Stockman Bank Celebrates 70 Years of Serving Montana

Stockman Bank is celebrating 70 years of serving the people, businesses, and communities of Montana!

In 1953, Miles City rancher Bill Nefsy founded Stockman Bank, with the vision to create a banking organization to serve the needs of the entire community, including local businesspeople, farmers, and ranchers. Today, Stockman is the largest, family-owned, privately held bank in the state, focused on Montana and only Montana.

Stockman CEO, Bill Coffee, says his family has always believed, as a community bank, Stockman has a higher level of responsibility to its customers, employees, and communities. "We have always done the right thing for the long term. Stockman is committed to traditional western values, local management, and decision-making, and homegrown community service. This commitment has allowed us to remain independent and family owned for 70 years. We thank our customers for their trust and loyalty over these many years and thank our employees for providing the highest level of customer service in taking care of our neighbors, day in and day out."

To celebrate with its neighbors, Stockman is holding a 70th Anniversary Open House at all bank locations on National Good Neighbor Day. In Dillon, everyone is invited to stop by the bank Thursday, September 28, from Noon – 2:30 for a community BBQ. There will be live entertainment by Morgan Seymour, Stockman's newest employee. for fun, refreshments, and giveaways.

About Stockman Bank

Stockman Bank is Montana's largest, family-owned, community bank, with 37 full-service locations across the state. Founded in 1953, Stockman remains uniquely focused on Montana, with comprehensive banking products and services, along with state-of-the-art online and mobile banking, wealth management and insurance services. State agencies issue consumption advisory for all fish species on Yellowstone River near train derailment

Various polycyclic aromatic hydrocarbons present, source unknown

The Fish Consumption Advisory Board, consisting of representatives from Montana Department of Public Health & Human Services (DPHHS), Montana Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) and Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks (FWP), has issued a consumption advisory on all fish species in the Yellowstone River from Indian Fort Fishing Access Site (FAS) near Reed Point to the Highway 212 bridge in Laurel. Various polycyclic aromatic hydrocarbons, or PAHs, were detected at levels high enough to warrant this advisory for all fish species, both game and nongame.

Sampling Results

FWP crews collected longnose suckers, shorthead redhorse, rainbow trout, brown trout and mountain whitefish from areas upstream and downstream of the June 24 train derailment site at Twin Bridges Road railroad bridge. Multiple species showed levels of various PAHs high enough to warrant an advisory to avoid all consumption. Specific PAHs found in these fish include naphthalene, found in multiple species, and 1- and 2-methylnaphthalene and acenaphthylene found only in mountain whitefish. Fish were collected 6.5 river miles upstream of the derailment site near Indian Fort FAS, and 6.2 river miles downstream near Holmgren FAS.

FWP crews previously collected rainbow trout and mountain whitefish from the Yellowstone River below the derailment site to assess human consumption restrictions as a follow-up to the train derailment. This sampling showed elevated levels of phenanthrene, another PAH, in mountain whitefish and a consumption advisory was put in place on Aug. 11 to avoid all consumption of this fish species and motivated the agency to conduct additional sampling. Phenanthrene was not found in any fish during the most recent sampling.

Many species of fish, especially brown and rainbow trout, found in this section of the Yellowstone River migrate seasonally for spawning and to find colder water in the warmer summer months. Out of an abundance of precaution and unknown conditions in adjacent sections of the river, those with specific concerns may want to avoid consuming all species of fish from the Yellowstone River at any location until more is known on the severity and prevalence of this contamination.

Next Steps

The source of the PAHs remains unknown. Determining a specific source could be challenging, as PAHs, including those found in these fish, are present in many common materials. Some PAHs occur naturally in the environment, especially in the shale rock common in the Yellowstone River Basin. PAHs are also found in products such as oil, gas, plastics, and pesticides—and are produced through combustion of these products.

Further testing is still needed to determine the potential contamination source and long-term guidance. FWP plans to expand sampling on the Yellowstone River to further understand the extent of PAHs for human consumption concerns. Final plans for this additional sampling are still being discussed by FWP, DEQ, and DPHHS, but will include sampling fish from locations on the Yellowstone River further upstream and further downstream of the derailment site.

