Beaverhead Bale Maze and Pumpkin Patch

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

The Beaverhead Bale Maze and Pumpkin Patch is back for its sixth year of groovy fun. This year's theme is Scooby Doo and you track down the clues to find all six stations, the stations have little bits of history along with a scan bar that gives you some insight into the cartoon Scooby Doo. Once you have stamped all six stations you can go back and solve the riddle to win a prize.

The maze is in a different location this year and does not have the corn maze section, but don't let that discourage you from going. They have all the same attractions they have had in the past along with a few new ones as well. The maze is located at 121 Top Rank Ln just a little ways past LS Ready mix on the left hand side as you head north.

Admission is $7/person and children 2 and under are free. Hours of operation are Thursdays thru Sunday noon to 8 P.M. They have a pumpkin patch where you can pick a pumpkin for purchase as well as the Braap Shak that serves sodas, water, pulled pork nachos, french fries, and my personal favorite soft pretzels with cheese.

The maze of brews will return this year on October 21st with the help of Fetty's Bar and Grill. As Halloween approaches they will set the dates for the maze of scares.

If you are looking for a fun way to burn off the kids energy as well as get in your steps head out to the Beaverhead Bale maze and find all six of the stations and solve the clues to get your prize.

31st Annual Bulldog Bash on October 14

The University of Montana Western Foundation, UMW Athletics Department, and several community volunteers will host the 31st Annual Bulldog Bash dinner and auction on October 14, 2023, at 5:00 p.m. in the Keltz Arena on the UMW campus.

The day's events start at 11:00 a.m. with a tailgate celebration at Vigilante Field followed by the Montana Western vs. Rocky Mountain College football game. Doors open for the Bulldog Bash at the Keltz Arena after the football game with dinner being served at 5:30 p.m.

An impact video, silent auction, and live auction will take place during the Bash.

"This year's video feature shows the impact that the Bulldog Bash has on all of our student-athletes. We are so grateful for UMW alumna and member of the 2019 Women's Basketball National Championship Team, Bri King, for allowing us to tell her story. She shares how much Montana Western means to her and the impact that scholarship support had on her ability to play the game she loved and complete her college education all while being part of the Bulldog family and developing friendships that will last a lifetime," said Montana Western Foundation Executive Director, Roxanne Engellant.

The Bulldog Bash, in conjunction with other fundraising efforts, provides scholarship dollars for UMW student-athletes, and funds projects to enhance facilities and other aspects of the student-athlete experience. In addition to providing financial support to programs, this event is a great opportunity for boosters, community members and families to connect with each other and the UMW Athletic Department staff.

Live auction items for this year's Bash include: a package including four tickets to the Broncos vs. LA Chargers football game and four tickets to the Nuggets vs. the Charlotte Hornets, two tickets to the Brawl of the Wild

Make sure to have meat tested for CWD prior to donation, commercial processing

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks along with the Montana Department of Health and Human Services are advising hunters to have their deer, elk and moose tested for chronic wasting disease (CWD).

FWP strongly recommends that hunters receive a negative CWD test result before bringing their deer, elk or moose to a meat processor or donating it to a foodbank. While it is not a requirement, FWP is asking hunters to have a negative CWD test result in hand before bringing their animal to a processor for donation. If the animal tests positive for CWD, FWP will advise the hunter on proper carcass and meat disposal and give instructions on how to request a replacement license.

There is no known transmission of CWD to humans. However, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommends that hunters from an area where CWD is known to be present have their animal tested for CWD prior to consuming the meat, and to not consume the meat if the animal tests positive.

For more information on CWD, go to fwp.mt.gov/cwd.

Good time to apply for apprentice program

Montana's two-day, youth-only deer hunt is coming up Oct. 19 and 20, and general deer season opens Oct. 21. Now is a good time to consider signing up for the Apprentice Hunter Program.

The apprentice hunter program allows people ages 10 and older to hunt as apprentices with a mentor for two seasons without completing a Hunter Education course.

Fish, Wildlife & Parks highly recommends that interested people visit the website at fwp.mt.gov and read the packet on the Apprentice Hunter Program before seeking certification. The packet outlines guidelines for both the apprentice and the required mentor, including what apprentices can and cannot do, who can act as a mentor and how the certification process works. Reading up on it beforehand may prevent possible confusion and save people from making an extra trip.

Join us and Pete Bengeyfield as he walks us through his beautiful gallery of African animals and sights. These wildlife images depict not only individual species, but also the behavior that gives insight into their lives. All animals are wild, free roaming, and in their natural habitats. It is Pete's hope that these images create an appreciation of wild country, and an acknowledgement of the importance of protecting it in the future.
