LEE JONES WORD OF PASSING

Word has been received of the death of Velda Lee Jones on August 31, 2023. You are so loved and missed my friend.

Calvin Charles Zimdars, 57

Calvin Charles Zimdars, 57, of Glen, Montana, vanished without a trace on December 1, 2017. Calvin was born September 14, 1961 to Julius 'Jupe' and Ardus Zimdars in Big Timber, Montana, he was the eighth child of eleven siblings.

Calvin attended school in Big Timber and graduated from the Sweet Grass County High School in 1980. He participated in basketball, football, FFA, and rodeo while a student. After graduation Calvin moved to Thermoplis, Wyoming to work in the oil fields alongside a few of his brothers. While there he met the love of his life, Lorie Helen Waller, they married in March of 1981. Soon after they moved to Melville, Montana and Calvin worked on the Cramer Ranch. There Calvin and Lorie were blessed with their first son, Charles Calvin. In 1983, Calvin and Lorie moved to Circle, Montana to work on the Waller Farm. There they welcomed their second child, Clarissa Helen in 1985.

In 1989 Calvin moved his family to Polaris, Montana where they settled into their own piece of paradise on a ranch in the Grasshopper Valley and in 1990 they completed their family with the arrival of another son, Jay Edward. Life was full of endless adventures there for a cowboy.

Calvin enjoyed many things in life, spending time with his family, playing cards and dice fishing, skiing, and exploring on horseback. He always had a good story. Rodeo was a favorite pastime. In his younger years he rode a few bulls, didn't care for it much and settled into bareback riding. He enjoyed rodeoing as much as any cowboy but after a bareback riding injury he turned to team roping. His passion for team roping carried on for many years.

Calvin was everything a man should be, polite, honest, hard working, and a good leader. He coached Polaris Rural School basketball for many years, enjoying every practice and game with the kids. He was patient, encouraging, and always had a smile on his face.

Hunting season was its own holiday. Many of Calvin's brothers, in-laws, nieces, and nephews would gather on his ranch where many memorable moments were shared.

Calvin was a true cowboy. He could rope any critter and doctor any calf. No job was too big or too small. He was good natured and always lent a helping hand to anyone in need.

In 2008 Calvin and Lorie went their separate ways and Calvin moved to Glen, Montana. He worked at Rocky Mountain Supply in Dillon, Montana for many years. McCartney mountain was a breathtaking view off his front porch, Agnes Lake a short horseback ride, and Brown's Lake was an all inclusive hotspot. Calvin would often be out hunting, fishing or exploring the area with his children, grandchildren, friends

Hurricane and Harley

Bryce Angell

We latched the trailer door down tight. Three horses were inside.
Next stop would be the Tetons for a day-long trail ride.
But my cell phone started ringing. It was Harley down the road.
"I heard we've got a ride today. I'm saddled up to load."
I winced, then answered Harley, biting on my lower lip.
"Pack yourself some sandwiches. We'll be there in a bit."
Most of us knew Harley Jones, a scuffed up cowboy cuss.
And when you were around him, well, your patience was a must.
Harley was a bachelor, seemed to scare the gals away.
But he always owned a horse or maybe crowbait you could say.
And just to say a word or two 'bout Harley and his horse.
Old Harley called him Hurricane. He was a threatening force.
The driveway down to Harley's barn would test your driving skill.
The black mud holes then 4-wheel drive were more than just a thrill.
We couldn't help but notice Harley looked a painful sight.
I'd been told that Hurricane and Harley had a daily fight.
Harley had a bloodied nose, his left eye swollen shut.
And just below the hairline showed a nasty two-inch cut.
It looked like Hurricane had won. Old Harley said, "Not so!
"Hurricane's the one who has the saddle on, ya know."
I opened up the trailer gate and Hurricane looked in.
He blew a snort and pulled straight back, kicked Harley in the shin.
The proof was in the pudding how the crowbait earned his fame.
I've had a few like him before. Now Elmer's is their name.
My horse's eyes were telling me. "Don't put him in here please!"
But Hurricane surprised us when he jumped in with such ease.
Harley needed patching up before we hit the road.
A dozen bandaids, super glue would fix him good as gold.
Harley rode the Hurricane with not a buck that day.
They took the lead and set a pace for the trail ride all the way.
Hurricane and Harley were a welcome to our group. But you learned to keep your wits or they could throw you for a loop.
So, when it comes to riding we'll include most anyone.
Each ride's a mix of cowboys.
That's the recipe for fun.

Ranch Rodeo and Women's Triathlon

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

The Ranch Rodeo and Women's Triathlon was held September 1, 2023 at 5:00 pm. Local ranchers and ranch hands competed to show off the skills they use everyday on the ranch. The teams showed off their skills of roping, branding, and other ranch activities.

The ladies competed in a triathlon that included roping a steer, barrel racing and finishing it off with goat tying. They had a choice between a smaller goat or they could shave a few seconds off their time by taking on the goat known as "Big Nasty."

Bulldogs Defeat Eastern Oregon 38-14

The Montana Western Football team opened the 2023 season with a 38-14 victory over the Eastern Oregon University Mounties.

How It Happened

Eastern Oregon moved the ball early on the Bulldogs in the first quarter, driving down the field and running seven minutes off the clock. Despite the drive, the Bulldogs were the first to put points on the board after UMW kicker John Mears put a 20-yard field goal through the uprights.

The Bulldogs wasted little time in the second quarter as quarterback Michael Palandri connected with receiver Jon Kirkley for the Bulldogs' first touchdown of the season.

Though unable to score, the Bulldog defense showed its veteran leadership as they continued to shut down the Mounties throughout the second quarter. Bryer Monson recorded his second sack of the game on fourth down to force the end of a five-minute EOU drive and head into the half on a positive note.

Once settled in, Palandri and the Bulldog offense began to click. Palandri connected with redhisrt freshman Dylan Shipley on the first play of the second half for an 81-yard touchdown pass.

The Bulldogs scored on the following possession after Palandri threaded the needle to freshman receiver Eli Nourse for his first career touchdown reception, stretching the lead to 24-0.

Following an unsuccessful first drive of the fourth quarter for the Bulldogs, linebacker Braden Smith intercepted EOU's Quincy Glasper on UMW's 40-yard line, sparking the UMW offense and special teams.

Palandri quickly connected with Kirkley in the back of the end zone for his second touchdown reception of the game. The following kickoff took a Bulldog bounce and was recovered by freshman Landon Charlton.

Three plays later, redshirt freshman Jake Humphrey punched it in for the final Bulldog touchdown of the game. EOU capped off the scoring with an 18-yard touchdown pass from Glasper.

Western held the Mounties on their final drive, which featured Monson's third sack. The Bulldogs claimed victory by a score of 38-14.
