Montana Retired Educators Day March 9, 2023

Montana Retired Educators Day is March 9, 2023. MREA is a part of the National Retired Teachers Association (NRTA). The National Convention, is held in Washington D. C., and meets every fall. The purpose of NRTA is to keep close contact with issues related to retired personnel and to help keep the teacher retirement sound. We are a non-political group concerned with what is happening at the State and Federal levels. We are concerned about various issues and how they affect our retirements. We give representation for those who need a voice to help maintain and secure retirement that is livable. We strive to help those who are retired, maintain a comfortable way of life. When our State Legislators meet, we attend and correspond to express needs we feel should be addressed and improved upon for all concerned.

In Montana, we have celebrated the 2nd Thursday of March as the MREA day since 2014. It was in 2014, Governor Bullock made the proclamation to secure this a special day in honor of those who dedicated their time and many years of service to educating our youth and adults. Our membership is not just limited to teachers. We represent all educators and paraprofessionals involved with students and education. Our organization is nationwide and gives strong support to the needs of education retirees.

We provide many volunteer services to our communities and individual states. In Montana, the state board offers four scholarships to currently teaching Montana teachers who are returning to earn higher degrees in education. Many local Units also offer scholarships to high school students seeking higher education.

Montana retired Educators donate many hours of time as well as give monetary support to help Montana communities. On the average retired educators have recorded an average of 39,000 volunteer hours yearly to community service across the state. We are proud to report that Montana is in the hands of many volunteers who have dedicated their lives to the improvement of their state and communities. Thanks to all who have given their time and talents in order to make life better for us all.

Without volunteers, many communities would not have the availability of programs which are often funded by the various programs MREA units provide. Churches, schools, community projects and community support programs would not maintain the level of success if it weren't for the retired persons' contributions. When you see a retired educator, thank them for their many services to education and the community. Their services are priceless!

Remember to thank the paraprofessionals which include; bus drivers, safety school monitors, janitors, lunch personnel, administrators, therapists, and counselors.

MREA units contribute to food banks, backpack programs, health/hygiene, community concerts, work as school helpers, libraries, walking school bus, book fairs, scholarships, clothes for kids, school supplies, and church programs of which all help to build strong, healthy, communities.

inspection station season

Several watercraft inspection stations begin operation in early March to check snowbird boat traffic returning from mussel-positive areas such as Lakes Mead, Havasu, Pleasant and Powell. Boat owners coming to Montana must have their vessel inspected for aquatic invasive species (AIS) at a Montana watercraft inspection station prior to launch.

The stations near Dillon, Ravalli and Anaconda will open March 11. FWP works closely with partners for station operation and cotracts with the Beaverhead Conservation District for operation of the Dillon station and Confederated Salish and Kootenai Tribes for operation of the Ravalli station. Inspections will also be available at the FWP Region 1 office in Kalispell in March to help accommodate requirements for Mac Days.

During 2022, crews conducted more than 119,000 inspections and intercepted 53 mussel-fouled boats. More than 600 boats were found with aquatic weeds.

Late last year, zebra mussels were detected 70 miles from Montana in Pactola Reservoir near Rapid City, South Dakota. Watercraft inspection efforts are being adjusted to address the threat of zebra mussels moving into Montana from the Black Hills of South Dakota.

Watercraft inspection stations are Montana's first line of defense to prevent the movement of AIS which can have devastating impacts on Montana waterways.

Boat owners should ensure their watercraft, trailers and gear are clean, drained and dry before transporting and need to be aware of Montana's inspection rules:

- All watercraft coming into Montana from out of state must be inspected prior to launching.
- All watercraft traveling west across the Continental Divide into the Columbia River Basin must be inspected prior to launching.
- Anyone transporting watercraft must stop at all open watercraft inspection stations they encounter.
- And all boaters are reminded to always clean drain and dry their boat, live wells, anchors, boots and gear when leaving the water.

UMW & Bank of Commerce Performing Arts Series Presents Off-Broadway Production of "Puffs"

The University of Montana Western's Theatre Department is pleased to present "Puffs, or Seven Increasingly Eventful Years at a Certain School of Magic and Magic" to be performed March 24 - April 2 as part of the 2022-23 Bank of Commerce Performing Arts Series.

For seven years a certain boy wizard went to a certain Wizard School and conquered evil. This, however, is not his story. This is the story of the Puffs... who just happened to be there too. A tale for anyone who has never been destined to save the world.

The New York Times proclaims Puffs, "a fast-paced romp through the 'Seven Increasingly Eventful Years at a Certain School of Magic and Magic.' For POTTERphiliacs who grew up alongside Potter and are eager to revisit that world, 'Puffs' exudes a jovial, winking fondness for all things Harry!"

This clever and inventive play "never goes more than a minute without a laugh" (Nerdist) giving you a new look at a familiar adventure from the perspective of three potential heroes just trying to make it through a magic school that proves to be very dangerous for children. Alongside them are the Puffs, a group of well-meaning, loyal outsiders with a thing for badgers "who are so lovable and relatable, you'll leave the theater wishing they were in the stories all along" (Hollywood Life). Their "hilariously heartfelt!" (Metro) and epic journey takes the classic story to new places and reimagines what a boy wizard hero can be.

Performances will be held at the University of Montana Western's Small Auditorium located in Main Hall 314. Evening shows will begin at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday with a matinee show available at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday, April 2.

This play was written by Matt Cox and will be directed by Montana Western's own Stephen Alan Seder. Parental guidance is recommended for children under 13 due to strong language and suggestive situations.

