Ed Coad

January 24, 1943 – October 30, 2023

Everyone makes an impact on the world but few did it like
Ed Coad.

Edward Leroy Coad was born into a very humble home. He was the youngest of three born to Richard (Dick) and Caroline (Carrie) Coad. They lived on a small ranch on the Madison River near Varney, MT. His mother passed away when Ed was just 5 years old. His dad was a dedicated, hard worker on the ranch and at the fish hatchery, resulting in youngsters Ed and his older brother Richard Jr., having plenty of time to be mountain men, build forts, and simply love the great outdoors. Ed and Richard learned many things during their "unsupervised" time. One memorable lesson comes from a time when Ed and Richard wanted to transport a wire shelf from an old refrigerator to their fort. They hung the wire shelf over the bicycle handles as Richard pedaled while Ed rode on the handlebars. The lesson? When you hang a refrigerator shelf over bicycle handles, don't let it swing: it will get caught in the spokes, and both riders on the bike will be ejected.

After high school, Ed entered the Army. Most of his service time was spent in Germany with the 964th Engineer Company as a diesel mechanic. Ed enjoyed touring the local area, and he made a number of life-long friends.

When Ed returned to Montana, he married Cheryl Rennewanz. Early in their marriage, Ed worked a variety of jobs including being a town cop in Ennis, a plywood mill worker in Kalispell, and a telephone maintenance man in southwestern Montana. Ed then decided to attend barber college in Salt Lake City. Barbering was the trade that he became known for in Dillon. While Ed and Sherry were married, they had two children, Michael and Chandra.

After Michael and Chandra had left home, Ed chose to marry Cindy Boyd. When Ed married Cindy, he happily accepted the "dad" role once again, committing to raise Cindy's two young daughters, Krista and Marcie. One of his happiest days was when he was able to adopt the girls and legally call them his own.

Ed enjoyed a lot of different interests throughout his life. He was active in the Dillon Jaycees. He volunteered as a Little League softball coach. He was part of the ski patrol at Maverick Mountain and he was a member of the Dillon EMS. He was a proud parent and supporter of his kids in 4-H and all of their school activities.

He loved being outdoors and spent many weekends camping and fishing. He almost always caught the first fish, the most fish, and the biggest fish! He truly enjoyed a round of golf, even on bad-weather days.

Ed spent over 44 years at Ed's Barber Shop "clipping the public" and "talking over people's heads"! Ed and his brother Richard owned Bunz & Bro Candy Company. They had a great time making their delicious almond rocha and pecan rocha. Their favorite part of the candy business was going to craft and trade shows. They loved giving patrons a sample of their candy, and then accepting their money! After Ed retired, he tried his hand at cutting and polishing rocks. He made many trivets and a set of living room tables using his rocks. He was proud of his beautiful creations.

The one thing Ed loved the very most was his family. He would often boast that while he and Cindy didn't always agree during their 35 year marriage, they had yet to have a fight! Ed loved being both Dad and Papa. His kids and grandkids made his heart soar with delight. He was proud of his son, Michael Coad and his children, Garrett and Kendall. His daughter, Chandra Tourtelot and her children, Treysen and Chelsey, always brought a smile to his face. His daughter, Krista Johnson, her husband Brian, and their children, Norah, Wesley, and Vivian, kept him well entertained. His youngest daughter, Marcie Bush, her husband Paul, and their children, Andrew, Marianne, and Izabelle, gave him a heart full of joy. Ed loved to recall his many shared, happy memories of he and his brother Richard. Ed's many nieces, nephews, cousins, and others who became family to him through marriage were important in his life. In addition to these surviving family members, Ed was quick to love many other persons and call them family, especially Sandy and Sarah Mootry.

Each time Ed endured the loss of a loved one, including his father Dick, mother Carrie, step-mother Anna, sister Viola Evans, half-siblings and their families from his mother's first marriage, and granddaughter Alexandra Coad, his heart was left with a hole. Now, being reunited with those Friends and family are invited to give to a charity to honor Ed. Ed treasured a couple of special charities and organizations, including Westland Bible Mission and Big Hearts Under the Big Sky. A gift to either of these or a different charity or organization would honor Ed's memory beautifully.

A memorial service honoring Ed will be Monday, November 6. The gathering will take place at 1:30 PM at the First Presbyterian Church in Dillon, located at 24 S Pacific Street. A "Papa Snacks" reception will follow at the church. The reception will feature many of Ed's sugar-filled favorite treats.

DOJ's OCP receiving reports of work-from-home scam

Scammers are attempting to trick Montanans into giving out their personal information including social security numbers and bank account information by offering fake remote work opportunities, Attorney General Austin Knudsen warned today.

