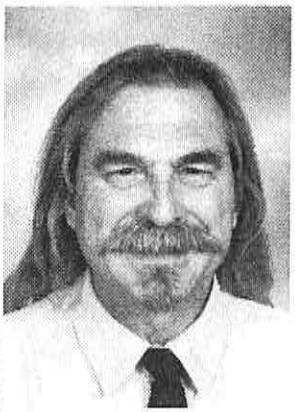
Michael Patrick McGuire

1953-2022



Michael Patrick McGuire beloved husband, father, brother, grandfather, great-grandfather, friend and amazing educator, musician, and mentor passed away on September 13, 2022 at his home in Ridgecrest, California. Mike was born on July 1, 1953 in Great Falls, Montana to John P. "Sam" and Shirley (Calvert) McGuire.

He was raised in Cascade, an ideal Montana childhood that rewarded him with life long friends and memories. Graduating from Cascade High School in 1971, Michael chose two directions for his path. He joined the Montana Air National Guard in 1971 with his high school buddy, Dana Darko. Mike told many stories about their adventures. In addition, he received degrees in music and elementary education from Western Montana College in Dillon, Montana in 1976 so he would be allowed to show others how to love learning and song.

While attending Western he met Terry Weber of Charlo, MT. They quickly became a life-long team and were married August 28, 1976 two days before he embarked on an amazing teaching career. His first teaching position was a 5th grade class in Fort Shaw, Montana. There Mike worked as a creative and gifted teacher, coach, friend, and mentor to all he encountered. During his tenure at Fort Shaw, Mike welcomed two wonderful sons into the world with Shane in 1977, and Conan in 1980. In 1988 Mike left the lifelong home he loved to build a future with the thing he loved more, his family. He took an uncertain job teaching band and music at Rocky Boy Tribal School to allow Terry to finish her degree in Elementary Education in Havre, MT. In 1990 the McGuires were offered and accepted teaching positions in Ridgecrest, California. Michael taught at Groves Elementary, Inyokern Elementary, and Faller Elementary. After retiring in 2012, Mike continued to substitute in many elementary classrooms across the school district until 2020. He would often bring a guitar and sit and play for the children at the various schools. He was a gifted musician with an amazing voice evidenced by the many choirs, weddings, and funerals his special gift was a requested presence at. Mike retired from the Montana Army National Guard in 1993.

He is preceded in death by his parents John and Shirley McGuire, sister Jacqueline Kellogg, and his childhood friend/ brother Ed Jerin.

Michael is survived by his wife of 46 years, Terry; sons Shane and Frankie (Stockman) McGuire of Great Falls, Montana; Conan McGuire Ridgecrest, California; sister Darcy (Monty) Groves, Gilroy, CA; his grandchildren: Kayla Jaime, Lukasz summer breaks were spent driving dump truck while his Uncle Raymond ran the grader to fix the road between Carroll Hill and Jackson. He and cousin Stan Rasmussen worked on the highway between Wisdom and Squaw Creek for $2 an hour. He loved ranching alongside his Dad. They continued to ranch in The Big Hole Valley until Argyl bought a ranch north of Dillon. They and year-old Shareece moved to the ranch to manage it. Stacy was born two years later.

When Argyl sold that ranch in 1972, the family moved into town, but ranching and farming stays in the blood. He and Diann did custom haying, and he worked for many ranches around the county. They also packed up and moved back to Livingston for a short time to help Grampa Charlie, his father-in-law, on his ranch.

David had a successful career in real estate and insurance. He and Diann bought Brookside Village and ran it side by side for 20 years until retiring to Arizona. But Dillon was home, and they returned in 2018.

David's best work was those handcrafted knives. If you have a DKS knife, you have a treasure. He was a sharpshooter, and his skills go back to playing marbles with the Wisdom kids. He still had everyone's marbles. He was a decorated, expert military marksman. He was passionate about hunting and wild game didn't have a chance.

He was the kindest man who never met a stranger. He was quick-witted, wise and well versed.

David is survived by his wife Diann, daughter Shareece (Darrell Beauchamp) and daughter Stacy Fisk. Grandchildren, Erica (Chris Buck), Cassie (Rich Taylor), Nathan (Debra) Fisk and Casey Fisk. Great grandchildren, Finn, Avery, Franklynn and Westley. Sisters Maryellen (John) Wilkerson, Terry Jo Vietor, and Bruce Denny, David's lifelong friend. Those that have gone before him are his parents and brother Raymond.

Thank you to Dr. Burke Hansen, Beehive Homes, HoneyBee Hospice and everyone who cared for and loved David.

Friends and family will meet at the Elks Club in Dillon, on Sunday, July 23 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. to celebrate a life well lived. Interment will follow at Briston Cemetary in Wisdom.

Bannack Days

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

Held the third weekend in July, Bannack Days is a celebration of pioneer life. Visitors to Bannack get to step back into time as the streets come back to life of an era long ago. Gunslingers walk the streets of Bannack looking for that next fight. Old miners hop in and out of the Mead Hotel and Skinner's Saloon. How about a tooth removed or a haircut. It can all be seen during Bannack Days.

Throughout the weekend visitors could take a guided tour through the masonic lodge, pan for gold, and pose for an old-time photo. Visitors also hiked Hangman's Gulch and saw a Calvary camp, learned the art of candle making or tried their hand at making an old-time cloth doll. With so much to see and do there is a little something for everyone.

