FWP and partners complete watershed restoration project on Mount Haggin WMA

Restoration work culminates in native fish stocking

This year, staff from Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks and partners stocked native fish into French Creek on the Mount Haggin Wildlife Management Area south of Anaconda.

The fish stocking marks the culmination of a nine-year collaborative effort to restore native fish populations, riparian habitat and upland areas along the creek.

Habitat restoration work was necessary due to impacts from placer mining and other historical uses. Partner organizations helped improve habitat and water quality in French Creek by restoring a meandering creek channel, reducing sediment in the creek from excessive erosion, and expanding the floodplain to recreate a wider riparian area.

Non-native trout had also displaced native fish in French Creek. So in 2019, FWP constructed a fish migration barrier at the lower end of the creek. This barrier prevents non-native fish from swimming upstream and protects about 40 stream miles of habitat for native fish. Once the barrier was in place, FWP removed the non-native fish with rotenone, a natural chemical used in fish removal efforts.

This year, FWP stocked westslope cutthroat trout and Arctic grayling into French Creek. Stocking efforts will continue for the next two years while the fish become self-sustaining. As these populations return, French Creek will hold one of the largest interconnected populations of westslope cutthroat trout in the upper Missouri River drainage and Montana's only population of fluvial Arctic grayling existing in the absence of non-native fish.

"It's wide open for public use," said Jim Olsen, FWP's fisheries biologist in the Big Hole area. "We hope people will come and fish here. It's going to be a great fishery."

Numerous organizations have contributed to watershed restoration efforts in French Creek. These include the Anaconda Sportsmen's Club, Big Hole Watershed Committee, Bureau of Land Management, George Grant Chapter of Trout Unlimited, Montana Department of Environmental Quality, Montana Department of Natural Resources and Conservation, Montana Trout Foundation, Montana Trout Unlimited, National Fish and Wildlife Foundation, NorthWestern Energy, Trout and Salmon Foundation, U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service, U.S. Forest Service, and Western Native Trout Initiative.

"We're so grateful to our partners for their tireless efforts in helping this project come to fruition," Olsen said.

Dillon Middle School News

Here's the Dillon Middle School News for the week of October 23-27, 2023

The lunch menu for the week is as follows: Monday, we will have spaghetti with garlic bread. Tuesday, we will enjoy tacos with bean salad. Wednesday, pork chop sandwiches will be served with homemade bread and trimmings. Thursday, we will have pesto chicken pasta. And Friday, we will enjoy chili served with cinnamon rolls.

This is red ribbon week. We hope that everyone enjoys this week as we dress up, have fun competitions, and most importantly, pledge to remain drug free, alcohol free, vaping and tobacco free, and bullying free. The theme this year is "BE KIND TO YOUR MIND... LIVE DRUG FREE."

Dress up days are as follows: today is Hawaiian day. Tuesday we will wear red to show our commitment to staying drug free.. Wednesday, we will sock it to drugs by wearing mismatched or crazy socks. Thursday, we will team up to make healthy choices by wearing our favorite jerseys. And on Friday, we will turn our backs on drugs by wearing our shirts backwards.

We will have several competitions with prizes. On Hawaiian day, we will awards prizes to the best dressed in each grade. On our wear red day, the class with the most participation will win donuts. And in 8th period we will have a class competition with a door decorating contests. The best door in the theme, "BE KIND TO YOUR MIND," will win a pizza party.

We have our final results for football and volleyball. In football, the teams played Butte East in their final game. 7th grade pulled off a win while 8th grade narrowly lost. In volleyball, the "B" teams played Deer Lodge. Although both teams lost, they are all much improved. Great job to all our players.

Boys' basketball begins today after school for 7th and 8th grade. Boys, hopefully you have your sports paperwork in to the office and the activity packet done online. Sixth grade boys will begin next week. There will be a parent meeting for seventh and eight grade, Thursday, October 26th at 5:30 in the DMS gym. It is required that a parent attend with each participating player.
