William F. Saxon

The universe has lost an amazing man. William F. Saxon passed away 10/22/2023.

Bill was born 7/25/1928 to Lewis and Emma Saxon in Oak Park, MN. Bill grew up at the family farm in rural MN. At the passing of his mother, Bill was age 12. He would then work for a neighboring farmer taking care of the entire farm.

At 15 he joined his brothers in the Dakotas to help with the harvest. At 18 Bill would join the Navy and serve 22 years. He spent his Navy career on aircraft carriers. Bill took on a second career for 23 years at the University of Colorado, Fort Collins, CO. as head of maintenance.

Bill married Jacqueline Ledford, they were married for 51 yrs. Later, Bill would then ask his niece Philly, to build him a log home in Sheridan, Montana, where he lived until his passing. Bill was a true outdoorsman he hunted elk in Colorado at 10,000 ft with horses.

He could fix anything and was a real problem solver in mechanics. His sense of humor was off the charts! He would start a story and begin laughing uncontrollably before he finished. Bill was a generous, kind, compassionate, loving, humorous, witty, Mr Fix It, a gentleman and a man of men.

Bill was the youngest of 9 and he often referred to himself as the "Last of the Mohicans."

Bill is preceded in death by his parents Lewis and Emma Saxon, wife Jackie, 8 siblings, Dave, Bob, Lynn, Chuck, Marietta, Carolyn, Rachel, and Sadie.

Bill is survived by numerous nieces and nephews and his very loved dog, Billy Bob.

Services will be held Saturday Nov. 4, 2023 with open viewing at 10:00 am prior to services and the service to follow at 11:00 am, at Brundage Funeral Home in Dillon, Montana. For those who will not be able to attend, a link will be provided to watch from afar at brundagefuneralhome.com.

Speech and Drama placed 1st in drama this weekend!

- Alexy Navarrette placed 1st in dramatic solo.
- Brooke Freeman, Ellamay Bellis, Emily and Lexie Lopez placed 1st in dramatic theatre.
- Lilla Guiberson placed 6th in impromptu (there were 21 competitors).

It was a great first meet with all newbies except Alexy!
Please congratulate them when you see them!

Streamflow and Temperature Project

Trout in the Jefferson River may have more access to spawning areas and thermal refuge thanks to a new partnership announced today by Montana Trout Unlimited (MTU) that will remove three aging diversion dams on the Boulder River. MTU is collaborating with Barrick Gold, owners of the Golden Sunlight Mine, with complimentary support from Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks (FWP), Natural Resource Conservation Service (NRCS), and L.R. Huckaba Ranch on the Boulder River near Cardwell, MT to increase stream flow and connectivity on the Boulder.

"We commend Barrick and Golden Sunlight for taking a proactive approach to replace deteriorating infrastructure and for considering the potential benefits for the river and all the creatures that rely on it," said Chris Edgington, MTU's Jefferson Watershed Project Manager. "With trout numbers near, or at historic lows across much of Southwest Montana, there's no better time for a water quantity and quality project in this area. This is a great example of the win-win projects Montana Trout Unlimited strives to develop."

Rising in the mountains north of Butte, the Boulder River is the largest tributary to the Jefferson River downstream of the Beaverhead-Big Hole River confluence, providing a boost of cold water near the midpoint of the Jefferson's 83-mile length. The Boulder is a high-value coldwater fishery and provides significant agricultural production in Jefferson County. On the Candlestick Ranch, the Shaw Diversion Dam and two smaller diversions deliver water to 233 acres of cropland. The aging infrastructure is getting more difficult to operate and regulate irrigation withdrawal. This project will alleviate infrastructure concerns, by removing the diversion dams and replacing them with instream irrigation pumps, thereby providing a significant ecological uplift to the Boulder and Jefferson Rivers through stream restoration, water savings, continued agricultural benefit, and wetland development.

"We are excited to partner with Montana Trout Unlimited in the removal of a diversion from the Boulder River. This collaborative effort will help to ensure a healthy and thriving fishery for future generations. Barrick's dedication to our community as well as the surrounding wildlife exemplifies our commitment to building sustainable legacies," said Kristine Murphy, Golden Sunlight General Manager.

"This project is a win-win for trout and property owners, and we couldn't be more excited to see it get off the ground," said Edgington.

In April 2021, the partners met to discuss the challenges at the project site, to share what resources they could provide, and what the potential outcomes of the project could be. MTU, along with FWP and NRCS, developed a plan to collect baseline data to quantify project benefits. Methods of data collection have included stream and irrigation flow monitoring, continuous temperature monitoring, fish population estimates, redd counts, juvenile trout out-migration surveys, and a wetland delineation.

Quantifiable project benefits include:

- Improving irrigation delivery and efficiency to 233 acres of valuable cropland
- Achieving 7 CFS of cold Boulder River water savings over the current base flow of 28 CFS
- Providing fish and other aquatic organism passage for thermal refugia and spawning
- Eliminating fish entrainment in 3 irrigation ditches
- Reducing nutrient and sediment loading
- Creating wetlands

"The project adds about 7 CFS of summer flow to the Jefferson River, and Boulder River water is 2 to 3 °F cooler than the Jefferson during August," said Ron Spoon, FWP Fisheries Biologist.

