Happy Birthday Smith from your Girls!

New Basketball Officiating Program

The University of Montana Western School of Outreach is excited to offer "Introduction to Sports Officiating: Basketball" starting in November. This course is available to anyone ages 16 and up interested in becoming a basketball official.

Classes will be held on Wednesdays from 6:30 – 8:00 p.m. November 1 to December 8, 2023, and can be attended in person or remotely through Zoom. This course will teach the basics of officiating through weekly sessions with the opportunity to learn from Montana Officials Association (MOA) staff during a Referee Clinic on Saturday, December 2, on the UMW campus. During this clinic, students will officiate live action games while being mentored by MOA officials.

Course instructor, Kevin Engellant, is a former Montana Western basketball player and coach, current UMW faculty member, and an MOA basketball and football official.

"Kevin gives back to his community through his passion for athletics by serving as a referee at countless games throughout the state of Montana and we are grateful that he will be sharing his knowledge during this course," said UMW School of Outreach Program Coordinator, Ryann Gibson.

Montana Western's School of Outreach is invested in their students, of all ages, and provides them with content that is practical and useful for real world situations with a focus on continuing education and lifelong learning.

To register, please contact the School of Outreach at 406-683-7537 no later than October 25. All community members and UMW students are welcome to register. The cost for UMW students is $130 and all participants are charged a course fee of $60 that includes a referee whistle.

For more information about this course and all of the courses offered by the School of Outreach, please contact Ryann Gibson at ryann.gibson@umwestern.edu or visit <https://www.umwestern.edu/outreach>.

FWP concludes field investigation into grizzly bear attack near Big Sky

Evidence indicates bear attacked defensively

Bear specialists with Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks have concluded a field investigation into a grizzly bear encounter that injured a man south of Big Sky last week.

The attack happened Friday, Sept. 8, in the Yellow Mule area of the Madison Range. During the encounter, one of the victim's companions fired a pistol at the bear before the bear left. The victim suffered serious injuries from the bear and was flown to a hospital.

FWP staff flew over the area Saturday to look for a bear that may have been wounded. No bears were found during the aerial search, and no collared bears were nearby.

The Custer Gallatin National Forest implemented an emergency area closure for public safety following the incident and ensured that recreationists there were able to leave safely. The closure remains in effect.

FWP grizzly bear specialists and game wardens, as well as deputies from the Gallatin County Sheriff's Office, revisited the attack site Tuesday. They searched the area near the attack site from the ground and with an infrared drone and didn't locate a dead or wounded bear. However, they found signs of high bear activity, including the remains of a cached animal carcass, whitebark pine middens and bear scat. This evidence indicates the bear attacked defensively in a surprise, close encounter with the victim.

No further management action is planned.

UMW Celebrates Rob Micken's Career and Names Michael Bartch Interim Director of TRIO Program

The University of Montana Western's TRIO Student Support Services Program provides UMW students who are first generation, have a disability, or fall below a certain income level with a framework of support to be able to achieve their goals in higher education and completing their degrees.

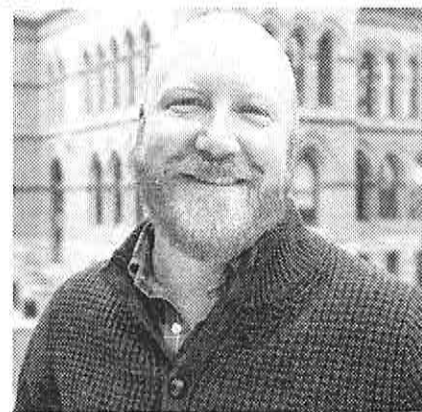

Rob Micken has announced he will step down from the TRIO Director position at the University of Montana Western on October 3, 2023. After more than 11 years, he has decided to relocate to Helena, Montana, to be with his wife, Sandra.

"It has been an absolute pleasure working with Rob, and we wish him and his family the very best in their next endeavors. His work as Director of the UMW TRIO program has been exemplary, and we will miss seeing him on campus," said Montana Western Director of Student Success, Randy Johnson.

The University has also announced that Dr. Michael Bartch has been named Interim Director of the UMW TRIO Program and will begin his new duties on October 4, 2023.

"While we are sad to see Rob leave UMW, we are fortunate to have someone so experienced on the TRIO team to serve as Interim Director. Michael's dedication to supporting students in the program at Montana Western is inspiring, and we are excited to welcome him to this new role," said Johnson.

Partnership continues to promote hunter behavior It's up to us. Respect access. Protect the hunt

To promote the importance of hunter ethics and improved hunter behavior, Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks is partnering for a second year with several hunting and agriculture organizations to "protect the hunt." While the campaign encourages hunters to always practice conscientious behavior, it focuses particularly on showing respect for private land and the access landowners provide.

The slogan is: It's up to us. Respect access. Protect the hunt.

Landowners play an important role in sustaining healthy wildlife populations, contributing to our economy and communities by creating jobs, and providing valuable habitat and treasured open spaces. But the relationship between hunters and landowners can start to fray when just a few hunters abuse the privilege of hunting on private land.

This year, the campaign will focus on five actions hunters can take to ensure the hunting tradition continues:

- Plan ahead for access
- Respect private property
- Practice safe hunting behavior
- Turn in poachers – call 1-800-TIP-MONT
- Gratitude goes a long way

While excellent hunter behavior might be the norm in Montana, poor behavior, like not following landowner rules, trespassing, abusing access privileges, littering, and a host of other offenses, can lead to a decline in access opportunities. In fact, many hunters don't know that not following rules for a block management area can result in a citation for hunting without landowner permission.

