Woolley Steps Down As Montana Western's Head Women's Basketball Coach

Montana Western Athletic Director Michael Feuling has announced he has accepted Lindsay Woolley's resignation as Women's Basketball Head Coach after 11 seasons to pursue another professional opportunity.

"There are no words to describe what Coach Woolley has meant to myself, our student-athletes, alumni, Montana Western and the city of Dillon, it is why this is a bittersweet time," Michael Feuling said. "I would like to thank Coach Woolley for all that he has done here at Montana Western. Lindsay has cemented himself as one of the best coaches in the women's game and we have been fortunate to have him for as long as we have."

Woolley became the seventh head coach of the Montana Western women's basketball program prior to the 2012-2013 season. He recently completed his 11th season at the helm of the Montana Western women's basketball program, leading the Bulldogs to a 215-129 (.625) all-time record. He was named the NAIA National Coach of the Year in 2019 and has led the Bulldogs to six NAIA national tournament appearances, including a National Championship win in 2019.

Woolley has coached ten players who have become first, second, third team or honorable mention All-Americans, two Frontier Conference Players of the Year, two Frontier Conference Defensive Players of the Year, 25 all-conference selections, 32 Daktronics Scholar-Athletes, 80 academic all-conference selections, three CoSIDA academic all-district selections and one CoSIDA Academic All-American.

"Working at UMW for the last 11 years has been an extremely fulfilling and rewarding experience that I will be forever grateful for," Woolley said in a statement. "I would like to thank Mark Durham and Chancellor Dick Storey for giving me the opportunity to lead this program 11 years ago. Thank you to each and every one of my former and current players and staff who were the backbone of the success we achieved over the years. I would also like to thank our current administration led by Chancellor Mike Reid and Director of Athletics Michael Feuling who have continued to support our program and student-athletes. As coaches, we constantly ask our players to challenge themselves and get out of their comfort zone to become the best versions of themselves and when this opportunity arose, I couldn't pass it up without feeling hypocritical. With the support of my amazing wife and son, I am excited for this new challenge and chapter in our lives. I will miss this community and all of the people who have supported our players and my family. Thank you to the community of Dillon and go Dawgs!"

"Winning a National Championship back in 2019 and the successes over the years, Woolley has turned Montana Western Women's Basketball into a prominent program in the NAIA and the nation." Feuling continued. "He has established a high-level character and talented student-athletes that have represented the program and the university to the fullest, the program has produced several alumni that have gone on to be great leaders and members of their communities. Lindsay will be missed and I am sad to see coach go, but I am excited to see how he will continue to impact the ever-growing game of women's basketball. His wife Megan and his son Avery are two of the biggest Bulldog fans out there and I want to thank them for all the time and dedication they put into the program over these years. Because of Coach Woolley, the future is and will remain bright for Bulldog Women's Basketball for years to come."

Assistant Coach Britt Cooper will serve as the interim head coach, while a search for Coach Woolley's replacement will begin immediately.

Hard Work & Determination Makes a Family Happy and Proud

Zoey Morast the daughter of Darrin and Raquel Morast of Dillon is a recent graduate and has participated in Volleyball, Basketball and Track as a Dillon Beaver. But the interesting thing is, she was born with an under developed hip socket.

She was immediately treated by local physician Dr. Downey. She was fitted for a brace that held her femur in place in her pelvis. This device was attached to her body until she was 3-6 months old and the hip socket developed. She was followed closely by Dr. Downey, and was followed by the orthopedic children's clinic in Salt Lake City, Utah.

All in all its amazing to see her participate in all the sports as a Dillon Beaver especially getting 3rd place at state since she just only did high jump 2 meets prior to the state meet in Laurel. She also took 3rd place in the triple jump.

Zoey had support in the stands from mom, dad and grandmother Vivian from Sidney, MT.

Day Open Houses Across The State

On June 15, Stockman Bank will be participating in World Elder Abuse Awareness Day by helping to heighten awareness about elder abuse and fraud in our local communities. Stockman will hold open houses at all 37 branches across the state.

Financial abuse targeting older adults is on the rise, with the AARP reporting more than 369,000 nationwide incidents each year. Please join us on Thursday, June 15- World Elder Abuse Awareness Day for an Open House during normal business hours in the lobby of your local Stockman Bank. Enjoy refreshments and pick up educational information about common scams targeting seniors and how to prevent becoming a victim.

There will be a special press conference on the second floor of the Billings Downtown bank on Thursday, June 15, from 11:00-11:30 a.m. Attorney General Austin Knudsen is set to speak about current Elder Abuse initiatives being rolled out by the state of Montana. Representatives from the Department of Criminal Investigation, Big Sky Senior Services, Adult Resource Alliance, and Adult Protective Services will also be present.

At Stockman Bank we continue to see an increased number of incidents pertaining to elder abuse and fraud at our bank locations across the state. By hosting these open houses, we aim to bring awareness and educate the elder members of our local communities.

Attorney General's Office secures guilty plea from state prison inmate who viciously attacked correctional officers

A Missoula man serving a life sentence in state prison for a 2017 double murder, in which he tried to dissolve victims in acid after fatally stabbing them, admitted to an attack on correctional officials that left one with a traumatic brain injury and broken ribs, Attorney General Austin Knudsen announced today.

Augustus Storm Standing Rock, 31, pleaded guilty today in Powell County District Court to one count of aggravated assault on a peace officer while in detention and three separate counts of assault on a peace officer. In exchange for his guilty plea, the Attorney General's Office and the defendant have agreed to recommend a life sentence with a 40-year parole restriction, meaning Standing Rock will not be eligible for parole until 2063.