Planning, engineering, and design for the dam removal and stream restoration will begin this fall. The partners anticipate project implementation in the fall/winter of 2025. For more information on this project, contact Chris Edgington at chris@montanatu.org.

No. 13 Bulldogs Shut Out Lights 44-0, Set New School Record For Fewest Rushing Yards Allowed in Game

The no. 13 ranked Montana Western football team (7-1, 5-1) overcame a slow start in today's matchup with MSU-Northern (1-7, 0-6) as they cruised to a 44-0 rout of the Lights.

The Bulldog defense was solid in the game, setting a new school record for fewest rushing yards allowed in a game with -37. They totaled 13 tackles for loss and held the Lights to just four first downs and 61 total yards of offense.

After taking a 0-0 score into the second quarter, the Bulldogs finally discovered the end zone after Michael Palandri hit Jon Kirkley in stride for a 36-yard touchdown.

The following UMW drive saw a quick 69-yard touchdown pass to Dylan Shipley, giving the Bulldogs a 14-0 lead.

Tyler Walker extinguished the Lights' next drive, recording back-to-back sacks for a total of 20 yards lost. The Bulldogs would hang on to a 14-0 lead into the half.

UMW would cash in on two quick scores in the beginning of the third quarter. The first on a 25-yard touchdown pass to Eli Nourse. The second coming on a 56-yard rushing touchdown from Jake Humphrey.

Kaden Jenks checked into the game at quarterback for the first play of the fourth quarter, tossing up a 23-yard touchdown pass to Coby Tanioka that capped off a nine play, 71-yard drive that began in the third quarter.

Up 34-0, the Bulldog defense continued their dominating performance by forcing an MSU-N three and out. Nourse returned the ensuing punt for a 60-yard touchdown, marking it as his first punt return touchdown in his career at Montana Western.

Young runningbacks Bradley Eleton and Payton Hoyt took centerstage on the Bulldog's final scoring drive that ended with a 32-yard John Mears field goal that capped off the scoring at 44-0.

Notables

- UMW recorded 527 yards of offense, with a season high of 360 yards through the air.
- Palandri threw for 295 passing yards and three touchdowns. Jenks stepped in and threw a touchdown of his own with 65 passing yards.
- Nourse led the Bulldogs with 11 receptions for 142 receiving yards and a touchdown.
- Jake Humphrey led on the ground with 90 rushing yards and a 56-yard touchdown rush.
- Eleven Bulldog defenders recorded tackles for loss in the game, with Walker recording three for a loss of 24 yards and two sacks.
- Monson had two tackles for loss of his own with a pass breakup.

Dog Costume Contest And The Silhouettes
Shadow Spook Finish Off Fall Fest 2023
Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News
 Saturday downtown Dillon was a busy place. The UMW Football team started the day off with a game against Northern. Idaho Street was busy with Fall Fest, and the night was finished off at the Frontier Events Center with a dog costume contest that raised funds for the Beaverhead County Animal Shelter, and then was followed by the Shadow Spook performance by the Silhouettes.

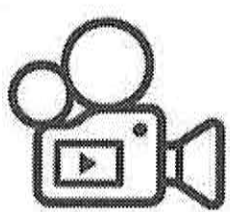

The costume contest had dogs from the animal shelter as well as other dogtestants who strutted their stuff on a model runway. With a handful of judges to find which pooch wore it best. The top ten dogs all got a treat bag and a certificate for participating while the top three dogs won a blanket and a gift bag full of goodies. Spider dog came out with the number one spot.

After the dog contest the audience was treated to a show called Shadow Spook. Working with both live performances and a show produced using shadows and projected onto the big screen at the frontier event center, the audience was immersed in a visually compelling story.

Spook the Shadow and his two friends go on a journey to find Spook's family, along the way they encounter many scary obstacles in the end they all find what they are looking for and realize it was there the whole time.

Nourse Named Frontier Special Teams Player of the Week

For the second week in a row, the Bulldogs have earned a special teams player of the week honor. This week, Eli Nourse was voted the ERCK Hotels Frontier Conference Special Teams Player of the Week after a standout performance in punt returns.

Nourse returned four punts for an average of 24.3 yards per return. That includes taking one 60 yards for a touchdown. Nourse also had 11 receptions for 142 yards and a touchdown as Western defeated MSU-Northern 44-0.

This is the first weekly honor of Nourse's career.

Goddard Named Frontier Conference Defender of the Week

After a standout week in the back row, Montana Western libero Kelsey Goddard was voted the ERCK Hotels Frontier Conference Defender of the Week.

Goddard anchored the Western defense with an average of 7.00 digs per set as the team split its two matches. She snagged 26 digs in Western's four-set win over Carroll and followed with 30 digs in a four-set loss to Rocky Mountain. Goddard has 20-plus digs in five of the team's past six contests.

This is the first weekly honor of Goddard's career.
