Application available for FWP's Habitat Conservation Lease Program

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks is again accepting applications for its Habitat Conservation Lease Program.

A habitat conservation lease is a voluntary, incentive-based agreement between FWP and private landowners in which the landowner commits to specific land management practices that protect priority wildlife habitat. In turn, FWP pays landowners a one-time per-acre fee for the lease. These agreements will have a term length of 30 and 40 years.

As it has for decades, FWP is still pursuing conservation easements and land purchases where support from landowners, local officials and the community exists. The lease program is an addition to the conservation tools already available to landowners.

Last year FWP received few applications for the program and has since made changes to the program to make it more appealing to landowners. These changes included increasing the payment level and providing a new buy-out option for landowners who wish to replace the conservation lease with a permanent conservation easement.

A supplemental environmental assessment was completed on the changes to the program earlier this year.

The initial focus of the conservation lease program is prairie and pothole wetland habitats, with a priority on sage-grouse core areas and other plains habitats recognized by FWP as high priority for wildlife.

In areas critical to sage-grouse, these leases ensure habitat protections to keep populations healthy and allow the bird to remain off the Endangered Species List.

"Beyond protecting important habitat, this program will also be another tool to help keep family farms and ranches on the landscape, which will ensure our vital open spaces stay that way well into the future," said FWP Director Hank Worsech.

Habitat conservation leases maintain native habitats by protecting them from specific disturbances that would alter their integrity, including tillage, energy development, building construction, and wetland filling or draining. Normal agricultural operations and noxious weed control will not be impacted.

Public access also will be part of the lease, but the details would be specific to each agreement.

Funding for the conservation lease program includes earmarked Habitat Montana funds, Pittman-Robertson funds and other sources dedicated to specific habitat types (e.g., wetlands). The Habitat Montana funds will be matched by federal funds at a 25/75 ratio, meaning every dollar of Habitat Montana money would be matched by $3 of federal money.

More information and applications for the program are available on the FWP at <https://fwp.mt.gov/conservation/habitat/habitat-conservation/lease-program>. The deadline for applications is July 14.

Home Run Derby

Hand N Hand preschool is hosting a Home Run Derby for their annual fundraiser June 4th, from 12-4pm. This fundraiser provides the preschool the opportunity to offer scholarships to families who may need assistance paying for their child's tuition. The Home Run Derby is open to all ages, even adults! The cost is $10 for 10 pitches.

There will be prizes per age group for those who hit the most home runs that were generously donated by local businesses in our community. Lunch will also be offered from 12-2pm for $5, which includes a hamburger or hot dog and a drink. To help include the younger kids, a duck pond will also be included for $1 a pick- ensuring a little prize for even the little ones! Last but not least, there will be a chance to dunk a local (even our very own preschool teacher) with a dunk tank!

We hope those in our community will come support Hand n Hand preschool and have a funtime!!!

Portion of Jefferson River closed to recreation

A small portion of the Jefferson River is closed to all recreation. The closure extends from Williams' Bridge Fishing Access Site to the bridge on Meridian Road. High river flows coupled with ongoing repairs to Meridian Bridge have created a hazardous obstruction for people floating on the river.

Deer Lodge man found guilty at retrial for sexual assault of a minor

A Deer Lodge man was found guilty today for sexually assaulting a minor in Powell County District Court, Montana Attorney General Austin Knudsen announced.

The jury unanimously convicted Charles Michael Byrne, 51, of three counts of sexual intercourse without consent following a four-day jury trial. Byrne was found guilty of sexually assaulting a minor girl three separate times between 2010 and 2016. He will be sentenced at a later date.

Byrne was previously sentenced to three consecutive 100-year sentences in 2019 after a jury found him guilty of the same crime. However, the Montana Supreme Court overturned that conviction necessitating a retrial.

Assistant Attorneys General Meghann Paddock and Patrick Moody prosecuted the case, which was investigated by the Powell County Sheriff's Office.
