To the Upset Person in the Court Report

I do realize that you are upset that it is September and the court report from August is just getting posted and your name has been in the Dillonite three times, with the first court calendar for an offense in July, the second your initial appearance and now the fact that made your plea and posted bond. If you have a trial, I wanted you to know that when you go to trial there will be another court report with your name.

It does not make me feel good, and no it is not slander, it is just the facts of the case. As you stated, the Dillon Tribune has had it also and probably will again as well. You stated you are trying to put it behind you, but until you are done with the legal system, I am thinking that may not be possible.

I do hope everything works out well for you. I can assure you however, yelling at me, will not help you.

FWP receives grant for pre-preservation work at Pictograph Cave State Park

Work will ensure site preservation and visitor safety

Pictograph Cave State Park in Yellowstone County near Billings was recently awarded a $75,000 Semiquincentennial Grant from the Historic Preservation Fund administered by the National Park Service. The Semiquincentennial Grant Program was created in 2020 to honor the 250th anniversary of the United States by restoring and preserving sites that commemorate the founding of the nation.

Pictograph Cave State Park is a designated National Historic Landmark because of its archeological significance. The park includes three natural sandstone caves considered some of the most important archeological sites in the Northern Plains and numerous pictographs, or rock paintings, dating back over 2,000 years.

Bulldog Cross Country Hits the Ground Running

The Montana Western Cross Country teams got the 2023 season underway this morning at the Frontier Conference Preview Meet. Two Bulldog women competed in the women's 6k race. Freshman Olivia Heiner had a great race with an 8th place finish. She recorded a time of 24:02.0. Freshman Maddie Yakos also competed in the women's race and finished in 20th with a time of 25:12.50.

"We just had two women run today and they both finished right around where I thought they would. They both had great races for themselves," Head Coach Taylor Grove said. "Olivia was able to finish 8th overall, which is great for being a freshman and running a 6k for the first time. I think all of our ladies will continue to improve as we progress through the season and have more opportunities to race." In the men's 8k race, sophomore Brant Heiner led the Bulldogs placing 13th overall with a time of 26:21.20. Landon Hayes came in next at 28th overall with a time of 28:42.30. Freshman Brody Henry followed in 32nd with a time of 29:29.70. Carlin Onstad (31:47.50, 41st) and Jesse McMurtrey (37:26.20, 48th) rounded out the scoring five. "The men's team ran well. We had Brant place in the top 15 which is a great start to the year," Grove continued. "It was great to get a look at how we competed against other runners in the conference as we will be racing them a lot throughout the season. Hopefully we can just continue to improve upon our results from today during the rest of the season."
