Southwest Montana Military "Dine Out"

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

On Friday, Nov 11, 2022, military personnel, along with friends, family, and honored guests, gathered for a night of camaraderie, tradition, and tribute to honor those who have served our country and those still serving our nation. The Southwest Montana Military "Dine Out" was started ten years ago by Montana Youth Challenge Academy Director Colonel Trent Gibson, Montana Army National Guard, and local business owner Ron Carroll, Montana Army National Guard retiree.

The Dine Out is a tradition, uniting influences from all military branches to showcase those who have served our country, those who are still serving, and the traditions entwined in their joined companionship.

The main difference between a Dine In versus a Dine Out for military occasions is that guests are welcomed in the latter, allowing the soldier's family and friends to attend this esteemed function. This way, the civilians can participate in the military atmosphere, while getting a taste of the stricter lifestyle.

The event kicked off with the President and Vice President explaining the rules and reverence of what you were about to experience. Though the ceremony allowed for fun and chatter, the expectations from the script could be seen as rigid and everyone was expected to follow along. In that sense, civilians would get a taste of the military lifestyle.

One special moment was The Tribute to the Fallen Ceremony, where those who have paid the ultimate sacrifice for one's service were honored. A table was set with various items, each holding a special significance to those who have served. To the naked eye, this somber moment enlightened and set a special stage that civilians could marvel at from a distance.

For lighter entertainment, the infamous Grog Bowl was introduced. The Grog legend dates back to the times of King Arthur, which has since been adapted to fit the military branches. The Grog contains many items, each one representing a place in time to pay respect to what the military has accomplished, where those who serve have come from, and what they stand for. After all the items have been added, the Grog is then enchanted, and the master of the grog performs the duties assigned to them. This year's lucky recipient of that title was Tom Fenley.

Once the symbolic ingredients were added, the Grog was prepared and tested, and a night of dining and storytelling was had by all those in attendance. If you broke the rules of the mess, you had to pay respect to the Grog. Or if the President or Vice President believed you were not living up to the rules and expectations of the Dine Out, you also could be required to salute the Grog.

This year's Dine Out concluded with the presentation of a lifetime achievement award to State Command Sergeant Major (ret) Marty Malesich for his years of work in both the National Guard and his dedication to many community organizations throughout the years. The evening then finished off with a talk by Brigadier General (ret) Joel Cusker.

SWMT News would like to thank Ron Carroll for the invitation to attend this ceremony. It was a night that my wife and I were honored to be invited to and will never forget. Thank you to all those who have served and are serving our country.

ROTARY SPEAKER

UMW Athletic Director Michael Feuling will be the guest speaker at the Rotary meeting on Wednesday, November 16th at noon. Visitors are welcome to attend, and anyone interested in learning more about the Rotary organization is invited to be a guest for lunch. The Rotary Club meets in the Guild Hall of St. James Episcopal Church, located at 203 East Glendale Street. Running Boards

Bryce Angell

My Chevy Silverado keeps on racking up the miles.

Dependable and sure enough has always been worthwhile.

But from years of climbing in and out, the running boards were bent.

They were rusted through and full of holes.

Their years of use were spent.

My good friend, our mechanic, helped remove each running board.

He said, "Go buy some new ones or you'll fall out on your gourd."

I told him he was prob'ly right. I'm such a clumsy tub.

Then I opened up the truck door. Tried to pull myself on up.

I grabbed the steering wheel and then I made a big mistake.

As I hopped up with my left foot,
my right lodged underneath the brake.

With my right foot stuck I couldn't move. I'd say this is the pits.

With my left foot hanging off the ground, my stiff legs did the splits.

I've always wondered 'bout the splits. Is there a kind of rule?

And if I might now qualify for old man cheering school.

My mechanic got me out of my red faced predicament.

I sat there in the driver's seat so full of discontent.

I knew I needed running boards just one more big expense.

I guess I'd grab the money set aside for brand new fence.

I pulled into Hank's Auto Shop and talk about bad luck.

I opened up my door and fell right underneath the truck.

The fellow parked right next to me came running up to help.

He said he didn't see me fall but surely heard me yelp.

He stuck around to watch till he could see I wasn't hurt.

He even used a broom to help me brush off all the dirt.

I shook his hand then watched him put his broom back in the trunk.

I heard his good wife holler out. "I think the man is drunk."

From not having running boards I've done the splits and bit the dust.

Been called a drunk, I must conclude, running boards should be a must.

I've ordered brand new running boards. I hope they get here soon.

'Cuz without the running boards I'm just a clumsy guy buffoon.

