IS THERE A LOUD TALKER IN YOUR LIFE?

Tyrades! by Danny Tyree

"We are the Cubs from Den 3/And no one could be prouder/ If you cannot hear our shout/We'll yell a little LOUDER."

That chant from my Cub Scout pack-meeting days comes to mind as I explore the issue of moderation-challenged speakers, or, as the prestigious American Psychiatric Association clinically labels them, "bozos who wouldn't know an indoor voice if it bit them on the rear."

Surely you could name some loud talkers. Maybe you are a loud talker. When you overhear people whispering about boorish behavior, perhaps you should consider asking, "Lord, is it I? I said, LORD, IS IT I????"

Booming voices disseminating too-much-information revelations are everywhere: across the hedge, in the classroom (my second-grade teacher Mrs. Shubert dubbed me "Old Cannon Mouth"), on the beach, in the grocery store, in the homes of people who use recorded jackhammer sounds in their "white noise" machine…

Retailers certainly need all the business they can get, but frontline employees dread the arrival of certain clueless extroverts. Everyone in the building hears them as soon as they enter the front door. Heck, the store's vendors in Southeast Asia hear them as soon as they enter the front door!

You should consider yourself lucky if you meet an acquaintance who is merely loud. Sometimes you also get a dislocated shoulder from vigorous handshaking, a stinging slap on the back and a public recitation of how you obtained the embarrassing nickname you've been trying to live down since high school. ("I know you're trying to get to the ER, stranger, but the ambulance driver can wait until you hear about Mr. Who Put the Dissected Frog in my Jockstrap?")

Count your blessings (not out loud!) when you encounter a solo loudmouth. Too often, there are entire families who have been competing for attention for generations. ("Yes! Let's play Twister! Then I can get even closer to your ear! What? No, I love YOU more. What? You actually said, 'let's make some s'mores'? I love you even more.")

It's obvious that some people unleash the decibels because they grew up poor in the middle of the 20th century. ("I can't change my volume because I can't find the pliers.")

I wish all loud talkers could take some subtle hints when they're getting carried away, but apparently many of them are colorblind as well. They mistake the blood oozing from your ears for sweat.

Don't fall into the trap of pigeonholing people purely on the basis of volume. Some people are loud only intermittently, when they're excited to share some news; others are always "on." Some are apologetic; some are oblivious. Some are amiable and earnest with their gushing. Others are downright obnoxious. Some you make excuses for. Others, you make burial-in-a-shallow-grave plans for.

Not all loud talkers are egotistical. Some are preemptively bluffing to cover their insecurities. (Judging by the intensity of their utterances, they must think that alien invaders are about to drain their bank account and induce male pattern baldness.)

I would shout, "Yahoo!" now that I have met my deadline, but my wife is sensitive to loud noises, and I don't want to trigger any migraines.

She might throw out my Cub Scout merit badge for Untying Sheepshank Knots by Yodeling at Them.

Almost as coveted as the one for Scaring Little Old Ladies into Crossing the Street to Avoid You.

The Longest Day

The Alzheimer's Association created The Longest Day on June 21st in conjunction with the summer solstice, to remember those affected by this disease. Ten years ago, the International Alpha Delta Kappa teacher sorority selected the Alzheimer's Association as their International Altruistic Project. This year, the local sorority and Dillon Public Library teamed up to fight the darkness of Alzheimer's with two free events to raise awareness of dementia. With a geriatric grant, the library was able to purchase three movies with the topic of Alzheimer's. "Of Mind and Music" was shown on Friday, June 16 in the Bank of Commerce. They hope to show the other movies in the future. The Library was also able to purchase seven memory kits that are available to check out. Each kit includes books, puzzles or items involving a topic such as Gardening, Cooking, Birds, and Mechanics. It is hoped that as people interact with the kits, they will have memories of participating in those activities.

Members of "Dementia Free Missoula" gave presentations on June 21st, The Longest Day. Terry Egan and Dan and Marje Doyle discussed signs of dementia and offered information. Their group provides trainings for businesses that work with the public, so they can become certified dementia friendly. They were consulted in the design of the new terminal at the Missoula Airport, and there will be quiet rooms and other dementia friendly features.The public is encouraged to visit alz.org or call 1-800-272-3900 with questions and concerns about dementia.

