Paint the State Winner

Dillon Cadette Troop 3735 entered the Paint The State: Meth - Not Even Once contest and won 5th place in the Teen- Southwestern Montana division. They were awarded $500 which they are saving towards a European trip. The girls involved are Hannah Kidd, Abby McKinley, Ahannalee Lawery, and Eliza Kenealey. Their troop leaders are Jessica Kidd and Arlis Vannett. A special thanks to Town & Country Foods for allowing us to put our entry in their parking lot and to Shay Kidd for helping us put it up. Thank you to all who voted for our entry!

Kids Christmas Store

The Parkview Elementary School "Christmas Store" has been providing our students the opportunity to purchase gifts for their families for many years. Donated and low-cost items are available the first Saturday of December to be purchased, wrapped, and brought home to give. This event takes many volunteers and a lot of preparation. Parent Council does not have the resources to continue it and we are looking for another organization or group to take it over. Many folks would like to see it carry on! If you are interested in learning more about this great community event please call or text Carrie Sampson at 406-490-6626

Rocky Herron presentation Wednesday, Sept 27, 2023

Former DEA agent Rocky Herron uses his life experience to teach young people – never to start using drugs. He empowers young people to respect their potential in life and to make smart choices.

He speaks Wednesday, Sept 27th, at the Lewis and Clark Room on the University of Montana Western campus at 7 p.m. in a free community presentation. "Kids can make different choices if they are using drugs," Herron said. "It's not their fault if they are suffering from someone else's drug usage. Drug use isn't normal, even though society makes it seem that way!"

His program is called "I Choose My Future" which is an honest and emotional presentation that shows students, school staff, and parents the reality of drug abuse today and how that abuse impacts the individual, the family, school, community and the broader world. He will also share information on the recent increase of FENTANYL use and overdoses.

Herron is a nationally known and highly regarded youth educator and has lectured in elementary schools, high schools, and universities in the U.S. and 14 other countries.

The Be the Change 406 Youth Coalition is sponsoring Herron's free evening presentation on Wednesday at 7 p.m. in the Lewis & Clark Room. All are invited. Light refreshments will be served.

Take Care of State Trust Lands, Eliminate Wildfire Starts During Hunting Season

With the start of hunting season, many people will turn to publicly accessible lands to pursue game animals. This access is accompanied by the responsibility of the user to care for the land and understand various rules and restrictions across ownership types. It is your obligation to Know Before You Go.

"State Trust Lands are a unique holding within state-managed lands in Montana," said Jessica Hoag, DNRC recreation coordinator. "These working lands help generate revenue for schools and other public institutions in our state."

Managed by the Montana Department of Natural Resources and Conservation, State Trust Lands are leased for a variety of uses to generate revenue. In 2022, 46.3 million dollars were distributed to the common school trust.

Damage to State Lands caused by concentrated recreation and wildfire greatly reduces the revenue-generating capacity of the land, threatening funding to Montana kids.

So far in 2023, 51 wildfires have started on State Trust Land. Roughly 50% of these wildfires were human caused with another 22% of an undetermined cause – but suspected to be human caused. It is important to remember that wildfires can occur at any time of year and hunting season is no exception.

"We all have a part to play in caring for the land and we ask that anyone recreating or hunting on legally accessible State Trust Land or other lands open to the public take a few simple steps to reduce your impact," said Hoag.

Follow these few steps to hunt and recreate responsibly and to do your part to care for State Trust Land:

- Check local rules, closures, and restrictions before recreating or hunting on State Trust Land.
- Ensure you possess the proper licenses and permits, including a Conservation License.
- Park in areas free of tall grass to prevent sparking a wildfire with hot vehicle exhaust and do not block gates.
- When it comes to trash and debris: Pack It In, Pack It Out.
- Know your surroundings and discharge firearms in a careful and prudent manner. Firearms may not be discharged within a quarter mile of an inhabited dwelling or outbuilding or on State Trust Land with a firearm restriction in place.
- Only drive on designated federal, state, county, and any