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and the International Agency for Research on Cancer have classified naphthalene, 1-methylnaphthalene, and 2-methylnaphthalene as possibly cancer-causing in humans. The other two PAHs that have been detected in fish tissue samples, phenanthrene and acenaphthene, have not been classified as cancer-causing chemicals. Other health effects from ingesting high levels of PAHs that have been shown in animal studies include effects on the gastrointestinal system, immune system, reproductive system, kidneys and skin. These effects from eating fish have not been recorded in humans.

For more information on PAHs, including the specific PAHs found in the fish tissue samples, visit: www.atsdr.cdc.gov/csem/polycyclic-aromatic-hydrocarbons/health_effects.html.

Upcoming Greece and Iceland Study Abroad Opportunities for UMW Students

The University of Montana Western will offer two study abroad courses for students during Block 8 of the 2024 spring semester: "Geology of Greece" and "Iceland: Climate Change and Arctic Ecology."

GEO 194: Geology of Greece

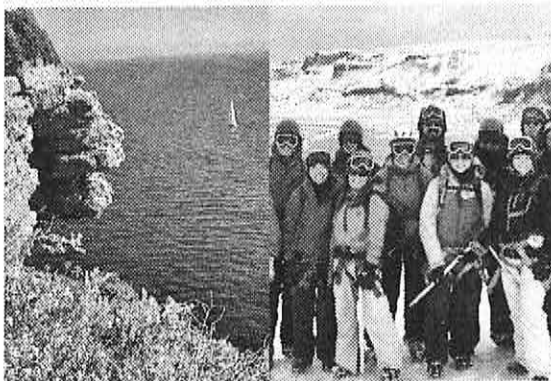

Discover over 200 million years of geologic history in Greece and how it helped shape the development of humans and civilizations in this historic region of the world. Students in this study abroad experience will learn how to identify different types of rocks and minerals, geologic structures, the plate tectonic processes that formed them, and how the most recent geological activity has shaped the human experience in this part of the world.

Students will leave early in Block 8 and return about two weeks later. The course will conclude with a photo journal, geohistory summary, and public presentation. Interested students should contact Professor of Geology, Dr. Rob Thomas, no later than September 29, 2023, at rob.thomas@umwestern.edu.

Iceland: Climate Change and Arctic Ecology: Geological, Ecological, & Sustainability Investigations

During this study abroad experience, students will have the opportunity to tour a large portion of Iceland while learning the geology and ecology of this unique environment and will explore glaciers, geothermal activity, arctic vegetation, and native wildlife.

Students will travel abroad for two weeks of Block 8. Interested students should contact Professors Dr. Wendy M. Ridenour or Dr. Spruce Schoenemann at wendy.ridenour@umwestern.edu or spruce.schoenemann@umwestern.edu as soon as possible to register.

HOOCH

By "Swede" Troedsson

In early 1956 I finished my active service commitment in the U.S. Marine Corps. Following my return from Korea, my remaining active duty was spent in Camp Las Pulgas, a division of Camp Pendleton, California.

During the latter part of 1955, it was observed that some of the Marines on KP (Kitchen Police) duty (mess men) were sloshed while serving food in the chow line. Commanding officers were puzzled as to what was the source of the booze, which was prohibited among the enlisted men on the base. The mess men would not reveal the source.

In the desperation to find out, vehicles were being searched by Military Police as they entered the base. The vehicle searches revealed nothing.

One day one of the cooks was looking in the steam room, located at the rear of the mess hall, where garbage cans were cleaned. He was looking for a clean garbage can to store some dry food items. His gaze fell on a garbage can that had its lid firmly attached. To satisfy his curiosity, and with some effort, he finally removed the lid, where upon fermenting raisins shot up and stuck to the ceiling! The cook dipped his finger into the brew, liked what he tasted, and said nothing.

Sometime later a civilian employee discovered the still and reported it.

Later I heard that the still was relocated on top of the flat mess hall roof.

