Secretary Christi Jacobsen addresses Montana House to open 68th Legislative Session

Montana's 68th Legislative Session is officially underway.

Montana Secretary of State Christi Jacobsen addressed the Montana House of Representatives on Monday, helping usher in the 68th Session. Legislators from across Montana were sworn into office as representatives and senators attended the first House and Senate Floor Sessions of the year.

"Each member of this body brings a unique value in creating the future of this state. My hope is that your knowledge in your area of strength is heard and understood by your fellow colleagues," said Secretary Jacobsen, "and that you trust and listen to your fellow colleagues in their area of expertise to collectively pass laws that support the Constitution and improve the way of life for Montanans."

"What an honor you have been entrusted with to deliver on strengthening our state, creating more opportunities, solving challenges, inspiring our youth, and uniting our adults," she continued.

"God bless you, God bless our beautiful state and everyone we serve."

Information about the 68th Legislative Session may be found online via the Montana State Legislature website.

Zoning Questions - By: MJ

One issue on the zoning board I have been hearing about for the past year is language changes needed to add teeth to the "Nuisance Ordinance" document. Note: Yes, there is a definite need to have rules and regulations within the boundaries of a municipality. Question: How much weight should someone's opinion carry without facts? Are the leaders communicating and following the laws? It appeared that on the construction done last summer there was a decision made, involving thousands of taxpayers' dollars that the Council had not been informed of or voted on.

Question: How many offenders are there existing in Dillon and what are the offenses. Is it wood piles, fences, sewage, cars, trailers...? How far do these controlling regulations need to reach? Could it be that "One man's trash is another man's treasure. Worthlessness to one and highly prized to another".

The City Council did pass the 'wordsmithing' changes to zoning document. The teeth that were added to the zoning document were in form of high dollar fines, and a roadway to pass offenders onto the legal system...

In last week's Tribune Examiner, the City Attorney, Mr. Jones wrote an article explaining the language changes. Question: How will the next elected officials and city attorneys interpret the language changes? Are the changes to harsh for the economy in Dillon?

There is a church in town that has done remodeling to the building and put up an electronic reader board sign. Question: Have these changes been taken to the Zoning Board and Council for approval? If not - why not? Note: If council does not make decisions, then the representative of your ward has no way of representing you. You may want to ask The Director of Operations or mayor why some people file for permits with zoning board to get approval and others don't.

If the city officials don't follow the By-laws, City Charter, and other documents, then why should the citizens have to follow regulations? Will the nuisance wordsmith make a difference if leaders do not have a need to follow zoning rulings?

Questions: (1) How about the 'change of use' when Wells Fargo Bank became a church. (2) What about the part of old IGA building that is the home for Beir gymnastics and the (3) Pioneer Furniture building change? It appears these did not go through the zoning board as the document requires. (4) How about the street construction last summer? Was the council kept informed to order to be able to make good decisions for the downtown area? Is there a safety issue in the areas where the curb is higher than the sidewalk? Will these areas be fixed by the contractors before final payments are made by the city?

Possible Solution: Get involved, talk to your elected officials, and ask questions. It is your city and your tax dollars.

Smith River permit application deadline is February 15

Permit applications to float the Smith River will be accepted through Feb. 15. The permit drawing will be held on Feb. 21.

Celebrated for its spectacular scenery, remote location and excellent fishing, floating the Smith River is one of Montana's most sought-after outdoor recreation experiences. Permits are required to float the 59-mile section of river between Camp Baker and Eden Bridge and are issued each year through a lottery. Parties of up to 15 people can float with one permit. A person applying for a Smith River permit must be a minimum of 12 years of age at the time they submit their permit application. There is no age restriction to participate on a Smith River float trip.

Applicants can apply for a Smith River float permit online through the Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks Online Licensing System, and pay a $15 non-refundable permit application fee. Successful Smith River applicants will be notified via email shortly after the lottery drawing is conducted on Feb. 21.

Links within the notification email to successful applicants will allow them to download and print their float permit, as well as access vital and detailed information regarding their upcoming Smith River float. Lottery results will also be available online at stateparks.mt.gov. Those who receive a permit will be contacted by phone two days prior to their scheduled launch date to complete the registration process, which includes declaring boat camps and paying the appropriate float fees.

In addition to the permit lottery, the public may purchase as many $5 Super Permit chances as they wish. The opportunity to purchase chances for the Smith River Super Permit will be available through March 23. The Super Permit drawing will take place on March 29. Super Permit chances may be purchased online through FWP's Online Licensing System.
