Dillon Volunteer Fire Department Called Out To Structure Fire Off Bond Road

Jeremy Crawford Southwestern Montana News

The Dillon Volunteer Fire Department was called out to a structure fire off Bond Road. A shop located off the main residence was engulfed in flames. Responders acted quickly after arriving on scene to keep the fire contained to just the shop. As of now, it is looking like the shop is a complete loss, as flames can be seen coming out of the roof. Firefighters have been able to keep the fire contained to the shop and stop it from spreading. Firefighters were able to save a few tools from the shop. Cause of the fire has not yet been fully determined but it may have been from the pellet

Dillon Friends of Music fundraiser Update

Thanks to all of the generous folks of Dillon who contributed to the Dillon Friends of Music cheese, meat and candy fundraiser. Thank you so much for your patience as we know our items have taken a little extra time to get to you. While we were originally supposed to receive the items the second week in December as we have in years past, the delivery truck coming from Kansas was significantly delayed so we apologize that our deliveries are running behind. While a very small number of items will be arriving the first week of the New Year, the rest of the items have been handed off to the students and should be delivered to you very shortly. Thanks again for your patience and for your support of our Band and Choir students through the Dillon Friends of Music.

RMEF Helps Expand Montana's Largest Wildlife Management Area

Montana's largest wildlife management area offers more room to roam for hunters, anglers and others thanks to a collaborate effort led by the Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation.

RMEF teamed up with private landowners with a history of conserving and opening public access to elk habitat by acquiring and conveying 829 acres to Montana Fish, Wildlife and Parks (FWP), which added the land to the now 56,980-acre Mount Haggin Wildlife Management Area.

"Buyers noted the beauty and potential of this acreage and reached out to Roger and Gayle Burnett about it, but they chose wildlife and conservation over development. We salute and thank them for their conservation ethic and values," said Kyle Weaver, RMEF president and CEO.

About 30 miles west of Butte, the property features open grasslands with sagebrush and bitterbrush foothills as well as aspen, willows and forestland. It supplies elk with winter, calving and summer range as well as important habitat for mule deer, moose, pronghorn antelope and other wildlife.

Because portions of Willow Creek and Mill Creek cross the property, in addition to various springs, the resulting wetlands and riparian habitat are vital for brook trout, westslope cutthroat trout, other fish species, beavers and more bird and animal species.

In 2016, the Burnetts worked with RMEF to see their 800-acre property near Georgetown Lake acquired and conveyed to the Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest. That transaction conserved and opened access to the land while also improving access to 5,500 acres of adjacent public land.

Project partners include hunters thanks to Pittman-Robertson excise taxes, Habitat Montana, Heart of the Rockies, and the Montana Fish and Wildlife Conservation Trust. RMEF also committed $37,000 to help FWP with set-up and future property management improvements including fencing, invasive weed control, signage and maps.

Public Comment Open for Basin Creek - Butte Watershed Project

The Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest (BDNF) is seeking public comment on the Basin Creek - Butte Watershed Project, located on National Forest System lands approximately 12 miles south of Butte, MT. The Basin Creek - Butte Watershed Project is designed to protect the Basin Creek Municipal Watershed by restoring and improving the characteristics of forest composition and structure. The project aims to do this by reducing the risk of uncharacteristic wildfire effects on the watershed and creating conditions to help maintain a high-quality, resilient, long-term water supply.

"It is very critical that the fuels situation in the Basin Creek Municipal Watershed is addressed as soon as possible," said Jim Keenan, Chief Operator of the Butte - Silver Bow Water Utility. "Given the immense quantity of beetle-killed lodgepole pine in the watershed along with the steep slopes and erodible granitic soils, our concern is that a high severity wildfire in the watershed could render the Basin Creek Municipal Water Supply (and recently constructed $30M Basin Creek Water Treatment Plant) unusable for up to a decade, maybe longer."

