-native fish are removed, genetically unaltered westslope cutthroat trout will be reintroduced to this area, restoring 36 stream miles of habitat for the native fish.

From Aug. 15 through Aug. 31, the Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest will have a closure in the project area. Forest Road 181 and 1505 going to Reservoir Lake are part of the boundary but will remain open to travel. The Selway Peak Trail, which is also used as a boundary, will remain open, although the public is asked to stay on the trail. Additionally, the Saginaw Road (Forest Road 7335) will also remain open to travel. To see the full order, visit fs.usda.gov/alerts/bdnf/alerts-notice.

Non-native trout will be removed from the project area using a plant-derived fish toxicant called rotenone. Rotenone is used routinely in fisheries management and breaks down quickly in the aquatic environment after use. It offers an effective means of removing fish species that are incompatible with the management goals of a fishery without endangering the surrounding habitat.

Detoxification stations will be set up to ensure there are no negative effects to gill-breathing organisms downstream.

In a previous phase of the project, FWP and other agencies constructed a fish barrier at a lower reach of Selway Creek. This barrier isolates the project area to protect westslope cutthroat trout from non-native trout downstream.

Upon completion, the project will almost double the present distribution of genetically unaltered westslope cutthroat trout in the Red Rock sub-basin.

FWP published a draft environmental assessment for this project in 2019 and solicited public comments. The Montana Fish and Wildlife Commission approved the project in 2021.

FWP to continue westslope cutthroat trout restoration in North Fork of Spanish Creek

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks is continuing its efforts to restore native westslope cutthroat trout as part of a multi-phased project in the North Fork of Spanish Creek south of Bozeman.

A follow-up rotenone treatment is scheduled to begin Aug. 15 and could last until Aug. 20. Remaining non-native fish will be removed above a constructed barrier on private land several miles upstream of the Spanish Creek Road.

Rotenone is a plant-derived fish toxicant that is used routinely in fisheries management and breaks down quickly in the aquatic environment after use. It offers an effective means of removing fish species that are incompatible with the management goals of a fishery without endangering the surrounding habitat.

A detoxification station will be installed at the barrier to ensure there are no negative effects to gill-breathing organisms downstream.

Big Horn, Musselshell, Yellowstone and Phillips counties enter stage 1 fire restrictions

Big Horn, Musselshell, Yellowstone and Phillips counties are in stage 1 fire restrictions. Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks follows the county's lead in placing fire restrictions on its properties within a particular county.

Under stage 1 restrictions, building, maintaining, attending or using a fire or campfire at FWP sites is not allowed. People may only smoke within an enclosed vehicle or building, a developed recreation site or while stopped in an area at least 3 feet in diameter cleared of flammable materials. People may cook on a liquid petroleum gas or propane stove that can be turned on and off.

Exceptions to these restrictions include the picnic areas at Chief Plenty Coups State Park in Bighorn County and Lake Elmo in Yellowstone County, where cooking fires are allowed in designated barbecues.

The following FWP sites in Big Horn County are under these fire restrictions: Big Horn Fishing Access Site (FAS), Mallard's Landing FAS, Two Leggins FAS, Arapooish FAS, Grant Marsh FAS and Wildlife Management Area (WMA), General Custer FAS, Manual Lisa FAS, and Chief Plenty Coups State Park.

The following FWP sites in Yellowstone County are under these fire restrictions: Buffalo Mirage FAS, Duck Creek FAS, Blue Creek FAS, South Hills FAS, East Bridge FAS, Voyager's Rest FAS, Gritty Stone FAS, Bundy Bridge FAS, Captain Clark FAS, Manual Lisa FAS, Broadview Pond FAS, Yellowstone WMA, Pictograph Cave State Park, and Lake Elmo State Park.

The following FWP sites in Phillips County are under these fire restrictions: Cole Ponds FAS, Bjornberg Bridge FAS, Alkali Creek FAS, Cree Crossing WMA, Sleeping Buffalo WMA, and Dodson Dam WMA.

There are no FWP managed sites in Musselshell County. These restrictions at FWP sites will be in place until further notice. FWP urges people to use caution while they are out recreating due to dry conditions and fire dangers.
