Gerald E. "Jerry" Hawkins, 92

September 5, 1930 – February 6, 2023

Jerry Hawkins, 92, of Dillon, died peacefully at home on Monday, February 6, 2023, from congestive heart failure. It might speak to his toughness and spirit to mention that, just eight months before his death, he went on a tandem skydiving adventure with one of his granddaughters and said it was one of the best days of his life. The trip was booked shortly before he began experiencing symptoms of heart failure, but as the date approached, he still felt well enough and decided it was worth the risk, regardless of what his doctor or his worried children thought of the idea. He made the jump safely and couldn't stop smiling about it for weeks.

Jerry was born in Butte on September 5, 1930 and was the eleventh of fourteen children born to Thomas and Cecile Hawkins, both of whom were printers. He attended Butte High School but dropped out to go to work before graduating, as did many young men and women after World War II. Some of that work took him to Sheridan, Montana, where he met Joan Wright, his future wife. He enlisted in the Navy in 1950 and served in the Korean War, with time spent on the Korean peninsula, Guam, and Japan. In June 1953 he returned to Sheridan to marry Joan while on leave from the Navy, and he received an honorable discharge on May 4, 1954, the day his first child, Dee Ann, was born.

After leaving the service, he channeled all his energy into his family, work, and community activities. Dee Ann was followed by daughter Dana in 1955, son Daniel ("Tyke") in 1957, and daughter Darla in 1965. Jerry worked at several newspapers around Montana, including stints in Harlowton, Polson, Roundup, and Butte. In 1960 he moved his family to Dillon and never left. He worked for the Dillon Tribune for a time, and later owned and operated Beaverhead Printing and Office Supply in various locations and configurations over the years. In the 1980's he sold the print shop and pursued other interests such as owning a drive-in restaurant in Sheridan, working as an insurance agent for New York Life and Farm Bureau, and doing regional sales for International Paper. By the 1990's he had returned to the printing business, but vision problems eventually forced him into retirement. His work ethic was legendary, a trait he passed onto all his children.

Jerry made a mark on the community during his 63 years in Dillon. He served for several years as both a member and president of the Dillon city council and as a member of the Barrett Memorial Hospital board. He took leadership roles on several community projects, including the Bicentennial Apartments and the veterans' memorial on North Montana Avenue. He belonged to many clubs and organizations over the years, including Kiwanis and the American Legion, but he was most proud of his 50 years as a member of the Dillon Volunteer Fire Department. His countless friends, colleagues, golf buddies, and political sparring partners will remember his sense of humor, his selfless nature, and his desire to make Dillon a great place to live and raise a family. He loved everyone and really hated only two things: Cucumbers, and anyone knowing that his middle name was Eugene.

Jerry was preceded in death by his wife, Joan; eleven siblings, a grandson, and a great-granddaughter.

He is survived by his youngest siblings (Harry Hawkins and Nancy Landon) and his four children and their families, including nine grandchildren, 20 great-grandchildren and step-great-grandchildren, and many extended family members. His good humor and relentless optimism shone through these last few months, as he continued to hope that he might recover, get back to work in the yard, and go skydiving again. He was an inspiration to the very end.

His children wish to thank his medical providers and hospice nurses for their thoughtful care, as well as his many friends and neighbors (you all know who you are) who provided friendship and a helping hand during these last eleven years without Joan. Anyone who wishes to honor Jerry is encouraged to make a donation to the Dillon Fire Department Association or to any organization of their choice. A memorial service will be planned for this summer in Dillon.

MDT AERONAUTICS BOARD FUNDS PROJECTS FOR FY 2024

The Montana Department of Transportation (MDT) Aeronautics Board approved over $2.85 million in funding during its Helena meeting January 17 - 18, 2023. The requests were for a variety of improvement projects that focused on runway, taxiway, and apron reconstruction, master plans, lighting enhancements, land easements, perimeter fencing, building construction, and snow removal and weather equipment.

A portion of the money awarded in grants and loans each year goes to leverage 90/10 Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) match dollars for large airport construction projects. Over $4.3 million was requested by 31 public-use airports across the state. The Board awarded funds for 58 of 69 different project requests for 27 of Montana's public airports, to include federally and non-federally funded projects.

Any public airport is eligible to apply for assistance through the loan and grant program. Funds can be used for a wide variety of airport and aviation related projects. Applications for the funding are due for submission to MDT's Aeronautics Division on November 15 each year, and the money is typically awarded in January of the following year. Although the money is awarded in January, the funds are not available until the beginning of the next fiscal year which is July 1. During the meeting, the Montana Aeronautics Board reviews the applications and takes public comment before making final award determinations for the upcoming fiscal year.

For more information regarding the program, please contact Karen Hallenbeck, MDT Aeronautics Division, at khallenbeck@mt.gov or call 406-444-9581.

Homicide and arsons arrests made following Fallon fire

Montana Department of Justice (DOJ) Division of Criminal Investigation (DCI) agents made two arrests following a fire in Fallon last month, Attorney General Austin Knudsen announced today.

Sterling Brown, arrested Wednesday in Camp Crook, South Dakota, was charged with deliberate homicide for causing the death of Isaac Carrier in Fallon, Montana on January 23. Brown was also charged with arson for causing the structure fire where Carrier was residing. Jake Burghdoff, arrested Tuesday in Spearfish, South Dakota, was charged with arson and tampering with physical evidence.

The investigation was conducted by DOJ agents and the Prairie County Sheriff's Office, in cooperation with the South Dakota Attorney General's Office Division of Criminal Investigation. The DOJ's State Fire Marshal's Office initially investigated the fire and determined the fire as arson then turned the case over to criminal investigators.

The case is being prosecuted by Prairie County Attorney Daniel Rice and the Montana Attorney General's Office.
