Beverly Smith

Beverly Smith passed away peacefully November 17, 2022 at Barrett Hospital. She was born Beverly Elaine Parks on April 16, 1928 to Eldwin and Tennie Parks in Shelley, Idaho and lived briefly in Rigby, Idaho; before the family relocated to Whitehall, Montana. There she grew up the 2nd of 5 children. She drove a team of horses helping her father in the hayfield amongst other chores aside from school.

During high school she and a few friends often skipped class and took the train to Butte shopping. She and a couple other home economics students passed donuts under the shop class door to their boyfriends. One day she mistook the professor's feet under the door for one of her friends and got caught.

In the summer she stayed in Bozeman with her Uncle Dewey and Aunt Florence Johnson and worked at Dad Gillette Grocery Store. One day he said he wanted to show her something. It was a tarantula in a jar. He'd found it in the bananas he stored under he and his wife's bed. He told her not to tell her or she wouldn't let him store them under the bed anymore.

On another occasion she and another friend Donna took a taxi to Bozeman dance. When the driver told Donna the fee she said "I didn't want to buy your taxi, I just wanted a ride"! At another dance Beverly met a Marine home from the war, Richard (Bud) Smith and they were later married in November of 1947. Daughter Tennie was born in 1948 and son Lance in 1949, followed by son Danny in 1951.

The family lived early on in Cardwell running a ranch for Frank Kuntz of Whitehall. After a few years they bought a ranch down Middle Lane between Twin Bridges and Sheridan. Besides working the ranch, Bev and Bud worked for a while in the potato fields for Changman near Whitehall. Bev also worked for a time at the Seed House out of Sheridan. She and Bud loved to go to dances with friends. Bev took her children swimming in Silver Star with a picnic lunch on summer days or sometimes swimming in the river with friends.

Bev and Bud, after selling the ranch, bought the Shermont Motel in Sheridan in 1964 and ran it for 13 years before retiring. Mom then worked for a while at LaRae Myre's Jewelry Store on Main Street. She played Bingo every week with friends at the Ruby Hotel Sump and went to the Methodist Church. She also served for local elections.

Bev moved to Bicentennial Apartments in 2005, two years after Buds' death and has lived there until very recently. She was a vibrant, stylish, fun-loving and kind person who will be missed

The Roan

Bryce Angell

I shifted into granny, then I hopped back on the hay and let the tractor pull the wagon on that winter day.
The horses milled around behind and tried to reach the feed.
I kicked the hay bales off each side and gave them what they'd need.
You could hear the horses chomping down, all lined up in a row.
Their nostrils blowing steam while eating hay right off the snow.
Our horses all looked plenty sound, especially one big roan.
I'd seen too many horses in the winter, skin and bone.
I wondered why the roan had put on so much extra weight.
He was no easy keeper. Looking fat was not his trait.
So, I finished up the feeding and sat down to watch them eat.
That's when the roan did something, to the likes you couldn't beat.
The crazy roan let out a snort and scared Dad's Bay away.
Then straddled the alfalfa, urinated on the hay.
Had I really witnessed why the sly roan was so overweight?
He'd learned to get some extra food. Just had to micturate.
I watched the other horses, guessing what a horse would do, as they passed up all the flavored hay, while the big roan ate that too.
I've heard of spitting in your drink. I can't say that will work.
But the roan was such a wiseacre, I swear I saw him smirk.
I had to wonder how the big roan's brain could figure out.
I'd watched him do the dirty deed. He was guilty without doubt.
But, we couldn't let one greedy horse eat all the horses' hay.
So, we penned him in the corral, and there the peeing horse would stay.
The hungry roan was smart enough to steal the hay away.
But did he have a clue why he was corralled away that day?
We fed the roan his hay and straw, kept track of what he ate.
We put him on a diet. Soon enough he lost the weight.
I tried to be observant, feeding horses every day.
But from then on I never saw him peeing on the hay.
So, I'll give the old roan credit, how he planned his little trick.
And I must admit his reasoning was pretty doggone slick.

WOOD STOVE EXPLOSION

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

The Dillon Volunteer Fire Department was called out early Saturday morning to a trailer house fire on Vine St. The residents' wood stove blew up sending glass shards and other debris causing the individual to sustain cuts and injuries from the explosion.
