Montana Western Foundation Establishes Scholarship in Memory of Lee E. Orr

The University of Montana Western Foundation is pleased to announce the establishment of the Lee E. Orr Scholarship.

This scholarship was established by his loving family in honor of their devoted husband and father. Lee E. Orr was born and raised in Dillon, Montana. After graduating from Beaverhead County High School, Orr attended Western Montana College for two years, then transferred to Montana State University earning his Bachelor of Science Degree in Architecture in 1958. Shortly after, he accepted a position at Fredricks Development Corporation and moved to Southern California. He retired as Executive Vice President at FDC in 1988 and spent his semi-retired years as a private business investor.

A man of many interests and hobbies, Orr was a global traveler who made two around the world trips in his lifetime as well as visiting all 50 states. He enjoyed life to the fullest and in 85 years he managed to accomplish everything on his bucket list plus more. One of his greatest joys in life was being a father to his children, Leanne and Lee W.

After Orr's passing in February 2021, Carol, his wife of 50 years, and his children established this scholarship in his memory at Montana Western. Some of Lee's fondest memories from childhood and early adulthood revolved around his experiences and relationships in Dillon and Western Montana College (now the University of Montana Western).

The University of Montana Western Foundation is grateful for this generous gift to establish the Lee E. Orr Scholarship and privileged to remember his legacy through his scholarship.

"The Orr family has an enduring history with Montana Western and the Dillon community. We are honored to remember this remarkable man knowing that his scholarship will make a tangible difference in the lives of Montana Western students in perpetuity," commented Roxanne Engellant, Executive Director of the UMW Foundation.

Applicants can visit https://umwfoundation.academicworks.com/ to learn more and apply by the priority deadline of January 15, 2023. All graduates from Montana high schools planning to attend or currently attending Montana Western are eligible to apply.

To learn more about the University of Montana Western Foundation, please visit https://www.umwfoundation.org.

Christmas for Axel

Bryce Angell

Axel thought of Christmas, then he tossed a frozen bale. The cowhand had no fam'ly. He was fresh, right out of jail.

Christmas wasn't Axel Harker's favorite time of year. He lived out in the bunkhouse and he needed winter gear.

The foreman's wife loved Christmas. She could mother anyone. She taught the cowboys 'bout the birth of Heavenly Father's Son.

She reminded all the cowboys, "You'll be home on Christmas Day. But Axel is alone, could use a gift or two his way."

The cowboys had no money, so they chose a piece of tack. Floyd had an extra rope of horsehair dyed in black.

Wilbur found two right hand mitts and pulled one inside out. Axel would have a proper pair just good enough to tout.

Whitey had a second coat which no one did back then. He wrapped it in a gunny sack and placed in Axel's bin.

Dalley spent the day in town. The feed store had a hat. The owner said, "It's yours for free." Can't beat a deal like that.

The foreman's wife was quite a gal. She made a brand-new shirt. She tore up one old tablecloth and one well worn-out skirt.

With presents wrapped and put away, those cowboys felt akin to a quiet man who they called friend. Now Christmas settled in.

Axel woke up Christmas morning, went out to do the chores. He fed the cows and gathered eggs, swung open all their doors.

Axel wondered if this Christmas Day he'd be alone. The cold wind, unforgiving, chilled him right down to the bone.

Then walking back toward the house, he noticed teams and sleighs with cowboys and their families too, tucked tightly in the hay.

They all sat down for breakfast. It was dang near half past ten. Then the foreman's wife set out the gifts to Axel from the men.

The tears of joy that freely flowed which once seemed out of place were now a part of this old cowboy's worn and grizzled face.

With children smiling back at him he heard the foreman say, "Merry Christmas to you Axel on this very special day."

Wolf trapping opens in most occupied grizzly bear habitat

Effective immediately, Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks is opening wolf trapping season in all areas of occupied grizzly bear habitat across the state, with the exception of deer and elk hunting district (HD) 130 in northwest Montana (See map).

In August, the Montana Fish and Wildlife Commission approved wolf hunting and trapping regulations for the 2022 season, which ends March 15, 2023. The regulations include a floating start date for wolf trapping in occupied grizzly bear habitat. The intent of the floating start date is to avoid conflict with grizzly bears that have yet to den for the winter. Wolf trapping in these areas opens Dec. 31 unless FWP opens it early due to a decline in grizzly bear activity.

FWP makes a decision opening trapping in occupied bear habitat each Monday in December with input from field staff on bear activity.

Wolf trapping is open in all areas of the state now, with the exception of HD 130. Hunters and trappers should note that wolf harvest quotas exist in each FWP trapping district and wolf management unit 313. Those harvest quotas can be viewed and followed on the FWP Wolf Dashboard.

Wolf hunters and trappers should make sure to be familiar with the 2022 Furbearer, Wolf and Trapping Regulations, which include maps of occupied grizzly bear habitat.

Public Service Announcement

With more cold weather predicted, the City of Dillon would like to remind homeowners to take measures to prevent their pipes from freezing. Here are several tips: (1) allow a small trickle of water from your cold water faucet in your kitchen to run to keep pipes from freezing. The cost of the extra water is low compared to the cost to repair a broken pipe; (2) keep garage doors closed if there are water supply lines in the garage; (3) open kitchen and bathroom cabinets to allow warmer air circulation around the plumbing and also remember to move any harmful cleaners and household chemicals out of reach of children; (4) If you will be going away during the cold weather, leave the heat on in your home, set to a temperature no lower than 55 degrees Fahrenheit.

Last winter was an unusual winter with so many service lines freezing throughout the community. The City of Dillon recommends to citizens to keep a small trickle running as a preventative measure to keep their service lines from freezing. If you have had problems in the past we encourage you to run a small trickle of water from your cold water faucet in your kitchen. This of course is at the customers discretion, as the cost of running water is at their expense.

The City of Dillon would like to wish everyone Happy Holidays and Merry Christmas!

The Master's University the game started by taking a 9-2 lead over the Bulldogs in the first three minutes of the game. Ky Kouba was a perfect five for five from the arc as he led the Bulldogs in scoring for the first half with 16 points.

The Mustangs started the second half by going on a 16-6 scoring run across an eight-minute stretch to cut the Bulldog lead down to just two points at 48-46. Deontavius Smith broke the Mustang attack with a jump shot at the top of the key to push the Bulldogs lead back to four. With 10:16 left in the game, Jok Jok drew a foul on a timely dunk that brought the score to 55-48. Back-to-back threes and a jump shot for the Mustangs at 8:43 gave TMU their first lead since the first four minutes of the game. TMU continued to pressure the Bulldogs by taking a five-point lead with over five minutes to play. Ky Kouba made a layup with 33 seconds remaining in the game to cut the Mustang lead down to three. TMU clung to the lead to finish the game up 74-68.

The Bulldogs finished up their road stand today and will take a break for the holidays. Their next game will be a Frontier Conference home matchup against the University of Providence at 4pm MST in Dillon, Mont on Jan. 5. Providence is 6-6 overall with three matchups before the Bulldogs see them on Jan. 5.