"Montana correctional officers risk their safety every day in order to enforce rules and keep order within our jails and prisons, and I am grateful for the work they do," Attorney General Knudsen said. "This case, involving multiple correctional officers injured and a sergeant with a traumatic brain injury, should never have happened, but I am glad justice is being served. My office will continue to seek justice and protect the safety of the men and women working in correctional facilities."

Leading up to the attack, Standing Rock tried to corrupt a Montana State Prison sergeant and the sergeant wrote him up. In retribution, on January 18, 2022, Standing Rock attacked the sergeant and other officers trying to subdue him. Standing Rock caused a traumatic brain injury and broke the ribs of the sergeant. Standing Rock attacked other correctional officers that came to the sergeant's aid by biting, head butting, and punching them. Since the attack, that sergeant has been seeing a neurologist due to ongoing memory loss issues and migraines and to recover regular thought processes.

Standing Rock was serving his life sentence with the possibility of parole in the Montana State Prison after he admitted to fatally stabbing two people to death, dismembering both victims' bodies, and trying to dissolve the body parts in tubs filled with acid in the basement of a Missoula home in August of 2017.

Assistant Attorney General Patrick Moody prosecuted the case, which was investigated by the Montana Department of Corrections Investigations Bureau.

The sentencing hearing is scheduled for August 8, 2023.

FWP's biennial hunting season-setting process begins in June

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks will kick off the biennial hunting season-setting process earlier to allow for more public engagement and greater transparency. Public involvement will begin in June and end in November. In the past, public involvement happened primarily in December and January.

FWP will conduct scoping meetings around the state from June 15 to July 15. FWP staff will look to hunters to provide broad input on regulation changes they'd like to see. Staff will also look for feedback on a few specific proposals.

These scoping meetings are more formal than in past years and will replace the public meetings FWP used to hold to present and discuss tentative regulations. However, these scoping meetings are not the same as public comment meetings. FWP staff will listen at the scoping meetings and capture the general themes and then use the information to develop draft regulations, which will be released for public comment in October. FWP will hold additional public meetings in early November to answer questions about the draft regulation proposals. Comment on the draft regulation proposals will be collected through the FWP website during the fall public commenting period. The final decision on regulations will come at the December Fish and Wildlife Commission meeting.

Hunting regulation changes are done every other year. This new process will give the public a better understanding of where regulation changes are coming from, how FWP is engaging the public, and what changes are being suggested by individual commissioners.

The earlier start to the process will also result in the availability of hunting regulations at the beginning of the license year - March 1.

BWSWMT-Pickleball

Festival of Trees recently donated $3,000 to BWSWMT-Pickleball towards the construction of two free-to-use, public-access pickleball courts. These courts are under construction in the bike park which is operated by Bike Walk Southwest Montana at the Chris Kraft Beaverhead County Park, 1575 Overland Road near Dillon. Materials and labor costs of the courts have risen since the project was conceived in October of 2022 and is now project to be in excess of $55,000.

President Mary Rouse presented the check from the Festival of Trees to Dave Cowardin, Chair of the BWSWMT-Pickleball Committee. Dave said with the cost of materials and labor increasing, it is nice to see other community organizations and businesses stepping up to help with this free-to-use public project. The Festival of Trees as well as these organizations and businesses listed below deserve your support for their community involvement.

"Don't miss Jo's Biscuits & Gravy Sat Only 9 a.m.!!"

Veteran's Corner By Mike Lawson

Last week I mentioned the Veteran activities going on for Memorial Day. They went very well and we picked the hundreds of flags from our six area cemeteries and I'm sure the veterans in our other SW MT communities did the same. I have to say it was very heartfelt to do the raising of the American Flag for our resident Veterans at our SW MT Veteran's Home. They were outside, many in wheelchairs, and were so grateful that we came. One of these vets, who was a chopper pilot in Viet Nam, asked to read/sing Taps. I had never heard it before and coming from this dignified resident Veteran, it was very heartfelt by our whole Honor Guard.

Veteran News:

- Many summer activities across SW MT are beginning to take place and our Veterans in each of our area communities are involved in making them work. Contact me as to what/where/when and I'll get the word out in this article and meetings that I'm involved in. You can e-mail me ; lawsonml@mac.com
- The Butte Exchange Club is going to again have their "Field Of Flags" this year across from the Belmont Senior Citizen Center in Butte. It's always impressive and the United Veterans Honor Guard will be part of the opening ceremony. Some of the money that is made/donated from this event will be given to the UVC DAV Van Fund to raise money for one of the DAV Vans, that needs to be paid for. It's a very vital and worthy cause and donations are always appreciated.
- If you as a veteran or you know a veteran who would like/need a ride to a VA medical appointment, call our DAV Area Coordinator, Darlene. Phone: 406-490-3692.
- An application is being made to bring the Vietnam Traveling Wall to Butte next year. If we can be successful in getting it here, it'll be an amazing thing. For the Viet Nam Veterans especially, it'll be a healing experience.
- The VA medical facilities have relaxed their mask requirements. Ft Harrison, especially, doesn't require you to wear masks any longer when you're there for an appointment.

SW MT is seeing increased construction activity. New homes/apartments are being built in all our area communities. Anaconda will soon see the newly constructed Murdocks Store being open for business. Butte has impressive housing and apartments projects springing up in a number of locations. Commercial Buildings are filling some of the longtime empty spaces around town, especially along Harrison Ave. The new National Guard Armory will have a new home west of Butte in the next year or two.

I was going to throw in the towel but then I remembered how much laundry I already have
