Tate Lee Raymond

January 15, 2002 - August 7, 2023

Tate Raymond of Wisdom, MT was born January 15, 2002 in Butte, Montana. He passed away August 7, 2023 in Jackson, MT from an ATV accident.

In his short time here, Tate lived a life full of adventure. His infectious laugh and fun loving personality won the hearts of all who knew him. From the time he was a young child, Tate knew no strangers, and enjoyed talking to everyone. He lit up the room with his big stories and even bigger laugh.

As a young boy, he had a wild imagination. Hours were spent playing make believe bull riding and creating his imaginary ranch. He loved being outdoors and put a million miles on his pedal bike riding with his little brother and cousins.

As he grew older, his interests included dirt bikes, working livestock, hunting, fishing, diesel trucks, rodeos, and girls. Tate also loved traveling and exploring. He had an adventurous spirit and was always willing to try anything once.

Tate attended elementary school in Wisdom, MT and graduated Beaverhead County High School in May 2020. After High School, Tate attended the University of Montana Western where he took courses in Ranch Management. After college, he began working as a ranch hand in the Big Hole Valley. "Cowboying" has always been his dream and his happiest moments were spent on the back of his horse.

Tate loved hard and was always willing to give the shirt off his back to anyone in need. Children were drawn to him and he always took the time to play with them.

Tate was a beloved son, brother, grandson, nephew, and cousin. He is survived by his parents, Jason and Desiree Raymond and Jamie Vanisko; siblings, Cole Raymond, Patsea Farrow, Gage (Rachael) Thompson, and Kanyynn Vanisko; niece, Bexleigh Thompson; grandparents, Mark and Sherry Raymond, Kyle Bird and Lydia (Gary) Myllymaki; aunts and uncles, Lacey Raymond, Shelly and Cale Hemry, and Tammy Bird; and many cousins/friends.

"Until we see you again, Tate. We love you."

A Celebration of Life will be held at the Strow Bridge Ranch, 25369 Hwy 43 (1 Mile West of Wisdom) Tuesday, Aug. 15, 2023, at 2:00 p.m. A reception will follow at the Big Hole River R.V. Park

In lieu of flowers, the family requests donations be made to

FWP completes elk and deer hunter opinion surveys

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks recently completed extensive public opinion surveys of elk and deer hunters in Montana to gauge their satisfaction with hunting and harvest opportunities. The surveys were each sent to 5,000 randomly selected resident hunters.

The elk survey allowed FWP to take the first comprehensive look at elk hunter opinions. Overall, 73 percent of the respondents from this survey are satisfied with elk management in Montana. Generally, hunters surveyed were also satisfied with current elk hunting regulations and support the timing of the current general elk hunting season.

However, many resident elk hunters shared their concerns about a variety of elk hunting related issues, including hunting access on private land and too few elk on public lands. Crowding in the field was also a concern. The survey also indicated that while important to many, harvesting a mature bull was the least important reason for hunting elk in Montana. Hunters preferred less restrictive elk hunting regulations across the state compared to more restrictive regulations that would limit opportunity in favor of hunting for older age class bulls.

The 2023 deer survey focused on mule deer hunting and was nearly identical to one conducted in 2011. Results were similar to results from the 2011 survey, and showed continued support for current mule deer management in Montana, including season length, timing and the opportunity to hunt mule deer every year.

However, the survey also indicated that some hunters are looking for changes. For instance, when asked about hunting bucks every year or hunting them once every several years, about 60 percent of hunters liked the ability to hunt mule deer bucks every year, which is generally the current framework in Montana. Alternatively, nearly 40 percent of hunters said they would choose to hunt mule deer bucks once every several years if it meant having the opportunity to harvest a mature buck.

"These surveys are important ways for us to gauge hunter opinion on our elk and mule deer management," said FWP Director Dustin Temple. "We're currently working on regulation proposals for the public's review early this fall. We hope hunters take the time to review the proposals and let us know what they think."

Regulation proposals will be out for public comment in October and will be in front of the Fish and Wildlife Commission for a final decision in December.

FWP also sent surveys to nonresident elk and deer hunters (800 surveys each). In general, nonresident hunters expressed satisfaction with hunting opportunities in Montana and trust in FWP's game management.

Montana Western Presents "David Korty: Work on Paper"

The University of Montana Western Fine Arts Gallery is proud to present "Work on Paper" by renowned artist David Korty. The gallery will host an opening reception on Friday, September 8, 2023 from 6:00-8:00 p.m. in the Fine Arts Gallery located in Main Hall.

In this new group of works on paper, the artist has chosen his own experience as an avid fly tyer and fisherman as a springboard from which to draw and paint. Although the subject of fishing in art has a long and well-trodden history, Korty approaches the subject from an unorthodox angle. The image of a fisherman's box of flies is translated into something close to a hieroglyphic field of marks. Some resembling actual flies and others reduced to small geometric notations that seem to interact according to their own pattern of logic. Like an abacus of miniature "bric-a-brac," each rectangular box becomes a container for stored information. Whether it's a form of anglers Morse Code or something far more esoteric, these paintings highlight the magic and alchemy that can be found both on rivers and in the artist's studio.