To purchase tickets, please visit the BOC Performing Arts Series Box Office webpage: (www.umwestern.edu/bank-of-commerce-performing-arts-series/box-office/). Tickets are available at $15 for general admission, $10 for senior, youth, military and UMW faculty/staff, and free for UMW students who present their Bulldog Cards.

For more information on Puffs and all shows in the BOC series, visit www.umwestern.edu/bank-of-commerce-performing-arts-series/ or contact Adjunct Assistant Professor of Theatre, Stephen Seder: stephen.seder@umwestern.edu or 406-683-7038.

ELK MANAGEMENT LEGISLATIVE PACKAGE ADVANCES PAST TRANSMITTAL

By Senator Jeff Welborn (R)

36th Dist. Which includes. Dillon-Big Sky-Butte-Ennis-Lima-Fairmont Hot Springs- Ruby & Big Hole Valleys.

Montana hunters, outfitters, and policymakers are celebrating a package of six bipartisan elk management and hunting-themed bills that have advanced through the Montana legislature's general transmittal deadline.

The package of legislation was rolled out by the Montana Citizens Elk Management Coalition and Montana Outfitters and Guides Association during the 'Elk Camp at the Capitol' event in early January. The package has been described as the first legislative agreement to bring the outfitting, ranching, and hunting communities together since the 2007 legislature.

Representatives from the Montana Citizens Elk Management Coalition, which I'm the lone legislative member, and Montana Outfitters and Guides Association, are behind a package of bills that will collectively improve wildlife management, reduce non-resident hunter pressure, improve incentives for landowners to enroll in state-sponsored access programs to help resolve problematic concentrations of wildlife, and create more trust between landowners, outfitters, and hunters.

The bills that advanced through the general transmittal deadline are sponsored by a group of bipartisan lawmakers and have the support of the Governor's office.

During a press conference last week, Governor Gianforte recognized the collaborative efforts of the groups involved.

I agree with the Governor.

Diverse groups are coming together like never before around this common mission. What has been put together is a package of bills for sportsmen, outfitters and landowners. I say this often, but we have far more in common as Montanans than divides us. Common ground is always there if we are willing to look for it, and work to achieve it.

In other words What we can agree fo around a kitchen table is a far better approach than settling our differences in the court room.

These bills represent small but important steps forward to rebuild trust between hunters, outfitters, and landowners, just as importantly, is to broaden the management toolbox for elk and other species of wildlife. It's important to note no particular organization gets everything they want with this kind of work, but that's the nature of collaboration, and we think it sets us up to find more common ground in the future.

At the end of last legislative session, which turned out to be a rough one for all parties involved, due to divisive types of proposals, I asked all stakeholders, to come together and figure things out. These groups answered the challenge, and these policy agreements are now advancing through the legislature with minimal conflict thanks to the work our respective organizations put in, and thanks to lawmakers in both parties who are championing the results. This is a tremendous example of what can happen when diverse interests agree to sit down and find common ground.

A summary of individual bills is found below:
Improve enrollment in Block Management: SB 58, sponsored by Sen. Steve Hinebauch (R-Wibaux), will increase the annual Block Management payment cap for enrollees to $50,000. Prior to the legislative session there was broad agreement for this concept, which was ultimately endorsed by the Private Land/Public Wildlife council.

Limit non-resident deer licenses to reduce hunter pressure: SB 281, sponsored by Sen. Pat Flowers (D-Belgrade), would reduce the sale of nonresident deer B tags to alleviate crowding on accessible lands. The bill would instruct FWP to sell no more than two B8 antlerless deer licenses to non-residents who draw a big game combination license or nonresident deer combination license, and only allow one antlerless license to be held by other NR hunters.

Improve access to GIS data for hunters: HB2, the state's primary budget bill, sponsored by Rep. Llew Jones (R-Conrad) sets aside funding for a new FWP employee to improve the acquisition and distribution of public access data for use by the state and GPS-based mapping companies. The position will ensure all landowner access agreements, the status of open/closed roads, navigable streams, and other pertinent access information is updated and available as cadastral information. The position will improve the FWP Hunt Planner tool and collaborate with GPS companies.

Improve hunter education: HB 243, sponsored by Rep.

Marylin Marler (D-Missoula), would make an in-person field day with firearm safety training a requirement of FWP's online hunter safety and education course. This legislation was amended in committee to provide FWP additional time to comply with this requirement.

Establish non-resident preference pool: HB 635, sponsored by Josh Kassmier (R-Fort Benton), would establish a non-resident landowner preference pool to encourage landowners to hunt their own deeded lands, incentivize them to enroll in state sponsored public access programs, and reduce hunting pressure on other publicly accessible lands. The bill would set aside up to 15% of B-10 combo licenses for non-resident landowners and family members to hunt deeded lands if they own 2,500 acres or more. The bill incentivizes public access in limited-entry districts where landowners must still apply for and receive a permit. Interested landowners will be able to purchase an additional bonus point for permit applications if they are enrolled in a state-sponsored access program.

Reform 454 access program: HB 596, sponsored by Denley Loge (R-St. Regis), would modify the 454 program to make it a more effective and equitable tool for managing problematic concentrations of elk on private lands. The bill would create a new prescription for a "like" opportunity between the first tag holder and the first hunter selected for the 454 agreements. This bill would also give the commission more authority to negotiate and prioritize applications that offer additional public elk hunting, above the minimum 3:1 ratio.
