Dillon artists, John Glossa and Jean James will be featured at Tendoy Fine Art gallery for the month of December. Their work will be on display by Dec. 2nd with a show opening that day coinciding with the Parade of lights, Festival of Trees, and the Christmas Stroll. Please come in and view the work of Glossa and James, as well as our other talented member artists. Refreshments will be served from 4:00 to 8:00 PM and our featured artists will be on hand to talk about their work.

John Glossa has been a gemologist and jewelry maker since 1986. He attended the Gemological Institute of America (GIA) in California to become a graduate gemologist following completion of a B.S. degree in Geology at the University of Colorado. He has owned custom jewelry stores in Colorado and Oregon and has taught jewelry making classes. "I have enjoyed teaching, which has permitted me the opportunity to meet many talented artists at all levels," says Glossa. "One of the shows that I attend is the Western Design Conference in Jackson, WY, which has earned me a "best of show" and "Honorable Mention" recognition for my work. I do enjoy the creative process of working with gems and metals. Quality handmade jewelry is a passion." Glossa may be reached online at John Glossa.com.

Jean James, long-time resident of Beaverhead County will be displaying a newly rendered collection of watercolor and gouache paintings. "I love getting as close to my subjects as possible," says James. "There is something almost magical about plant growth when the viewer is physically in that growth. While I work in stained glass, and paint in egg tempera, oil and mixed media, I always return to water media. This collection has been an emersion experience as I work from my own photographs that are altered on the computer and then painted on Illustration Board." James calls the collection "Out my Backdoor" as most of the inspiration photos she used came from her yard or the surrounding neighborhood. "I change the values in my photos and alter the original photographs on my computer until they become a reference that excites me," she explains. James has been an artist in Montana since 1970 when she married Sandy James, a Horse Prairie rancher. James' work can be seen on her website, jamesgangartworks.com, and on her Facebook page.

Permit required to salvage vehicle-killed deer, elk, moose and antelope

Entire animal must be removed by permit holder

Anyone wanting to salvage a road-killed deer, elk, moose or antelope must obtain a Vehicle-Killed Wildlife Salvage Permit. These are available at no cost and must be obtained within 24 hours of the time a person takes an animal into their possession. Permits are available either through law enforcement officers on the scene of collisions or online on the FWP website.

As a reminder, any salvaged animal must be removed in its entirety from the roadway by the permittee. The animal may be field dressed before it leaves the area but entrails or any other parts of the animal carcass must be removed from site to prevent attracting scavengers and predators.

Other things to keep in mind if salvaging a vehicle-killed animal:

Road-killed animals may not be tagged and possessed with carcass tags issued for the purpose of hunting.

Any person who is picking up an animal to be salvaged must comply with all highway rules and regulations while removing the animal. Vehicles shall be parked off the roadway and out of the line of traffic. The permittee acknowledges that collecting vehicle-killed animals on state highways is inherently dangerous and is undertaken at the permittee's own risk.

A person may not kill an injured or wounded animal that they encounter for the purpose of salvage. A law enforcement officer may, however, when on the scene of a collision, kill an animal injured in the collision and that animal may be taken for salvage.

Meat rendered from salvaged animals must be used for human consumption. It may not be used for bait or other purposes.

Meat rendered from salvaged animals may not be sold.

Any meat that is unfit for human consumption or unusable animal parts must be disposed of at a legal disposal site. It is unlawful to dispose of animal carcasses or parts in or upon any highway, road, street, or alley or upon public property. It is also illegal to dispose carcasses or parts within 200 yards of a public highway, road street or alley or public property.

For more information, visit FWP's website fwp.mt.gov/buyandapply/vehiclekilledsalvagepermit.

AG Knudsen offers 4 tips to avoid scams

Attorney General Austin Knudsen is reminding Montanans to be aware of common scams, which increase during the holiday season, as they begin Christmas shopping.

"Scammers are out this Christmas looking to take advantage of unsuspecting Montanans, so be on high alert and be cautious as you buy gifts and make donations this year," Attorney General Knudsen said. "Don't let a scammer ruin the holidays for you and your family."

Attorney General Knudsen shared the following tips and reminders to avoid falling victim to a scam while shopping this holiday season:

When purchasing gift cards, check the terms and keep the receipts. Remember, Montana law stipulates that gift cards and gift certificates do not expire unless the business is sold. Gift cards can also be redeemed for cash if they were originally for more than $5 but have less than $5 remaining.

When making a purchase through social media: verify the company, ensure the website is secure before paying, check the account's public information, and be cautious when clicking links.

Use a credit card for online shopping so you can track your purchases and dispute any charges you didn't make or don't recognize with the credit card company. Do not use gift cards to make a payment. Anyone who asks you to pay using a gift card is most likely a scammer.

If you're asked to donate to a charity, give wisely. Ask questions and donate only when you're satisfied that your money will be used in ways you consider appropriate. Be wary of callers who use high pressure tactics or those who promise you winnings in exchange for your contribution.

Montanans can report any phone, email, or mail scams to the Montana Department of Justice's Office of Consumer Protection at <https://app.doj.mt.gov/OCPPortal/>

Application Deadline for 2023 Montana Master Hunter Program is November 30

One Montana's Master Hunter Program is accepting applications October 1, 2022 - November 30, 2022 for the 2023 program. Classes will be held in Billings (March), Bozeman (April) and Missoula (May). Each class will consist of two 3-Day consecutive weekends (Friday - Sunday). A two-day weekend rendezvous in June is also required for qualifications, field exercises, and the final exam.

The Master Hunter Program (MHP) is an advanced education program for hunters who want to improve and hone their knowledge and skills, build relationships with landowners to aid their wildlife management goals, and be advocates for conservation and wildlife. By creating opportunities for landowners and sportsmen to connect to each other, the MHP helps to deepen knowledge and understanding about ranching and agriculture, and ultimately works to increase access opportunities for future generations.

To date, 291 hunters have successfully completed the program. Graduates belong to a community of likeminded hunters stretching from Whitefish to Miles City who hunt together, keep each other informed, and are knowledgeable voices on issues affecting sportsmen across MT.

In the words of one graduate, ".....this class and all the information I gained has already changed my life! I can't wait to see what great work we can do together with this excellent group of individuals".

The program covers wildlife management, history of conservation, hunting culture and ethics, private land stewardship, and shooting accuracy and precision among other topics. The instructors have a wide diversity of knowledge and perspectives and include ranchers, farmers, university faculty, professional shooting instructors, wildlife managers, wildlife biologists, and MT Fish Wildlife and Parks personnel.

The program is led by One Montana (1MT), a nonprofit working to sustain a vibrant Montana by connecting our urban and rural communities. The program is supported financially by private foundations, nonprofit organizations, trade associations and industry partners such as the Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation, Bass Pro Shop's and Cabela's Outdoor Fund, Montana Stockgrowers Association, Montana Grain Growers Association, Montana's Outdoor Legacy Foundation, onX Maps, Mystery Ranch, Sitka Gear and others.

Please visit www.mtmasterhunter.com for information about the application process, class dates, and eligibility requirements.
