Sponsor Dillon Farmers Market

Market season is upon us and the Dillon Farmers Market is calling for sponsors! Sponsoring the market is a great way to support local producers, give back to the community, and increase exposure for your business. The Dillon Farmers Market is supported financially by vendor (booth) fees, sponsorships, and donations. Vendors retain all their sales income; the market does not receive a percentage of vendor sales. The market operates on a small annual budget which supports an array of operating expenses including insurance, city permits, promotions, marketing, a market master, supplies, merchandise, and event attractions. The ultimate goal of sponsorships is to keep vendor costs as low as possible, increase market customers, improve customer experience, and to make the market a great event for the Dillon community.

In 2023, there are two levels of sponsorships:

$100-Dillon Farmers Market sponsors will receive recognition on promotional materials and on-site at the farmers market. Additionally, sponsor logos and website links will be on the Dillon Farmers Market website.

$250-Dillon Farmers Market sponsors will receive recognition on promotional materials and on-site at the farmers market. Additionally, sponsor logos and website links will be on the Dillon Farmers Market Website. Sponsors will receive one personalized social media (Instagram and Facebook) post.

More information and sponsorship form.

Sam's Run

Bryce Angell

Sam and Ginny ran their ranch in Southern Idaho. Sam loved the life of cowboy with their hundred cows or so.

Every morning Sam would drive to town to get his snack. Some warm and fresh glazed doughnuts, 'bout a dozen to each sack.

Ginny couldn't help but notice Sam had gained some weight. The bathroom scales showed fifty since their ten year wedding date.

Sam slid up to the dinner table, hungry as a beast. The cow that kicked him yesterday, would be this evening's feast.

Sam had cravings all day long 'bout roast and gravy drippings. But what he got that night was cold (A SALAD AND FOUR BOILED EGGS). Could Ginny's mind be slipping?

Sam's wife, Ginny was a teeny thing. She stayed in perfect shape. She said "Sam have you checked your middle? You look like an oversized grape.

"So tomorrow we start to exercise. We'll do it before we eat. We'll start our walk at 5:00 am. That way we'll beat the heat."

Now Sam had always gotten up before the rooster crowed. To feed the cows and then the horse, but not to walk the road.

Sam knew he had to pass this test and drop his midriff weight. But exercise was clearly something he had learned to hate.

So at 5:00 am Sam fully dressed, was really quite a site. Size fourteen shoes and hairy legs, his Stetson pulled down tight.

The walk began. Sam held his own but soon was out of breath. His wife slowed down, then held his hand, said "This won't cause your death."

Then hand in hand they walked alone on down the quiet road. Sam vowed he'd walk to get in shape. This could be their daily mode.

Then all at once a truck's headlights were glaring in their eyes. Sam's cowboy friends were laughing. How he wished he'd been disguised.

The word was out that Sam was soft and given in to wishes from a bossy wife who ran the ranch and made him do the dishes.

Sam's wife was wise beyond her years. She vowed to clear this matter, by meeting with those cowboys' wives. You can imagine all the chatter.

Next morning sharp at 5:00 a.m. Sam was walking off his gut. And was joined by three embarrassed friends who wished they'd kept their big mouths shut.

Dillon Beavers Baseball

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

The Dillon Beavers Baseball team finally got that beautiful spring day to play baseball on Friday, April 28th. The Beavers took on Butte Central Maroons at Ray Lynch Park.

Both teams would score two runs in the third inning. The Maroons would really shine in the 5th scoring eight runs. With the Maroons scoring so many runs in the eight the team's confidence of winning the game became both clear in the dugout as well as on the field.

The Beavers were able to clear their heads and not let it affect them. They would come back in the sixth inning to bring in three runs and go into the seventh inning trailing by three. The Beavers would come back and finish the game with an 11 to 10 victory.

Highlights of the game include Lagunas got the start for the Beavers, he went three innings, allowing two runs on three hits and striking out seven. Konen, Skradski, and Tackett all had multiple hits for the Beavers. Konene and Tackett each had four hits to help lead the Beavers. The Beavers had nine stolen bases with Konen leading the way with four.

