Sagebrush and Snowdrifts 4-H News

By:Secret Petersen

The Sagebrush and Snowdrifts 4-H club met on August 7 at the 4- H building at 7:00 p.m. John Weldon called the meeting the order and had Ellie Weldon say the American pledge and Liam Marlowe say the 4-H pledge. Ellie read the minutes from the meeting in June and Jacob Weldon gave us the Treasurer's report. John Weldon and Secret Petersen told us about the Foods festival that they participated in and told us about the dishes that they made. We also talked about our project tour that we had on July 23 in which Gavin Wilson and Liam Marlowe talked about. The new business that we talked about was that all 4-H entrees were due on August 10 at 3:00 p.m sharp to Jessica Murray and Shannon McWillams and that all Livestock kids had to have their animal project book done and turned in on that day. We talked about the Buyer's Barbecue that each club must have 2 dozen of some dessert. We also talked about the Concession stand and that it will be open at 5:30 a.m. this year. We went over on what jobs that the kids could do in the Concession stand such as making the milkshakes, nachos, taking orders at the window, etc.

On October 1 the 4-H awards ceremony will be held at the 4-H building. Record books are due to our leaders on September 15. We talked about buying the highschool club members their buttons this year by using the money from our 4-H savings account. We also discussed fair interview clothes and that if we need any we can go down to the Extension Office and find some that fit or if we want to donate our old white shirts and black pants.

Liam Marlowe brought up the community service project at the Jaycee park and we decided that if we are available then we can go and help out. Gavin Wilson adjourned the meeting and Liam Marlowe seconded and then we played a game and ate snakes which were provided by the Wilson and Marlowe family. The next meeting will be September 4 at 7:00 p.m at the 4-H building.

Locals Honor Pitt The Elephant

Jeremy Crawford • Southwestern Montana News

An odd yet fascinating story in Dillon, MT history is that of the grave site of Pitt the Elephant. The grave is in the west parking area of the fairgrounds.

Pitt was part of the Cole Brothers Circus and in August of 1943 they pulled into Dillon to host a couple shows. The elephants were lined up outside the big top when lightning struck. All the elephants and some of the trainers fell to the ground. They all got up but Pitt died on that spot. The next day they would come in with a bulldozer to dig her grave next to where she fell and push her into the hole. A funeral ceremony was held for her by the circus performers and some time later a marker was installed next to the grave.

On Sunday, August 6th locals gathered in observance of the 80th anniversary of Pitts death. Sponsored by the Beaverhead County Museum, the observance included a talk by Jack Kirkley on the history of Pitt the Elephant. Debbie Sporich followed it up with a eulogy for Pitt. A wreath was placed on her grave and a few locals shared their story of what happened that fateful day.

Upland Game Bird Enhancement Program Projects Access Guide available online starting Aug. 10

The upland game bird season is less than one month away, and hunters will soon be able to refer to the Projects Access Guide, published annually by Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks' Upland Game Bird Enhancement Program (UGBEP). Beginning Aug. 10, hunters can view and download the new guide and maps online.

The guide contains all active projects administered through the UGBEP including Open Fields, habitat management leases, food and cover plots, CRP enhancements, shelterbelts and grazing systems. These project types are located in all FWP regions and designed to enhance upland game bird habitats on lands open to free upland game bird hunting.

The guide includes tables listing all habitat projects and maps that depict locations of private and public land projects enrolled in the UGBEP. T

Printed access guides will be available at FWP headquarters and regional offices in late August. Hunters can also request a copy of the access guide via FWP's website. FWP will begin mailing guides to hunters late August.

The program anticipates additional enrollments this fall. Several CRP projects were on hold pending enrollment in the federal CRP program.

Due to current dry conditions and high fire danger throughout Montana, hunters may encounter UGBEP project closures or restrictions. Hunters can check the Projects Access Guide online for current information.

Through partnerships formed with private landowners, government agencies and conservation organizations, UGBEP has a current enrollment of over 460 active projects, enhancing nearly 350,000 acres of game bird habitat while providing almost 800,000 acres of access for upland game bird hunting.

For more information, contact Debbie Hohler, UGBEP coordinator, at: 406-444-5674, or by e-mail: dhohler@mt.gov.

Mountain lion euthanized in Lockwood

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks game wardens euthanized a mountain lion in Lockwood Saturday, Aug. 5, due to public safety concerns. The adult male mountain lion was in poor physical condition and expressing abnormal and potentially dangerous behaviors.

Area residents had reported sightings of a mountain lion wandering a populated neighborhood in the middle of the day over the past week.

On Saturday, a homeowner reported to FWP their dogs had treed a mountain lion on their property, the bold behavior displayed by this mountain lion is abnormal.

If you encounter a mountain lion, do not approach it, and do not run away, which could trigger a predatory response. Instead, make noise and try to appear larger with your arms or clothing. If you encounter a lion within city limits or near a residence, contact FWP or local law enforcement.

Keep aquatic invasive species prevention in mind when recreating on water

So far this year, FWP and its partners have inspected 66,000 watercraft for aquatic invasive species. Of those, 35 were mussel-fouled and more than 200 were found with aquatic weeds.

FWP and partner agencies, which include tribes, counties and conservation districts, operate more than 17 road-side watercraft inspection stations across the state. To find a watercraft inspection station or to learn more, go to CleanDrainDryMT.com or call the FWP Aquatic Invasive Species Bureau at 406-444-2440.

- All boats must stop at all open watercraft inspection stations they encounter. Failure to do so could result in a fine of up to $500.
- Always be sure to clean, drain and dry your boat.

Doors Open: 6PM
Film Starts: 6:30PM Run-time: 25-minutes
Q&A with Shawn Hayes: 7PM

Falconer Shawn Hayes leads a life of devotion — to both his falcons and the mountains and prairies beneath their wings. For Shawn, the ancient practice of falconry is more than a deep partnership with raptors, it's a lifeline. Through his skill and finesse with these birds of prey, he carved space for himself in a tradition that hasn't often been one for people of color. Shawn's role as an ambassador of American falconry has taken him to far reaches of the globe and into strongholds of the tradition and conservation. This film is about more than just what humans can teach birds but what those birds can give back.

Patagonia Provisions/snacks and beverages provided!
