Witches, Warlocks, Horses, & Banana's Oh My

Jeremy Crawford • Southwestern Montana News

The witches, warlocks, and those who just like to get out and fly a broom met again this Sunday on all hallows eve eve. It was the 5th annual Dillon Witches Brigade get together. The group meets every all Hallows eve eve at the Depot Park in Downtown Dillon. After a short meeting of spells and a good cackle to set off the ride, the witches and warlocks mount up and take the town by storm.

This year's event saw a little over fifty riders dressed as witches, warlocks, and ummmmm cowboy bananas. Yep, a cowboy banana was there, folks. Most witches choose a bicycle, but a few mounted their trusty steed as they rode throughout Dillon, Bluetooth speaker playing appropriate songs and cackling along the way. Fun was had by all and those not expecting this sight, stopped and pulled out their phone to catch a quick photo of the witch's coven of Dillon.

We finished cutting posts and poles. We'd cut more than our goal.
My father loved hard work. He claimed 'twas soothing to his soul.
He looked for teaching moments and today would be that kind.
So, while driving home he taught me what was nagging in his mind.
He didn't waste a moment. Told me, "Lazy is a crime."
So, when you're out there on the job, show up and be on time."
His lecture was so familiar that I memorized each word.
And listened so intently for advice I hadn't heard.
He said, "The Great Depression left its mark as you can tell.
Back then a job was 'bout as scarce as snowball fights in hell.
"And if you found a job, you'd be the lucky one for sure.
Others weren't as blessed, and they were hungry, tired and poor.
"But some would rather go without, than being on the dole.
Welfare was a nasty word. Yet, hunger took its toll.
"So, when they saw their little ones with nothing left to eat, they'd humbly ask assistance, head down looking at their feet.
"The desperate men would ask if there was work that they could do to pay for any food or clothes, or bills that might be due."
And then my father said, "Our young ones don't know how to work.
Their parents hand 'em everything which drives me plumb berserk.
"Next time you're on the job and feeling like you've got it tough.
Just take this little test and, yes, you'll find it might be rough.
"Skip a meal and visualize there ain't no food for free.
Your job's what keeps you eating. Then try skipping two or three.
"An empty belly makes a man appreciate a meal. Remember while you're working how your stomach made you feel.
"Your job is what you make of it. So, try to make it last.
You're better off than all those men who grew up in the past.
"And when you're out there on the job. Don't waste the boss's time. Demonstrate some interest if you plan to make a dime.
"So, always bear in mind that you will work for what you get.
'Cuz a freebie steals your soul while someone else will pay the debt."

The tour begins in Thessaloniki (Thessalonica), Makedonia (Macedonia), second largest city in Greece and a UNESCO World Heritage site. Founded in 315 BC, it is the country's cultural capital with ancient buildings, top museums, festivals, cultural events and a key political, economic, military, and transportation hub throughout its twenty-three centuries of history. Classical Greek antiquity (8th century BC and the 6th century AD) King Phillip of Macedonia, and his son Alexander the Great ruled the area from the city. The Roman Empire (27 B.C. to 476) Thessaloniki was a co-capital with Rome in the later years of the empire and the Edict of Thessalonica made Christianity the state religion of the Roman Empire. Early Jewish and Christian History, the city housed a major Jewish community until the middle of WWII, and it was one of the first places where Christianity was preached when Apostle Paul visited the city in 50/51 AD. Byzantine Empire (395 until 1453), was the eastern half of the Roman Empire, it survived over a thousand years after the western half dissolved. Thessaloniki has been called the "co-reigning" city of this empire, alongside Constantinople. Muslim Ottoman Empire, (1299-1922) Thessaloniki had more than thirty-five minarets and the White Tower of Thessaloniki, a symbol of the city, is an Ottoman building. Modern Greece, (1821-today) Learn about the history of wars, monarchy, dictatorship, military regime, and the self-governing country we see today. In addition to Thessaloniki, the tour will play out in stunning locations throughout the Macedonian plain, highlighting its rich history and beauty. Participants will be immersed in archeological sites, art, culture, religion, and nature. Tour beautiful villages, churches and ruins reflecting the best of its multicultural heritage. Stand in awe of natural wonders including majestic peaks, gorges, national parks, rivers valleys, wetlands, lakes, islands, and a biodiverse ecosystem of hundreds of flora and fauna. There will be many opportunities to sample some of the best and most delicious local food products during the travels such as meat, fish, cheese, wine, pastries, and much more.