The scammers are reaching out to Montanans through social media platforms, primarily on Facebook and LinkedIn, pretending to be legitimate companies looking to hire people for remote work in a wide variety of fields including data processing and payroll. After an initial interview process, the fraudsters will ask for social security numbers, bank account or PayPal information, and other personal identifying information. This information can be used to steal the identity of victims or to steal money from them outright.

The fake company also promises a job and then sends a check to the applicant for upfront equipment costs for more than the employee needs and instructs them to send the rest back to the company or make equipment payments through bitcoin machines. After a few days the bank will inform the applicant that the checks are fraudulent, and the applicant is responsible for covering the check amount.

"Please remain vigilant and don't trust anyone who reaches out and offers you a job via social media without verifying it is a legitimate offer," Attorney General Knudsen said. "Scammers will continue to find new ways to prey on Montanans and steal their hard-earned money. Meanwhile, my Office of Consumer Protection will continue to do everything they can to protect and warn individuals. If you have any question about whether or not you are being scammed, call us immediately."

The Montana Department of Justice's Office of Consumer Protection offered the following warning signs that a remote work opportunity might be a scam:

A company reaching out directly through social media.

- Employment through an overseas company.
- Quick interviews or no interviews at all.
- Communication through e-mail or text only and never seeing a real person.
- Providing Social Security numbers and other personal information to secure an interview.
- A check for equipment and upfront costs and returning the balance to the company.

Terminus Distilling Company Updates

Katrina & Derek Lewis

Building

We're designing the layout of our manufacturing space. In addition to our still, we will have fermentation tanks, a mash tun, and room enough for the forklift to scoot around. For those of you who know the Williams Feed building, this will all be on the Virginia St side. In weekly conversations with our architect, David Gray, we feel like we're making progress.

Business

We're 'under construction' on our website. As we plan to sell our merchandise online and in person, we are working with Ruth Lammers Photography to showcase our hats, tshirts, and stickers. Our next steps will be to work with Eric Carleson of InversionMKT in Butte to design a single-page scroll site that showcases our products, tasting room, and story. Once we're closer to opening, we'll work with Rico Aquino of Montana Video Company to create two short videos: an 'about Terminus' highlighting the history of the building and our story, and an 'open now' video featuring lots of locals enjoying the community space.

Distillery

This month, Derek spent two days down at Jackson Hole Still Works in Jackson, WY. He toured the space and got an in-depth, behind-the-scenes look at their production process. One of his takeaways was the value of doing as much of the production in house as possible. If you see Great Gray Gin, Still Works Vodka, or Absaroka Double Cask Gin on the shelves in your local liquor store, we highly recommend picking some up.

Hunting for all mountain lions to close in Lion Management Unit 280

By order of the Montana Fish and Wildlife Commission, the hunting of all mountain lions will close in Lion Management Unit (LMU) 280, one-half hour after sunset Thursday, Nov 2.

The mountain lion quotas in this LMU have been met. This LMU will re-open for the hunting of all mountains lions for the winter season beginning Dec. 1.

For more information, visit FWP's website at fwp.mt.gov/hunt/ by-species to check the current quota status, or call the toll-free number at 1-800-385-7826.

FWP seeking public comment on revision to upland game bird strategic plan

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks is seeking public comment on a draft revision to the Upland Game Bird Enhancement Program Strategic Plan (UGBEP).

The strategic plan was written in 2011 using recommendations and guidance from the UGBEP Council. The plan is intended to provide a common understanding for how the program will be administered and implemented.

The revised plan builds on the original version by incorporating several updates that were added following the advisory council's recommendations. Updates include increasing program capacity by collaborating with conservation partners state-wide, expanding regional focus areas and prioritizing habitat enhancement and conservation of upland game bird populations in Montana.

To view the revised plan and to comment, go to fwp.mt.gov/aboutfwp/public-comment-opportunities/ugbep-strategic-plan. Deadline to comment is Nov. 30.

Dillon Friends of Music Needs your help!

Hello Parents, Guardians and lovers of Music,

For many years we have been blessed by the Dillon Friends of Music (DFOM), a wonderful non-profit organization supporting music in our schools in Beaverhead County. DFOM has provided funds to help supplement music student travel to Northwest NAFME Honor Choirs and Bands, ADCA Honor Choirs, Drum line equipment stands, Youth Sing and Massed Band for Dillon Middle School students, scholarships to summer music camps, college scholarships and much more. Dillon Friends of Music is run by parents of music students and lovers music in our community.

What does DFOM need from you? We are in need of parent volunteers to contribute small amounts of time to administration of the organization. We meet once per quarter to discuss the financial needs of the music programs. You are the leaders. Please consider joining us for our next meeting, Thursday, November 2nd at 7:00 pm in the BCHS Band Room in the BW Lodge.

Sincerely,

Carolyn Van Slyke, BCHS Director of Choirs
Katie Raffety, BCHS Director of Bands
