Beaverhead Search and Rescue News

Submitted by Mel Rice-Public Relations Officer

When the Blacktail horse incident was completed at 5:00 AM Sunday morning and the injured party was on his way to Barrett Memorial Hospital, members involved in this all night ordeal wanted to get home as well. Because of conditions at that time it was decided to leave equipment trailers and other equipment at the trailhead until later that day after it had hopefully quit snowing and there was day light to work in. So later that morning a refreshed group of members returned to get everything off the mountain. It just made sense not to fight with all that when everyone was exhausted.

Kudos to those who went in later that day to get the equipment left behind. The roads were horrible, the snow was deep, and with the mass exodus of hunters trying to get out of there, it was a zoo. With us trying to get up the East Fork on the narrow road with snow piled up on either side, and with hunters trying to get out on the same road, it made for lots of traffic jams and stuck vehicles resulting in another long day. All the trailers and vehicles made it home.

Those making the trek back to gather equipment and vehicles were Brian Vinson, Mark Smith, Clint Rouse, Shane Puyear, Parke Scott, Jennifer McKay, Tater McKay, Steve Mock, and Donnie Keltz.

Multi-state investigation into six major banks' anti-energy ESG practices

Montana Attorney General Austin Knudsen and 18 other state attorneys general launched an investigation into six major banks over potentially deceptive trade practices tied to Environmental, Social, and Governance ("ESG") related actions. Civil investigative demands were sent today asking for documents related to their involvement with the United Nations' Net-Zero Banking Alliance.

It is believed that the Bank of America, Citigroup, Goldman Sachs, JP Morgan Chase, Morgan Stanley, and Wells Fargo, with oversight by the UN, collectively agreed that each of their lending practices will reflect the target of net-zero greenhouse gas emissions by 2050, with interim targets in 2030, based on the Paris Agreement. The effect of this accord would be to starve companies engaged in fossil fuel-related activities of credit on national and international markets.

"Out-of-state interests have been waging war on Montana's energy industries for years, and these coordinated actions from major banks and the United Nations are a potentially illegal attack. Attorney General Knudsen said.

According to the UN, the Net-Zero Banking Alliance "reinforces, accelerates and supports the implementation of decarbonisation strategies." Member banks "are committed to aligning their lending and investment portfolios with net-zero emissions by 2050."