Beavers Softball

We played in the Frenchtown Tournament over the weekend and saw some tough competition. We lost a close one to Columbia Falls on Friday, and then 2 more losses to Libby and Ronan. And, then ended with a dominant win over Whitefish Saturday afternoon.

We've got a very busy schedule over the next two weeks. Tomorrow we travel to Butte to take on the Maroons, then host East Helena at home on Tuesday, then back to Frenchtown for a conference game versus the Broncs, then hosting Hamilton on Saturday. Fortunately the weather forecast looks good as we are squeezing in all the weather makeup games over the next 2 weeks.

The tourney in Frenchtown gave us some opportunities to try some players in a variety of positions and the girls gained some valuable time playing on a field (way better than a gym). They weather has been such a struggle this year. On Thursday last week.. after the sun finally popped out.. we had a freak wind storm that tore the roof of our dugout! Crazy!!

Legislative Update by Rep Tom Welch

Much of the Legislative good work is overshadowed as social controversy floods the news and social media outlets. I will report on Legislative matters in future articles. For this article, I will explain why I supported the Majority Leader's motion limiting Representative Zephyr's participation in Floor votes to remote access only.

The 100 House members represent almost every political ideology. Legislative decorum rules such as refraining from personal attacks, disrespectful language towards other members, and avoiding disruptive behavior are essential for this group to debate emotional topics. During my four Sessions, I have seen other Representatives apologize for various actions. That said, Representative Zephyr's refusal to apologize and subsequent "loss of Floor speaking privileges" is not the reason I supported the "remote access" motion. Several Representatives had approached the Rules Chairman asking him to work with the Speaker to lift Representative Zephyr's 'loss of speaking privileges'. At that point, I would have supported allowing Representative Zephyr to again be allowed to speak on the Floor. However, then the 'Gallery incident' occurred.

The specific actions taken by Representative Zephyr on the day of the "Gallery incident" are what I based my decision on. It is irrefutable that Representative Zephyr did indeed act to actively support--and arguably to incite—the disruptive antics of supporters who had gathered in the House gallery. It is also true that the Representative had other options. One was to join other legislators by leaving the Floor, as was directed by the Speaker. Another would have been to try to calm the crowd. Representative Zephyr chose neither. Had Representative Zephyr worked to calm the crowd rather than to incite the crowd, she would not, in my mind, be culpable.

Representative Zephyr's choices forced the orderly workings of the House to cease. I and other Representatives could not proceed with doing our duty, which is to conduct the business of the citizens of Montana. This is an assault on our representative democracy. Spirited debate and the free expression of ideas cannot flourish in an atmosphere of turmoil and incivility.

Some will cast this matter in terms of freedom of speech or the oppression of a minority. It is neither. What is at stake is the expectation that any member of the Legislature, whomever they might be, has a duty to strive to maintain decorum on the House Floor so that the people's work might be accomplished. In this instance, Representative Zephyr failed to do her duty. Worse yet, she actively participated in disrupting the lawful activities of the Legislature. Such behavior must have consequences.

As to the crowd in the Gallery, I believe most were initially of good intentions. Individuals who are part of a group can sometimes act in a way that is irrational, impulsive, or violent when fueled by strong emotional response. Individuals in the Gallery could not necessarily know the Rules of Legislative decorum, and how a simple apology has long been the expectation on the Floor when offending others through word choice. Without such decorum, the House Floor would become as unruly as the Gallery was that day.

Watching police in riot gear work to clear an unruly crowd, and seeing fear on the faces of our staff, and our teenage Pages, while being forced to move out of range of any object possibly thrown from the Gallery gave me a glimpse of the tension and uncivility that often results today when communications and negotiations fail.

The events of this particular day are not what I want for Montana. Active listening, followed by civil and respectful discourse are fundamental to a successful democracy.

I will continue to make the difficult decisions needed as I work to represent you. Thank you for allowing me to be your Legislator!