Attendees were also treated to an old time shoot out, wagon rides, and could shop the many vendors that lined the streets of Bannack.

Bannack is a great time to visit not only but any time of the year. Avoid the crowds and take a short drive out to bannack and explore some of Beaverhead County's past.

Becoming an Outdoors Woman workshop scheduled for July 29 at Lake Elmo

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks is hosting a workshop with the Becoming an Outdoors Woman (BOW) program at Lake Elmo in Billings on July 29, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The workshop costs $35 and includes lunch.

Participants will spend half the day learning to spin fish, and the other part of the day learning how to kayak. The workshop is open to anyone aged 18 and over, and women are heavily encouraged. All skill levels for these activities are welcome, but instruction will be focused on beginners.

BOW is a national program that introduces adults, especially women, to different outdoor skills and provides information, encouragement and hands-on instruction. FWP staff members and community volunteers—mostly women passionate about sharing their knowledge of outdoor skills—will lead the workshop.

Participants should dress in comfortable clothing, ideally quick-dry material for these water-based activities, and wear water shoes. Participants also should bring water, snacks, sunscreen, bug spray, a hat and other desired outdoor activity gear. BOW will provide necessary kayaking and spin-fishing equipment, but participants are encouraged to bring their own if they have it.

Online registration is required for this workshop, and space is limited to 20 participants. To register, go to:

https://www.register-ed.com/events/view/200895

For more information on the BOW program, visit:

DR. SCOTT CRAWFORD SELECTED AS NEXT COMMISSIONER OF FRONTIER CONFERENCE

Dr. Scott Crawford of Kansas, has been selected as the next commissioner of the Frontier Conference.

Crawford has served as commissioner of the Kansas Collegiate Athletic Conference (KCAC) since 2007. Prior to his time with the KCAC, he was the commissioner of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, an assistant commissioner for the Mid-South Conference, and worked a variety of other athletic-related positions.

"Dr. Crawford brings 16 years of experience as a Commissioner of one of the NAIA's largest athletic conferences to the Frontier Conference," Dr. John Cech, co-chair of the search, John Cech said.

"I am thrilled to return to the Northwest, Crawford, an Idaho native, said. "Accepting this new challenge and assuming the day-to-day leadership of the Frontier Conference with the energy and enthusiasm it deserves. I will strive to honor the legacy of past commissioners of the Frontier Conference, including my friend Kent Paulson, in my approach to growing the conference in terms of membership, sport expansion, and overall profile."

Crawford has worked in a variety of leadership roles in the NAIA including chair of the NAIA Conference Commissioners Association. He is currently Chair of the NAIA's National Coordinating Committee.

Crawford was inducted into the Kansas Collegiate Officials Hall of Fame as well as being recognized as the NAIA's Administrator of the Year in 2012-13. He was also engaged in his community as a former member of the board of education for the Maize School District and participant in the Leadership Wichita Class of 2016.

Crawford has both a Bachelor of Arts degree in English from Brigham Young University and a Bachelor of Science degree in secondary education from the University of Utah.

He has Master of Science Degree in sport administration and a Doctor of Philosophy in educational leadership and organizational development from the University of Louisville.

Crawford will replace Kent Paulson, who began his tenure in 2009 and is the longest serving commissioner of the conference. Crawford will begin his tenure with the Frontier on September 1, 2023.

Cech noted Paulson was given the honorific title of "Commissioner Emeritus" at the Frontier Conference annual meeting in Whitefish last month.

The Chess Player

Bryce Angell

The old man's name was Johnson and he loved the game of chess. But his eyes and face weren't normal, kinda creepy I'd confess.

Johnson always had his game of chess set out to play. He'd move his pawn ahead one square, and then he'd look my way.

You never really knew if we were eyeing face to face. 'Cuz Johnson's eyes were both askew. A vision to erase.

His left eye tilted out a bit. You'd say a might cockeyed. The right eye never made a move. Some said, "Looked like it died."

I moved my knight out from a pawn. I'd planned no strategy. And then I quizzed him 'bout his eyes. This time they stared through me.

Old Johnson hesitated, then he moved his knight out front. He said when he was younger, he had tried a stupid stunt.

He didn't bother telling me just what the heck he did. So, I moved my pawn and figured Johnson kept things under lid.

But it didn't take old Johnson long to warm up to a boy, who listened to his stories, trying never to annoy.

I was prob'ly ten years old, first time I saw his face. My father told me, " This gentle man will stay here at our place."

He said, "I'd like it if you'd keep an eye on this old man. He's been homeless since forever, living in a broke down van.

"Your job will be to keep the bunkhouse stocked with food and such. Canned peaches and some tins of spam, he ain't used to having much."

So every night past supper I would listen to each tale, how he'd waited for the enemy and fought 'em tooth and nail.

He showed me how to play the game of chess and every rule. But most of all I learned from him, "A loose mouth proves a fool."

He taught me, "Always show respect. Be true to all your kin." And how my folks were kind enough to take an old man in.

One morning I woke early. Thought I'd check the bunkhouse out. And there lay old man Johnson. He was dead. I had no doubt.

Most younger boys would be afraid to find death all alone. But me, I stood there thinking. "Johnson's found his way back home."
