Secretary Christi Jacobsen congratulates Made in Montana businesses during 2023 Tradeshow

Montana Secretary of State Christi Jacobsen congratulated the award winners at the 2023 Made in Montana Tradeshow on Friday afternoon at the Lewis and Clark County Fairgrounds. Secretary Jacobsen also thanked each Made in Montana business for attending and displaying its products.

Missoula's The Last Best Store was named the retailer of the year, while 41 Grains of Circle captured the Best in Show honor. Medicine Springs Mineral Therapy of Helena earned an honorable mention nod in the Best of Show category.

Maiden Montana Pet Treats of Lewistown was named the Best in Show New Exhibitor.

"Congratulations to each of the honorees at this year's event," said Secretary Jacobsen. "The Made in Montana program boasts some wonderful local businesses, and we're fortunate to see those businesses on display at the Tradeshow. Thank you for doing business in Montana."

The Last Best Store prides itself as "the first all Montana Made store in the Southgate Mall," according to its Facebook page. The store also "represents over 100 Montana-Made artists and artisans."

Meanwhile, Rex and Kacie Sikveland of 41 Grains have transitioned a first-generation farm into a small flour mill and whole grains packaging company.

"We grow our own chickpeas and we make chickpea flour and chickpea flour products. They're easy, convenient options for gluten-free, homegrown, farm-to-table products," explained Kacie.

41 Grains offers products ranging from mixes for pancakes and waffles to brownies to banana bread.

Maiden Montana Pet Treats is a "multi-generation, Veteran- and family-owned, family-operated small business" in Lewistown that began its journey with a German Shepherd. Trey and Marie Gacke's dog, Abbey, suffered an allergic reaction from a food allergy that nearly took her life. The Gacke Family took it upon themselves to create all-natural beef liver dog treats that were Abbey approved.

"We started giving them out to friends and family ... and we just started (Maiden Montana Pet Treats)," said Trey.

"We like supporting the local ranchers, too," added Marie. "In Lewistown, it's important that we minimize the waste that goes into it. Our dog, our friends' dogs, all the people we meet's dogs, plus the ranchers are benefiting."

Medicine Springs Mineral Therapy is the "only ones in the world who do what we do," explained Brandon Price. "We take the mineral analysis of famous hot springs from all over the world, bring it back, separate out the compounds and package them so people can turn their bathtubs or hot tubs into these world famous hot springs. ... It brings a whole new element to soaking and wellness and natural health."

All four award-winning businesses began their journey by registering with the Secretary of State's Office.

"Montana is blessed with so many wonderful businesses run by our family, friends, and neighbors," said Secretary Jacobsen. "Our office is honored to assist with their beginnings and serve them as they continue to grow."

Patrick Jensen Next Men's Basketball Coach

The University of Montana Western Athletics Department has removed the interim tag and named Patrick Jensen as the next head coach of the men's basketball program.

"As I was thinking about our next head coach, I wanted to find someone that could build a program long term, develop a culture of winning and most importantly, have a positive impact on the lives of current and future Bulldogs," Director of Athletics Michael Feuling said.

Jensen, who will be the 13th head coach in program history, served as the Bulldogs' Associate Head Coach over the course of the last five seasons.

"I want to thank Chancellor Reid and Director of Athletics Michael Feuling for believing in me and for this amazing opportunity," Patrick Jensen said.

"With Pat's deep basketball connections throughout the state of Montana, we have been fortunate these past three years to keep him in Dillon," added Feuling. "He is well respected and in years past, has even turned down other offers. He has shown his commitment to UMW, our student-athletes, the campus community, and the city of Dillon. He has earned this chance to lead our program."