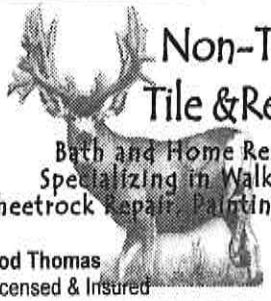

Sarah Tolman was also present at The Longest Day. She is our local volunteer for the Alzheimer's Foundation. Sarah plans a monthly support group for caregivers of those with dementia and Alzheimer's. She can be reached at the hospital at 683-3000. Alpha Delta Kappa would like to thank the Dillon Public Library and all the speakers that participated in The Longest Day to raise awareness of Alzheimer's.

Veteran's Corner Update #210

By Mike Lawson

Greeting to those of you who read my SW MT Veteran update articles. I made three trips to Fort Harrison, with the DAV Van, last week. During the first two trips the rain was so bad we were close to hydroplaning. The last trip, it was a beautiful rain free day and the drive back was uplifting with everything being so green and alive. Sometimes we take it for granted what a beautiful drive it is between Butte and Helena or a dozen other drives through SW MT. This is home where my heart is and I would bet many of you feel the same way.

As I write this it's the last day of June and the 4th of July is on Tuesday. The fireworks are on Monday evening in Butte and on the evening of the 4th in Anaconda. This year there were 101 parade entries which was very exciting after going through Covid. The Veterans had the first four entry spots.

Things around Butte are looking very promising with a manufacturing company who build affordable houses, breaking ground on their new big plant in our area. Supposedly they will hire as many as 400 employees. The Montana Resources Pit/Mine is doing well, with copper/molybdenum prices being up. I'm always looking to the east toward the interstate going up to Elk Park and see two shovels operating and filling the ore hauling trucks. It's good to see as we know people are working and spending their earnings locally, which helps keep our economy healthy. Murdoch's in Anaconda opened on the 28th and hired a number of employees, my grandson being one of them. The economy there has really picked up from even before the Covid Epidemic. Good to see!

Veteran Updates:

- As of the 2018 census there are 18 million veterans in the United States.
- The cost of living rate increase will be the same for veteran's on disability. The increase will be between 8.7% to 10.5% for 2023. Good news for these veterans and needed for sure.
- Veteran Home-buying Benefits : Check eligibility, as a veteran can buy a home with no down payment. This is a great benefit.
- The veto override that was attempted concerning the Governor's veto of the building of SW MT Veteran's Home's Cottage #6, was not successful. We will keep trying to fine a way for it to be built. The "Covered Walkway Connector between Cottage #4 & #5 is moving quickly and in the finishing stages. It's anticipated to be completed by the end of the month or early August. We haven't got any conformation as to when the other two Covered Walkway's construction will kick off.

- I haven't confirmed it with Wayne Paffhausen, but the rumor is that the additional construction to expand the VA Medical CBOC by Three Bears, will start before the end of July. I'll verify this with Wayne as he is the Contractor/ Building owner.

It seems like we see more Veteran funerals in the summer time. Many of these funerals were delayed until better weather was anticipated so more family members could travel and attend. Our volunteer veteran and auxiliary members of the Honor Guard are to be commended for giving of their time/ efforts to turn out and make these veteran funeral/burial ceremonies take place. Some of our members have passed away or health issues prevent them from participating any longer. We need new members to take their places so that this solemn special event honoring the departed veteran, before being buried, can continue. Any of you who are veterans and can volunteer the time, please get ahold of our Honor Guard Commander Tom Goyette at 406 565 0823. You'll never regret helping a brother/sister veteran who has passed on.

I hope you all had a wonderful 4th of July celebration. The Folk Festival is next week and Butte will be packed and humming. People all over Montana and out of state as well, will come and enjoy this wonderful music event. It is free and Butte will be a great host city as it has always been. Spread the word and participate as it is a lifting up experience.

SAVE THE DATE: COMMUNITY DAY OF SERVICE WED. AUGUST 9TH

Organizations throughout Dillon will host a variety of service projects. Contact Erin Hughes (erinhughes@justserve.org) if your organization would like to host a project. Projects will be available for all ages.
