Bookstore Hosts Author Marcia Melton

Marcia Melton, the author of 5 books about Montana for young readers will be signing books and leading a discussion at The Bookstore on Thursday, August 24th. She grew up in Dillon (from 4 generations of the Melton family), attended high school in Billings, and college at the University of Montana. She is a retired librarian and teacher and feels lucky to live part of the year in Montana where she can roam around and dream up stories based on the colorful history of the state.

Joe Henry's Journey, a historical novel for young readers, follows eleven-year-old Joe Henry Grummond and his Pa on an often perilous journey to find gold. When they board a steamboat to go up the "Big Muddy" Missouri River to Fort Benton, Montana, in 1862, they hope to escape the desperation of the Civil War in their home state of Kentucky. They dream of making enough money in the gold fields of Montana to take back to the family they leave behind. Little does Joe Henry know that this river trip will lead him to untamed wild places where ambush, robberies, claim jumpers, lawless towns, and back-breaking work are the everyday stuff of life in the gold camp at Bannack. Along the way, Joe Henry learns about many different kinds of people living in the west, finds a best friend, and meets the prettiest girl he's ever seen. He learns much more than how to pan gold. This frontier territory brings lessons in the struggle between law and lawlessness, vigilantism, and the question of what is justice.This novel accurately portrays the history of its time and places from the viewpoint of a child and wrapped in a story of adventure that will hold a young reader's interest.

Joe Henry's Journey is this months read for the Home School Book club. Readers of all ages are encouraged to join us to hear the author read from and discuss her novel. Other titles by Marcia will be also be available. Joe Henry's Return sees Joe and his Pa back in Kentucky, they find their family in sorrow and trouble and their farm in shambles after the Civil War. With an elderly Grandma, two little girls, and a disabled, orphaned neighbor boy, Joe and Pa return to Montana where they hope they can find a home. Travel with them on adventures and discoveries as they find a new life, old friends, new adventures, and danger in Territorial Montana in 1866. The Boarding house is a novel that takes place in Philipsburg.. Nighthawk's Harmonica is an illustrated book about a Montana Round up and was a finalist for the High Plains Book Award. She also has coloring book.

KIWANIS AND MONTANA WESTERN VOLLEYBALL TEAM HELP CLEANUP DILLON

The University of Montana Western volleyball team and the Kiwanis Club of Dillon, Montana joined together for a mini street cleanup of Dillon on Wednesday, Aug. 21.

"Our team made the decision to become more involved in the community," head coach Katie Lovett said. "They understand the importance of giving back and this was a great first step."

The volleyball team roster was divided into three groups of six players per group to cover the three designated cleanup zones of downtown Dillon, north Montana Street and, Vine and North Walnut streets.

When full, the heavy-duty trash bags were placed in the utility trailer of Kiwanian Donn Ross for removal to the landfill.

"Our goal was to not have many full bags of trash," club spokesman Wally Feldt said. "The team did a great job and picked up a lot junk. Hopefully this sparks everyone to do a better job of policing the trash and keeping Dillon clean. It's a good reminder to us all to pick up the empty soda can or bottle instead of stepping over it."

At the conclusion of the cleanup, the team was treated to lunch donated by Dillon's Town and Country Food store.