The Basin Creek-Butte Watershed Project was planned and designed collaboratively with project partners and stakeholders including the Montana Department of Natural Resources and Conservation, the City and County of Butte-Silver Bow, the Beaverhead-Deerlodge Working Group and many other interested stakeholders. The BDNF has led many fieldtrips to the project sight over the course of the past year with our partners.

"I would like to thank all of our partners, and especially the Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest employees who have worked so diligently to move the Basin Creek project forward," said Lisa Timchak, BDNF Forest Supervisor.

The Forest Service is proposing fuels reduction treatments to provide for the protection and improvement of forest conditions within the municipal watershed. This project would consider a variety of vegetation treatments on nearly 2,500 acres of National Forest lands. Treatment options consist of cut-pile-burning, regeneration harvest, thinning, and a shaded fuel break.

"I welcome public feedback that will help make this important project a success. The Basin Creek watershed is a vital part of Butte's water system, providing clean and reliable water that we all use daily," says Tim Lahey, Butte District Ranger.

The public can access complete information on the project website at <http://www.fs.usda.gov/project/?project=63295>. Instructions for how the public can comment on the project can be found at this site via the "Get Connected" tab. Any questions may be directed to the Butte Ranger District Office at (406) 494-2147.

NO BINGO THURSDAY

Because of the extreme cold and wind chills that are being predicted for Thursday, the Elks leadership has decided to cancel Bingo for Thursday night, December 22. We are concerned for the safety of our community members and want everyone to stay warm and safe. We hope to see everyone on Christmas Day from 11-4 for our Community Christmas Dinner.

Public Service Announcement

With more cold weather predicted, the City of Dillon would like to remind homeowners to take measures to prevent their pipes from freezing. Here are several tips: (1) allow a small trickle of water from your cold water faucet in your kitchen to run to keep pipes from freezing. The cost of the extra water is low compared to the cost to repair a broken pipe; (2) keep garage doors closed if there are water supply lines in the garage; (3) open kitchen and bathroom cabinets to allow warmer air circulation around the plumbing and also remember to move any harmful cleaners and household chemicals out of reach of children; (4) If you will be going away during the cold weather, leave the heat on in your home, set to a temperature no lower than 55 degrees Fahrenheit.

Last winter was an unusual winter with so many service lines freezing throughout the community. The City of Dillon recommends to citizens to keep a small trickle running as a preventative measure to keep their service lines from freezing. If you have had problems in the past we encourage you to run a small trickle of water from your cold water faucet in your kitchen. This of course is at the customers discretion, as the cost of running water is at their expense.

The City of Dillon would like to wish everyone Happy Holidays and Merry Christmas!

Veteran's Corner #183

By Mike Lawson

Greetings to those of you who read my SW MT Veteran update articles. Our weather has been difficult for traveling, with whiteout conditions and slippery roads, because of the snow/cold conditions that we've experienced as of late. Driving the DAV Van, I picked up a Veteran who was being released from the hospital after having surgery. Getting on the interstate to return to Butte, we experienced near white-out conditions, in bumper to bumper traffic between Bozeman and Belgrade. Living in Montana in the winter, can be challenging at times and extreme caution is the order of the day. This week, when this column comes out, the below zero temperatures will be plaguing Montana, before Christmas. It's extremely important to dress for it if you're outside, and staying inside is a good consideration. (Burr!!)

