In Celebration of Earth: a Violin & Piano Concert in Dillon

"In Celebration of Earth" will be presented at 3:00, Sunday, April 2, 2023, at the First Presbyterian Church in Dillon. Through moods of beauty and solace, elements of earth-themed repertoire, and local composers, the concert carves space for reflection on the changing climate. The program featuring primarily Modern as well as Romantic era music for violin and piano is performed by Bozeman Symphony concertmaster violinist Carrie Krause and MSU piano professor Julie Gossweiler and presented by Baroque Music Montana's "Beyond Baroque" series.

The opening Metis fiddle tune from the Fort Peck Reservation will be followed by Brahms' Carinthian Lake-inspired Sonata No. 1 and then night music by John Cage and Lili Boulanger. Danaus by MSU student composer Thomas Meinzen traces the life and migration of the Western Monarch. Blue Curve of the Earth by Tina Davidson, commissioned by famed violinist Hilary Hahn, was composed in Wyoming at the Ucross artist retreat. Pulitzer prize-winning composer John Luther Adams wrote Three High Places for solo violin, inspired by an Alaskan childhood haunt of Carrie's.

Tickets are $15 general, $5 students and are available to purchase at the concert or in advance at baroquemusicmontana.org. For local information, please contact Charlene Loge (406) 683-4344.

DEADLINE FOR DEER AND ELK PERMIT APPLICATIONS IS APRIL 1

Hunters have until April 1 to apply for deer and elk licenses, but they shouldn't wait for the last minute. Get it done now.

Hunters who are applying for special licenses and permits need to have a valid email address. Hunters can apply for permits on the FWP website. If hunters want to apply in person, FWP offices are open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Hunters and anglers can also take advantage of the MyFWP mobile app, if they haven't already. The app holds and displays licenses, permits and E-Tags, which can be downloaded and used in the field without cell service. Hunters and anglers will need a MyFWP account to use the app, which is a secure and convenient digital profile that stores licenses, permits and related information.

To create a new account, visit the MyFWP login page. Users need to make sure to link their ALS number to the MyFWP account to ensure their hunting and fishing licenses are attached to their MyFWP account.

A MyFWP account is not used to apply for permits or to make purchases. Purchases and applications are done through the online licensing system.

Hunters will also still have the option to print copies of licenses they purchase online or at FWP offices.

If people have questions, the FWP licensing call center will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. through April 1; after April 1, the hours will return to 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The call center can be reached at 406-444-2950.

Remember, if you're applying for a special license or permit, you will need to have a valid email address.

RMEF Conveys Black Hills Habitat to Public; Benefits
Elk, Mule Deer and Hunting Opportunity

The Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation successfully collaborated with two local landowners to acquire and convey 239 acres of big game habitat in western South Dakota to the Black Hills National Forest (BKF). The property, previously a private inholding within BKF, is now in the public's hands and open for hunting and other recreational activities.

"This project not only protects habitat and connectivity for elk, mule and whitetail deer, turkey and other game species but it ensures quality hunting opportunities today and for future generations," said Kyle Weaver, RMEF president and CEO. "Properties surrounded by national forest lands are at risk of development, which would create impacts for wildlife and recreation throughout the surrounding forest. And for that reason, the U.S. National Forest Service considered this property a high priority."

The property is in the heart of Black Hills elk country, home to more than 6,000 elk. Located near Hill City, it features aspen and mixed conifer habitats, meadows and grasslands that supply abundant wildlife habitat.

"The Black Hills National Forest is very excited about this acquisition, which secures and protects these lands for future wildlife conservation efforts and public recreation opportunities, and values the partnership with RMEF to negotiate and facilitate this purchase," said Meagan Buehler, Black Hills National Forest lands program manager.

Since the headwaters of Cold Springs Creek originate on the property, it provides quality riparian habitat for mammals, reptiles, amphibians and birds including waterfowl, songbirds and raptors.

The Land and Water Conservation Fund supplied recreational access funding for the project.

RMEF previously carried out dozens of conservation and habitat projects in the region including Wildcat Canyon and Grand Canyon of the Black Hills, just across the border in Wyoming.

Johnny Appleseed

By "Swede" Troedsson

I retired from the U.S Forest Service in May, 1994. Because I held an Air Support Group Supervisor rating, a critical shortage category, I kept accepting fire assignments as a temporary State of Montana employee.

That summer, I was dispatched to a fire on state land just south of Bonner, Montana. I was only on that fire four days. Our camping area was located in a huge patch of spotted knapweed. Knapweed is an exotic invasive weed that is easily spread by humans and animals. In those days we firefighters received no instructions on how to prevent the spread of this weed.

Shortly after I returned home, I was repacking my fire pack on my living room floor. I initially could not find my little Maglite flashlight. Then it hit me that it was probably in one of the inside pockets of the tent I carried to fires.

When I turned my tent inside out to look for my flashlight, knapweed seeds and stems poured onto my living room floor. I was stunned! In just four days, my boots had dragged lots of potentially harmful knapweed seeds into my tent! GAWD!! I had been accepting fire assignments from Florida to Alaska! Was I spreading this noxious weed across the continent?

I recently visited with a Forest Service hydrologist, and a recently retired Bureau of Land Management employee. Both of them assured me that today fire fighters are instructed on how to prevent the spread of noxious weeds. Mechanized equipment is steam cleaned before being dispatched to a fire. Things have changed for the better!

Congratulations to our doubles badminton tournament winners. The final four consisted of the following teams: Cooper Abbey and Titus Thomas versus Eli Johnson and Tanner Reis, and Bailey Blake and Milee Vezina versus Cash Hoffman and Canin Christiansen. The competition was fierce, the losses were heartbreaking. In the end, the championship game was played by Cash Hoffman and Canin Christiansen versus Cooper Abbey and Titus Thomas. In the end, the win went to Cash and Canin. Great job guys. Who knew badminton could be so fun? Thank you, Mr. Williams for such a fun lunch time competition.

Dillon Middle School is excited to announce the new HOPE Squad peer to peer suicide prevention program. Earlier this month, a peer nomination process was held for all 6th, 7th and 8th grade students. And, following the peer nominations, 13 students were invited and accepted their new roles on the 1st Hope Squad!

Hope squad members have already been trained in recognizing warning signs, and encouraging those that may be struggling to speak to a trusted adult. They are beginning to plan for Hope Days, which are lunch time activities that all middle school students are invited to participate in. We are so happy to have this new program in our school.

Our spring break is coming up. The short break will begin with a half day on Wednesday, April 5th. It will continue through Monday April 10th. Students will return to school Tuesday, April 11th.

This Friday is our school dance. It's a back to the 80s theme and costs $5. Also, water will be sold for $1. We have a photo booth and pictures cost $1 and will be taken until we are sold out. So, come to the DMS dance on Friday, from 6:30 to 8:30 PM.

Life can sometimes be hard. What's hard on adults is just as hard, if not more, on kids. Resilience, the ability to adapt to challenges, is the most important tool a parent can give a child. Learn more about resilience by joining the Beaverhead County ACEs Task Force. We're focused on building healthy families in our community.