David Korty was born in San Francisco in 1971 and has been living and working as an artist in Los Angeles since 1996. Korty's work has been shown extensively in Los Angeles, in solo exhibitions at Night Gallery, China Art Objects, Kohn Gallery and LAXART; at Derek Eller Gallery and Greene Naftali in New York; and at Sadie Coles HQ in London. Korty's work has been acquired by the Hammer Museum, Los Angeles; the Grunwald Center for Graphic Arts, Los Angeles; the Judith Rothschild Foundation; and the Rubell Collection. His work has been covered in Artforum, The New York Times, The Guardian, and Modern Painters, among other publications. A monograph of Korty's work entitled Blue Shelves was published by Sadie Coles and Night Gallery in 2016. In 2020, he was awarded the Frederick Hammersely Visiting Artist residency at the University of New Mexico.

The reception is free for all to attend and will feature light refreshments and live music by the Stake Pullers. The "Work on Paper" exhibition will be open for viewing from September 8 to October 20, 2023. Gallery hours are Monday through Friday 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. and 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m.

"I am excited to open the academic year with this stunning exhibition by artist David Korty. It is my hope that this exhibition resonates strongly with Southwest Montana," said Montana Western Fine Arts Gallery Coordinator and Adjunct Instructor, Jennifer Boysen. "Being able to connect with the campus and community in this new role and organizing a variety of events at the gallery this year will provide something for everyone to experience and enjoy."

For more information about the exhibition, please contact Montana Western Fine Arts Gallery Coordinator, Jennifer Boysen: jennifer.boysen@umwestern.edu.

Attorney General Knudsen Opposes EPA's Proposed New Anti-Power Plant Rule in Comment Letter

Montana Attorney General Austin Knudsen joined a coalition of 21 attorneys general in filing formal comments in opposition to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) proposed new rule on existing coal-, natural gas- and oil-fired power plants. The EPA's proposal attempts to regulate the plants under the Clean Air Act by imposing more stringent emissions standards and ignores last year's rebuke from the U.S. Supreme Court in West Virginia, et al. v. Environmental Protection Agency, et al.

As the letter states, the Section 111 rule change violates the Supreme Court's decision on West Virginia v. EPA because Congress still hasn't given EPA clear statutory authorization to remake the electricity grids. The letter also highlights how the environmental policies the EPA is proposing under this rule are inefficient, expensive, and unrealistic. If enacted, this rule also threatens the long-term stability and reliability of the country's electrical grid.

"The Proposed Rule at least abandons the more direct 'generation-shifting' mandate that the Court rejected in West Virginia—but it still doubles down on the earlier rule's goals by setting unrealistic standards," the attorneys general state. "If finalized, EPA's impossible proposal will leave coal- and natural-gas plants with no other option but to close. Yet EPA has no more authority to mandate this result indirectly than it did when it tried to do so directly. Thus, the Proposed Rule exceeds EPA's authority by forcing the kinds of major shifts that West Virginia already said can't be imposed by way of Section 111(d)."

West Virginia v. EPA was brought by Attorney General Knudsen and other state attorneys general in June of 2022. The Court held 6-to-3 that the EPA's plan to pick and choose favored energy sources, command generators and manufacturers to cross-subsidize competitors, or effectively shut down certain plant operations altogether was overly broad and an illegal overreach of power.

"A decision of such magnitude and consequence rests with Congress itself, or an agency acting pursuant to a clear delegation from that representative body," Chief Justice Roberts wrote in the majority opinion.

Montana's economy relies heavily on coal-, natural gas-, and oil-fired power plants. The 65 power plants spread across 29 counties provide power to much of the United States. According to the U.S.

Energy Information Administration, coal-fired power plants provided the largest share of Montana's electricity generation in 2022, accounting for 42 percent of in-state generation. This EPA-proposed new rule will force those plants to close. Additionally, if the rule is enacted, thousands of Montanans will lose their jobs.

Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Carolina, South Dakota, Texas, Utah and Virginia also joined the West Virginia-led letter.

Attorney General Knudsen continues to fight the Biden administration's radical EPA. In February, he and other attorneys general filed a lawsuit against the EPA, asking a federal court to vacate the newly published final rule redefining Waters of the United States (WOTUS) and declare it unlawful. In April, the United States District Court for the District of North Dakota issued a preliminary injunction against the Biden administration's EPA from implementing its final rule redefining WOTUS.

Tired of Planning Your Life Around Your Period?

Gain Control of Your Life with New Treatment Option at Barrett Hospital & HealthCare

Unfortunately, 1 in 5 women suffer from heavy periods, including excessive blood loss and severe cramping, which can mean missing social activities, work, exercise, and more.

Regain control of your life and achieve pain relief with Cerene® cooling technology (cryotherapy). With Cerene® cryotherapy, the lining of the uterus (the endometrium) is removed, alleviating discomfort and minimizing bleeding.

Cryotherapy provides natural, pain-relieving effects during treatment, so no general anesthesia is required. This simple procedure can be performed in the comfort of our clinic setting.

Cryotherapy is designed for premenopausal women finished with childbearing and experiencing heavy menstrual bleeding (due to benign causes).

WITH CERENE® CRYOTHERAPY:

- Achieve period pain relief and reduced bleeding. 90% of women had normal, light, or non-existent periods afterward.
- Receive the treatment in our convenient clinic setting.
- Get back to your life! 9 out of 10 women return to daily activities within 24 hours.

Dr. Lifson attended medical school and completed his residency in OB/GYN at the University of Maryland in Baltimore. Prior to coming to Dillon, Dr. Lifson was in private practice in Baltimore and trained John Hopkins residents. He has been board-certified for 30 years and has been with Barrett Hospital & HealthCare since 2007. Dr. Lifson specializes in women's health, routine checkups, hormone replacement therapy, urinary incontinence, abnormal bleeding and assisting patients with a family history of cancer.
