Prolonged winter weather may lead to more winter-killed animals

Southwest Montana this year may see more winter-killed animals than normal due to prolonged winter weather.

Winter mortality is normal for wildlife. Limited forage and cold temperatures make this a stressful season for them as they rely on fat reserves to survive. This winter, however, has been particularly stressful, and wildlife mortality will continue during spring months.

This increases the likelihood that residents and recreationists will encounter animal carcasses on the landscape. Here are some answers to common questions people may have as they encounter and deal with winter-killed animals.

How can I help wildlife this time of year?

The best thing residents and recreationists can do to help wildlife is give the animals plenty of space and keep pets from harassing wildlife. This helps wildlife retain the energy they need to survive. Never feed wildlife. Artificially feeding wildlife can lead to disease and is illegal.

How will impacts to wildlife populations be monitored?

This time of year is when biologists conduct annual flights and counts of deer, elk, pronghorn, bighorn sheep and other species. These surveys often include classifications of adults and young. This data helps biologists track population recruitment and can influence adjustments to hunting season structures.

An animal has died on my property. What can I do?

Wildlife live and die on public and private lands. When an animal dies on private land, it is the landowner's responsibility to dispose of the carcass if they so choose. Some waste disposal companies may be available to help. If the carcass is removed, it must be taken to a landfill. Dumping carcasses on public land is illegal and can spread diseases, including chronic wasting disease.

What should I do if I encounter an animal carcass while recreating?

Animal carcasses are a major seasonal food source for bears in some areas. Bears, especially grizzlies, can be defensive of these food sources. For this reason, recreationists should avoid carcass sites. Watch for ravens and other scavengers that may indicate if an animal carcass is nearby. If you find a large carcass on or near a trail on public land, contact the applicable land management agency.

What wildlife mortalities should be reported to FWP?

There are some circumstances when staff at Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks may be interested in wildlife mortality reports. FWP staff will determine case by case whether a response is needed. These might include:

- Any animal seen alive with unusual symptoms, such as immobility, drooling, staggering, very poor body condition, and drooping head and ears

- Multiple sick or dead animals in the same area, particularly among domestic animals
- Individual animals recently deceased with evidence of disease, such as abscesses, severe diarrhea, and excessive mucous or puss from eyes and nostrils
- Mortalities of bighorn sheep, moose, mountain goats or other rare species
- An animal that dies due to possible criminal activity; FWP's hotline for reporting crimes against wildlife is 1-800-TIP-MONT

What wildlife situations does FWP typically not respond to? Most aspects of natural wildlife behavior and mortality don't need to be reported. These include:

- Live animals that react normally to human presence by leaving the area, even if injured
- Animals that appear thin or have rough hair coat during winter and spring but are behaving normally
- Individual deer and elk that likely died of natural causes or trauma (e.g. vehicle collision)

Lady Beavs Softball

We played in Corvallis (weather was beautiful) and lost a heartbreaker 6-9. In the top of the 6th we had bases loaded and no outs, but left them stranded for 3 straight outs. So close, and yet so far...

Adyson Creighton did an outstanding job on the mound walking only 2, striking out 7 and giving up only 3 earned runs on 9 hits. Bridget Lovaas was solid at 3rd making 2 diving catches. And Emily Brevig did a great job at catcher. The Lady Beavs tallied 10 hits on the day. 8th grader Bailey Blake lead the team hitting going 2 for 3, with 2 runs and 1 RBI. Lovaas (also an 8th grader) knocked in 2 runs on a standup double. Sophomore, Tyler Gibson, went 2 for 5 with 2 RBIs. Freshman, Emma Johnston went 1 for 2 with 2 RBI's. And Junior, Emily Brevig went 2 for 4.

Dillon Tree Board's Tree Cost Share Program

If you have a location in need of a tree, the Dillon Tree Board can help. The Tree Board cost/share program provides the opportunity for private homeowners to participate in enhancing the beauty of Dillon. Homeowners can purchase a tree for just $75. The city and Tree Board cover the remaining portion of the purchase price. Trees can be planted on city owned land which includes the boulevards, Swenson Way, city parks, schools, or Mountainview Cemetery. The program is first come, first served, and limited to funds available.

Several species of trees are available, including Amur Chokecherry, Northern Acclaim Honey locust, Japanese Tree Lilac, and Bur Oak. You can pick up an application or find out more information about the program at City Hall, the MT DNRC office, or the Tree Board website at www.dillontrees.org. The trees will be planted by Tree Board members and volunteers in mid-May.

The funding for the project is derived in full or in part from a federal award of the U.S. Forest Service, Department of Agriculture, sub-awarded by the Montana Department of Natural Resources and Conservation (DNRC), Forestry Division. The city matches the grant funding at 100% to accomplish project work.

Since 2008, the Dillon Tree Board has secured over $238,500 in funding to enhance Dillon's urban forest. The mission of the Tree Board is to preserve, enhance, and expand our community forest through educating the public and promoting community involvement and individual dedication.

MHP partners with Montana Buffalo Wild Wings restaurants to raise funds for Trooper Johnson's recovery

The Montana Highway Patrol is partnering with Montana Buffalo Wild Wings restaurants across the state to raise funds that will help support Trooper Lewis Johnson's recovery. On Wednesday, April 12, Montana Buffalo Wild Wings restaurants across the state will donate 20% of sales from all guests who display the flier below.

Trooper Johnson suffered life-threatening injuries in February while law enforcement was apprehending a fleeing suspect near Eureka. He is recovering at Craig Hospital in Englewood, Colorado doing daily physical and occupational therapy.

Sixty-five new officers who will serve in 40 agencies across the state graduated Tuesday from the Montana Law Enforcement Academy (MLEA), which is part of the Montana Department of Justice. MLEA provides basic and advanced training for state, county, city, and tribal law enforcement officers throughout the state.

Dillon Middle School News April 10-14

Today, Monday, we are still enjoying our last day of spring break. I hope everyone has had a relaxing and refreshing spring break.

The lunch menu for the week is as follows: today, Tuesday, we will enjoy chili cheesesteak hoagies. Wednesday, local beef hamburgers will be served. Thursday, scrambled eggs will be served with sausage and hashbrowns. And on Friday, cheeseburger soup will be served with a dinner roll.

Book club continues to be well attended. Last week, the students met to discuss the books they had been reading. The new book choices for April for book club members are: "Squirm" by Carl Hiaasen, "Between Shades of Gray" by Ruta Sepetys, and "City of the Plague Gods" by Sarwat Chadda.

Congratulations to Landri Hartman for becoming the new DMS ping pong champion. She first beat Gage Curnow in the semi-final round and went on to beat Declan Oswald in the championship. Both were worthy opponents. Great job to all who participated. Thank you Mr. Williams for the fun lunch time competition.

Track will travel to Hamilton on Friday. Paperwork will come home with each track member this week. Parents, the bus will leave promptly at 6 AM. Unfortunately, we cannot wait for late arrivals, so please make sure you are outside the school and ready to go 15 minutes before departure time.

Track members must come prepared for all types of weather. Also, they must pack food for the day. We will briefly stop on the way home if tracksters want to purchase food items. Please bring money if you are interested in this.