Veteran's Corner Update #221

By Mike Lawson

Greetings to those who read my SW MT Veteran update articles. My flight from DC got in at 10:30 last night and I was glad to finally be back in Butte, Mt.. I was on an amazing journey in many ways, which started with three days at the "Toys For Tot's Coordinator Training Seminar" in Leesburg, Virginia. I then stayed with my cousin Bruce and his family for two nights and three days, who were great hosts. He and I than spent two days going to Gunpower, Maryland, Shrewsbury, PA. and York, PA.. I've always been interested in my ancestry and over the years have traced my Lawson Grandfathers back nine generations to 1720 in Gunpowder, MD. Family history is a neat discovery of where your ancestors once walked. The Butte Archives see a lot of visitors that want to know about their families from long ago. It's a very fun and satisfying adventure in finding your roots.

Our weather is turning to fall, evidenced by the colors of fall taking place and cooler temps descending upon us.

are always excellent and the public is invited.

• The DAV Department of Montana and Western Montana District #14 will have their 2023 Midwinter Convention in Whitefish, Montana, at the Grouse Mountain Lodge. It will go from Oct 12th to the 14th.

• For all Marines and friends of Marines, the Marine Corps League Detachment #724 are selling tickets to the Marine Corps Ball that will take place on the Marine Corps Birthday on November 10th. It will be catered with a band and Marine Ceremony, as well as a silent auction and a non-host bar. Tickets can be bought at the "I Don't Know Cafe" on the corner of Park and Main, in Uptown Butte. It's always a great time for in town and out of town guests as well as Detachment members/wives/girlfriends. The tickets are $50.00 per person or $90.00 per couple, for this great night of enjoyment and fun.

• The VFW Auxiliary will also be having a Yard Sale at the MCL Hooch on September 22nd & 23rd. The proceeds will go to the "Wall that Heals Project. The address is 525 Garden Ave, BT. Mt.. There will be a lot of great stuff, so come check it out.

• The "Wall That Heals"- Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund. This is a traveling three-quarter scale replica of the Vietnam Memorial that tours the country with a mobile Education Center. The money raised is to pay for it to come to Butte. All of SW Montana will have the opportunity to come and visit it, when we get the date that it will arrive. I have visited the Wall in Washington DC, three times, and it's always a deeply solemn and moving experience.

• Again and again we see our Senator Jon Tester introduce Bipartisan Bills on behalf of veterans. No Senator or Congressman has ever been as successful in helping Veterans in getting help through the many Bipartisan Bills he has sponsored and gotten passed. The latest Bipartisan Bill that he has introduced is to "Protect Montana Veterans' Access to Lifesaving Emergency Medical Transportation". If any of you have had someone you know being life-flighted for emergency care, you know how extremely expensive this can be. Through the many years of being one of our Congressional Senators, I have extended thanks many times to Jon for all he has done for us, the veterans, and continues to do. He's definitely a champion for Veterans and their causes.

Until next time, take care.

Planning is well underway for another terrific Beaverhead County HS/JH Rodeo Team annual rodeo this fall.

We are scheduled for September 22nd-24th, 2023 at the BeaverheadCounty Fairgrounds.

We are targeting to have over 150 junior high and high school youth competing in barrel racing, pole bending, tie-down and team roping, steer wrestling, rough stock events and more.

In addition to the rodeo events, there is a shooting sports competition Friday, September 22nd at 1:00 pm at the Dillon Trap Club & Rifle Range where junior high and high school students compete in light rifle and trap shooting competitions.

Again, this year, we are also hosting a breakaway roping jackpot for our junior high and high school athletes Friday, September 22nd at 7:00 pm at the Fairgrounds.

We are so appreciative of the support the community provides to the Beaverhead County HS/JH Rodeo Team and would not be able to host one of the largest attended MHSRA events in the state without it. With over 150 contestants and their families from all over Montana expected to attend, it will be a great opportunity to promote your business and be recognized throughout the weekend and afterwards. We are still looking for some sponsors for this great annual event. If you are interested in sponsoring or learning more about the weekend, please contact Stacy Setzer by texting or calling at (406) 570-2739.