When our Veterans went to Boot Camp, they bonded with the veterans that they spent that specialized period of time with. They went on to attend training/schooling for their MOS (Military Occupational Skill) before being assigned to the military-units, who made use of their particular trained skills. The bond between some of these veterans while on active duty, especially when in combat, are deep and never forgotten. Upon being discharged, and creating a life apart from the military, veterans lose track of one another, but never forget those they bonded with. Reunions are a good way to reconnect, doing searches on vet sites, etc.. But at times something happens, when you just happen to run into each other. This just happened to me. I went to Boot Camp on July 21, 1965 with another guy, named Steve Fisher, from Bozeman, Mt.. I was 17yrs old and

Steve had just turned 18. It was the first time I had ever been on an airplane and this airplane flew us to San Diego, California, for a life changing experience, to put it mildly, called Boot Camp. The Marine Corps Recruit Depot was located next to the airport there. It was a jarring experience to begin with and was as close to prison that I ever wanted to be. Steve and I were in the same Platoon and endured all the training and challenges we were forced to endure, together with the other platoon members. Upon graduation we were proud to be qualified to wear the Eagle, Globe and Anchor and be called a United States Marine. We then went to Infantry Training Regiment for two weeks, followed by going to our different MOS training. Being sent to different MOS training schools, we lost track of one another, but we had that bond. Over the 62 years since then, I tried to get in contact with Steve, but couldn't connect and accepted the fact that it would probably never happen. Well, it did happen last week at Fort Harrison. I had a medical appointment, checked in and went to the waiting area to be called in. As I went into this area I saw a guy sitting in a wheelchair wearing a marine utility cover (hat) with the Eagle Globe & Anchor emblem on it. His wife was sitting near him. As I always do, I said "Hello Marine, when were you in?". He replied, "1965 to 1969" to which I said "really, that's when I was in". I then asked him when he went to Boot Camp and he replied, "July of 1965". A light came on in my head and I said, "I think you and I left Butte together for San Diego and went to Boot Camp together. As it turned out, Steve and I reunited and are corresponding, with his wife Susan, helping. Steven is suffering from an Agent Orange sickness that affects his veins and body, so Susan is his caretaker. She has sent me bootcamp pictures from Steve's bootcamp album, that he bought at the time of graduation and I did not. Getting those pictures was a real gift. It's a miracle we reconnected and I'm looking forward to our renewed friendship. A Christmas present indeed.

Saturday was a day that saw our Marine Corp League member, David Well and myself, have the honor and fun at playing Santa Claus as we delivered bags of toys to needy families in Whitehall and in Dillon. Carol Cogdill and Amber Wagner were our TFT representatives in Whitehall who helped us distribute toys to the 35 families who were lined up in their cars waiting for us. We then went back to Butte to load up my hunting trailer with toy bags for 32 families in Dillon. The Les Schwab Tire Store is the TFT point of contact there, and the parking lot was full of folks waiting for our arrival. These folks were very appreciative, which is gratifying in knowing that our Toys For Tots Campaign is making a difference, in the lives of those folks and their children. Our TFT representative in Twin Bridges, Jordan Pettigrew, also took toys for families in the Ruby Valley. These local TFT volunteers who are getting applications out to needy families in their areas, including Paul and his crew at Les Schwab Tires, are to be thanked and commended for helping folks in their communities, in this way. Our TFT Campaign in Butte and the areas I just mentioned, will be finished this week, as Christmas will be Sunday. Many thanks to all of you who helped and donated toys and money. Many happy faces will be on all the kids who have presents to unwrap that they wouldn't have had otherwise.

The Holidays are here but there's a big surge in Covid and Flu cases in SW MT., so please be cautious. For you who are a veteran, free Covid-19 Booster and flu shots are available at VA clinics. Check with the new VA CBOC, near Three Bears here in Butte or at Ft Harrison.

There's a big push to hire people in the VA, as the PACT Act has opened the doors for many veterans to be qualified for Veteran care at the VA, that were not qualified before. The increase in hiring of qualified personnel will be a big plus for good Veteran care. If any of you are looking for work and would like to work for the VA, check with the Job Service or with the VA on-line.

Christmas is on Sunday and the forecast is for bitter cold this week. There's a lot of indoor activities available and good places to go out to eat with family and friends. It's a time that is made for gatherings to uplift our spirits. I wish you all the warmest of greetings, in enjoying this special season. Stay safe, stay warm.

Until next time, take care.