Advanced CT Imaging at Barrett Hospital & HealthCare with New CT Scanner

Barrett Hospital & HealthCare has installed a new Siemens Healthineers tablet-based CT scanner. Siemens' SOMATOM go.Top system allows the hospital to perform AI-powered scan automation and advanced CT procedures. Diagnostic accuracy is enhanced by providing doctors and patients with additional diagnostic information. A gentle patient experience, high-quality images, and low radiation levels make the SOMATOM go.Top CT system the ideal choice for pediatric and adult patients.

The CT system can be operated with a touch-screen tablet and/or remote control, allowing technologists to be near the patient during exam preparation. Particularly for children and patients with mobility challenges who need additional support, this can greatly improve the patient experience. Furthermore, SOMATOM go.Top features automated technology that simplifies the process of selecting the appropriate radiation dose for different patient populations. Also, it is equipped with Siemens' latest Tin Filter Technology for optimizing the radiation dose. By combining these two measures, a wide range of routine imaging procedures can be made less radiation-intensive for patients.

"Patients are our utmost priority at Barrett Hospital & HealthCare," says Carolyn Hansen, Chief Clinical Officer. "We recognize that healthcare technology will forever be changing and advancing, and we carefully considered which CT system would provide the best possible experience for our patients and equip doctors with the information they need to deliver quality care."

Using patient-centric technology and workflows, SOMATOM go. optimizes patient care. Top provides high-quality, consistent imaging results in all areas of hospital imaging, including cardiac and coronary artery imaging, and low-dose pediatric imaging. SOMATOM go.Top also offers features that can reduce imaging artifacts from implanted devices, such as knee and hip implants and dental fillings, which can further improve image quality.

The National Rural Health Association (NRHA) has recognized Barrett Hospital & HealthCare as a Top 20 CAH five times, including in 2022. For more information, visit www.barrethospital.org

In Search of Anna Bliven's Tombstone

Anna Bliven, age 11, died in January 1883 on a train between Laramie and Sherman, Wyoming. We think she and her family were returning to Dillon from a visit to relatives in New York. Anna was likely buried in Poindexter Cemetery a few miles south of Dillon. Anna's brother James was buried there the next month, her sister Lenita in 1888, and their father in 1892. In 2017 stones for these three were among several moved from the abandoned Poindexter Cemetery to Mountain View Cemetery. We understand Anna's stone was later discovered by someone tilling farmland. We would like to see Anna's stone placed with those of her family at Mountain View Cemetery. If anyone knows the whereabouts of Anna's stone please email Beaver Head Hunters Genealogical Society at beaverheadhunters@gmail.com.

Moines, Iowa, called for: "An educational week...observed in all communities annually for the purpose of informing the public of the accomplishments and needs of the public schools and to secure the cooperation and support of the public in meeting those needs."

Suggestions for the week of November 15-19th.

Monday, November 14: Kickoff Day

Give a big thanks to all involved in the field of education.

Tuesday, November 15: Family Day

Get parents involved with learning. Check homework, read to your children, limit television or screen time on school nights, develop a relationship with your child's teacher. Ask your child about their school day.

Wednesday, November 16: Education Support Professionals Day

These dedicated persons go well beyond anything we have seen before as they work to meet the needs of our school communities at all times. Please honor and advocate for the ESPs who continue to keep students safe, healthy and ready to learn.

Send an e-mail, card, poster, or a small token of appreciation to say thanks and let them know they are special.

Thursday, November 17: Educator for a Day

Volunteer virtually or in person to read to students, talk about your career, or share other educational information outside the normal curriculum.

Friday November 18: Substitute Educator's Day

Substitutes play a vital role in the maintenance and continuity of daily education. These professional educators provide a critical link in the education of public schoolchildren by serving as a bridge to provide continued quality education to children in the temporary absence of regular classroom educators.

Encourage increased respect for substitute employees and advocate for all to receive wage and health benefits for those who work most of a full school year.

Love in a shoebox!

Let's work together to brighten a child's life!

* Last day to drop off: Sunday 11/20! *

Again this year Town Pump is matching all donations made by our generous community.

All donations made to the Beaverhead Community Food Pantry from now until November 30 will be matched by Town Pump. This will double your generosity. If you have considered donating to the Food Pantry, now is the time. You can make your donations at any Town Pump location or mail to Beaverhead Community Food Pantry, P. O. Box 1356, Dillon, MT 59725. Thanks again to all of Beaverhead County citizens for their continued support in helping our neighbors fight hunger.
