Thank You!

The family of Norman Worrell would like to thank our friends and family for the love and support at the time of his passing. Thank you for the phone calls, visits, cards, food, and just being there for us. We have a great community and we love living here. Thank you to Bryan and his staff at Brundage Funeral home for the professional way the service was performed. A special thank you to the military for the beautiful memorial service at the cemetery. Thank you to those who prepared the meal for everyone after the service. We feel a special love from everyone.

Stephens Farmhouse Floral & Arcadia Ag donate new CNC Plasma Cutter to BCHS Ag Shop & FFA

Thanks to Stephens Farmhouse Floral and Arcadia Ag for donating a new Star Lab 4x8 CNC Plasma Cutter to the BCHS Ag/FFA program. This new, state-of-the-art CNC plasma table is a huge upgrade, and will allow BCHS students to gain hands-on experience with CNC programming, metal art, and part design. Arcadia and Stephens really stepped up to the plate to make this project a reality, and we are excited to create some awesome metal projects with this new equipment. Please join us in thanking Stephens Farmhouse Floral and Arcadia Ag for their generous support of the FFA here at BCHS.

Attorney General Knudsen announces Law Enforcement Appreciation Poster Contest winner

Montana Attorney General Austin Knudsen announced Madisyn Allard, of Superior, as the winner of the second annual Law Enforcement Appreciation Poster Contest, during National Police Week. Madisyn is a fifth-grade student at Superior Elementary School.

The winning poster shows a patrol car in the mountains. In her artist statement, Madisyn wrote, "I know my family and I are safe because of the law enforcement we have across Montana. I especially feel safe when I see a deputy or a patrolman I know."

"It's great to see the respect and appreciation Montana's young people already have for our law enforcement officers," Attorney General Knudsen said. "No submission goes unappreciated, and I know the support of these students means a lot to our officers who put their lives on the line for our communities every day."

Attorney General Knudsen and Montana Highway Patrol Colonel Steve Lavin will celebrate with Madisyn and her class later this month. The winning poster will be displayed in Montana Department of Justice offices across the state and made available to law enforcement offices statewide. In addition to the statewide winner, seven regional winners were chosen who will receive an ice cream social delivered by local troopers. The winners were from all eight Highway Patrol districts.

The seven regional winners were:

- District Two: Lane Meek, of Geyser
- District Three: Kynlee Hooper, of Jefferson City
- District Four: Shae Lawson, of Busby
- District Five: Kedrin Krech, of Baker
- District Six: Mackenzie-Jean Noland, of Kalispell
- District Seven: Beckett Lewis, of Bozeman
- District Eight: Levi Taylor, of Sunburst

Attorney General Knudsen announced the poster contest in February, encouraging elementary school students to show their appreciation for Montana's law enforcement officers who risk their lives every day to keep communities safe.

Community Basement at Saint Rose Parish Drop off hours

The Community Basement at Saint Rose Parish is asking to have donations dropped off during working hours only, 9 am until 12 pm Monday - Friday. We are having lots and lots of bags, boxes and other items stolen moments after drop off and during the middle of the night. We have cameras around the building which captures the drop off's (and those that think it is a drop off and pick up) and the license plates. Once dropped off, it is considered Saint Rose Parish Property, Therefore it is stealing when items are taken. We will start turning the license plate numbers over to authorities if it continues. Thank you for your understanding and working with us.

FWP embarks on mule deer monitoring, research, and outreach initiatives

Hunters in Montana, along with Fish, Wildlife & Parks, are concerned about declining mule deer populations in much of the state. In response to this concern, FWP is embarking on research efforts to look into the declines and engage hunters about their attitudes on mule deer management and hunting.

Mule deer numbers have typically been tracked over large areas using aerial surveys and declines can be attributed to several different things including winterkill, short-term habitat changes, like those that result from drought to potentially long-term habitat changes in other parts of the state. Predation and other factors may be at play as well.

Part of the effort FWP is undertaking has involved an expansive public opinion survey, which was sent out to 5,000 randomly selected resident hunters this past winter. The survey was nearly identical to one conducted in 2011. And the results were very similar as well. The survey results show continued support for current mule deer management in Montana, including season length, timing and the opportunity to hunt mule deer every year.

However, the survey also indicates that some hunters are looking for changes. For instance, when presented with the question of hunting bucks every year or hunting them once every several years, about 60 percent of hunters liked the ability to hunt mule deer bucks every year, which is generally the current framework in Montana. However, nearly 40 percent of hunters would choose to hunt mule deer bucks once ever several years if it meant having the opportunity to harvest a mature buck.

To help FWP better understand hunters and their attitudes about mule deer hunting, FWP held listening sessions in northwest and northeast Montana this spring. These listening sessions were conversations with the public about mule deer management, allowing FWP staff to answer questions and hear more feedback on the current state of mule deer hunting and management in Montana.

These listening sessions will rotate through FWP's administrative regions every other year, so if you didn't have the opportunity to attend one in your area this year, you should be able to next year.

Other efforts FWP is starting or will start in the coming years may include more radio collaring efforts to track numbers and mortality, habitat research, and other population modeling efforts.
