For Kyle Christian Andersen, age 48, death came much too soon, and took from us a husband, a father, a son, a brother, and a friend.

Results are in for the annual Rotary Club of Dillon Ice Melt fundraiser. The ice on Logan Pond melted and the clock was stopped on April 11th at 12:58:37 PM, which is the latest calendar date for the Ice Melt event in at least twenty years.

The first and third prize winner for the best guesses was John Warren, who guessed the ice would melt on April 11th at 10:14:30 AM, or on April 12th at 1:30:30. He will receive a total of $600 for both prizes. The $200 second prize will be awarded to Carolyn Van Slyke for her guess of April 11th at 2:36:05 PM.

The winners are invited to be guests for lunch at the next Rotary Club meeting on April 26th at which they will receive their prizes.

Jim

Jim was AMAZED! He had never seen such a phenomenon! I explained to Jim that I would paddle up to the edge of the hole, and drop a hook baited with worms into the hole. The limit of 5 fish was caught in about 20 minutes!

On the way home Jim informed me that he was going to request that Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks establish a one fish limit on the lake. He did not want me cleaning out the honey hole!

Dang! He got it done! The current limit on Otter Lake is "---1 rainbow trout daily and in possession." (2023 FWP Montana Fishing Regulations, p. 67).

O. Alan Weltzien Writers Series Presents Author Keema Waterfield

The University of Montana Western English Department is pleased to announce an upcoming reading and conversation with Keema Waterfield on Friday, April 28 from 5:00-6:30 p.m. in the Bulldog Lounge as part of the O. Alan Weltzien Writers Series.

Waterfield received an MFA from the University of Montana and is the award-winning author of "Inside Passage", a nomadic childhood memoir set along the wild coast of Southeast Alaska. Waterfield has written for The New York Times, WIRED, Brevity, Scary Mommy, INSIDER, and others.

She lives in Missoula, where she moonlights as a stand-up comic when she's not wrangling her husband and two children, a bunch of extra instruments she doesn't know how to play, and a revolving cast of rescue animals. She lives and writes on Séliš and Qlispé land. Find her on Twitter and Instagram @keemasaurusrex or visit <https://keemawaterfield.com> to learn.

The event, free and open to the public, will be the second in this year's visiting authors series, named after retired Montana Western Professor Emeritus of English, Dr. Alan O. Weltzien.

'New business registrations rise again in March'

Montana Secretary of State Christi Jacobsen announced that new business registrations in the state rose again in March as Montanans opened new businesses across the state.

Roughly 5,500 new business registrations were filed in March, the highest monthly total to date in 2023. Montana saw record new business registration in 2022, with some 53,000 filed with the state throughout the calendar year.

Secretary Jacobsen announced 2022's record registration in January. In 2022, the Secretary cut registration fees in half for Montana businesses, while waiving several other fees entirely.

"We're proud to make it easier to do business in Montana," said Secretary Jacobsen. "Montanans now have lower fees."

According to the Montana Business Economic Report, more than 15,000 new business registrations have been filed through the first three months of 2023.

Spring black bear hunting season opens April 15

Here are some reminders for the 2023 season:

There is a 48-hour reporting requirement for all black bear harvests. The mandatory inspection of black bear harvests in Region 1 changed in 2022. See page 10 of the black bear hunting regulations for more information.

It is lawful to use hounds to train and/or hunt for spring black bears in some areas. See page 4 of the black bear hunting regulations for more information.

Hunting and fishing licenses are now accessible through a secure and convenient mobile app. The Montana MyFWP app provides a digital wallet to store and display licenses and digital carcass tags, known as E-Tags, that can validate your harvest in the field. See mt.gov/myfwpp.