As part of the campaign, FWP will be distributing give-away items, such as can koozies and stickers. For more information on hunting ethics, working with landowners and to link to all the partners involved, go to fwp.mt.gov/ItsUpToUs.

DOJ drug intelligence officer wins national award for work to combat drug crisis

The Montana Department of Justice Division of Criminal Investigation's drug intelligence officer received a national award for his efforts to work with public health and public safety agencies across the state to save lives and improve overdose responses in Montana communities, Attorney General Austin Knudsen announced.

Will Janisch received the award for Outstanding Public Health/Public Safety Collaboration for his work to combat the drug crisis in Montana from the Office of National Drug Control Policy (ONDCP). Janisch received the award along with Jordan Friend of the CDC Foundation. The two make up Montana's Overdose Response Team.

As fentanyl and other illicit drugs wreak havoc on families across the state, they work with public health and public safety agencies across the state to save lives and improve overdose responses in Montana communities by utilizing the state's Overdose Detection Mapping Application Program (ODMAP).

The ODMAP provides suspected overdose data across jurisdictions that helps officials track and analyze overdoses to support efforts to respond immediately to increases or spikes in overdose events. In 2022, Janisch and Friend brought together more than 100 different public health and public safety agencies across the state to coordinate overdose responses and implement intelligence gathering using the ODMAP, increasing the use of ODMAP in Montana by more than 328 percent.

The team also enhanced coordination and communication when issuing overdose alerts between local, state, tribal, and federal agencies and continues to work with tribal entities to set up ODMAP accounts.

Montana's ORT was nominated for the award by the Rocky Mountain HIDTA. Janisch was recognized and presented the award during a HIDTA meeting on June 13.

The Overdose Response Team began their work in late 2021 to assist communities in addressing the rising number of drug overdoses. According to preliminary data from the State Crime Lab, during the first half of 2023, there were 48 overdose deaths involving fentanyl. Last year, the State Crime Lab reported 77 overdose deaths involving fentanyl – an increase of 1,750 percent from 2017 when there were just four. Attorney General Knudsen also reported in August that fentanyl seizures during the first half of 2023 have already shattered 2022's record.

Veteran's Corner. Update #220

By Mike Lawson

Greetings to those of you who read my SW MT Veteran update articles. I'm starting to write this column as I'm flying to Washington DC for the 2023 Toys For Tot's Coordinator Training Seminar in Leesburg, Virginia. Veteran News:

- The SW MT Veteran's Home "Covered Walkway/Connectors" continues to move forward. The Walkway/Connector between Cottages #4 & #5 is waiting for inspection. The Connector between Cottages #1 & #2 has been started. The Markovich construction carpenters are really pushing to have the cement floor deck/foundation in place, before the ground freezes. Becker Landscaping is landscaping the areas around Cottages #4 & #5.

- The Butte VA Medical CBOC facility north-end building construction has the wall framing in place. The electricians have done the in-wall wiring and the plumbers are running the copper water lines to the exam and bathrooms. It's going to be a beautiful addition and place for veteran treatment.

- I just come across this important bit of information concerning any of you veterans who were in a combat zone between Sept 11, 2001 and October 1, 2013. You are eligible to enroll directly into the VA healthcare system, if you haven't already done so. This is through the PACT ACT. The deadline is Sept 30th so go see Gunny Mo at the Armory or see another Vet Rep and beat this deadline.

- The American Legion, in Butte, is trying to get/organize a Junior Sports Shooting Program. The thought is to get high school young people in the Butte/Anaconda/Deer Lodge areas, involved. What a great program this could be to teach gun safety and shooting skills. If any of your young people or friends would be interested in an activity like this, please contact Steve at 406-490-0397.

- We've had a number of suicides in our part of the state and the veteran suicide rate in Montana is one of the highest in the US. There is a Suicide SAFE Training workshop being brought to the American Legion, in Butte, on Sept 30 from 10:00 am to 12:15 pm. This is well worth attending and learning what any one of us could do to help prevent someone we know from killing themselves. If your interested in attending, please call Dave Haulman at 406-494-1709.

Planning is well underway for another terrific Beaverhead
County HS/JH Rodeo Team
annual rodeo this fall.

We are scheduled for September 22nd-24th, 2023 at the BeaverheadCounty Fairgrounds.

We are targeting to have over 150 junior high and high school youth competing in barrel racing, pole bending, tie-down and team roping, steer wrestling, rough stock events and more.

In addition to the rodeo events, there is a shooting sports competition Friday, September 22nd at 1:00 pm at the Dillon Trap Club & Rifle Range where junior high and high school students compete in light rifle and trap shooting competitions.

Again, this year, we are also hosting a breakaway roping jackpot for our junior high and high school athletes Friday, September 22nd at 7:00 pm at the Fairgrounds.

We are so appreciative of the support the community provides to the Beaverhead County HS/JH Rodeo Team and would not be able to host one of the largest attended MHSRA events in the state without it. With over 150 contestants and their families from all over Montana expected to attend, it will be a great opportunity to promote your business and be recognized throughout the weekend and afterwards. We are still looking for some sponsors for this great annual event. If you are interested in sponsoring or learning more about the weekend, please contact Stacy Setzer by texting or calling at (406) 570-2739.
